

The Mirror to Self

Mushiba: Self and Others ~ that is the paradox of life on the earth plane ~ in order to find Self, we must be with Others. Conflict with Others gives us the opportunity to clean out conflict within Self. The more that we view it that way, the less conflict we will have within Self, and thus, less conflict with Others.

In the Search for Self ~ Second Level, Waith counseled:

Waith: “You are Self and find only your answers within Self. However, you cannot find Self without Others. They are reflections, for they serve as the Mirror to Self. And, that is the difficulty sometimes, for you do not want to admit that you need Others.”

Perhaps a resolution for Self could be to view our conflict with Others as a tool to cleanse conflict within Self ~ working consciously to achieve harmony within Self, and thus, harmony with Others.