The Law Of The One That Comes From The Universe ~ An Elaboration

It was a most beneficial focusing technique that you all employed as we entered the vibration. You are all connected with us now as we present to you information that you have heard of before, but we now will give more elaboration, and this is the Law of The One that comes from The Universe. It is greatly misunderstood by entities incarnating on the earth plane, especially what the Universal Concept of The One means, for it is part of the illusion of the plane to have the knowledge placed in ~ in a way in which you will not remember for a while until it is time for you to understand its concept once again.

All entities are part of The One. There is no separateness. There is no such thing as being separate. What you do to yourself affect all other living entities. What you do to other living entities affects you. We have discussed this in the past. However, it needs emphasis once again, for as the time of The Shifting approaches there will be what appears in the illusion a greater separateness between those who would view themselves as on their spiritual path and those who are viewed as not being on a spiritual path.

This is an area of danger that you all must be cautious, in remembering that you as an entity, you as an energy form, are a part of every other energy form. You are no better and, of course, no worse than any other energy. And most especially, you must keep in mind that the beauty that you see in yourselves as you grow in your own awarenesses is also the beauty that exists in all others, and that those of you entities who have separated from The Universal Consciousness are all working together to return. It is all a joint effort, as we might say, and that if you as a particular entity have progressed along your path in a more rapid manner than another entity, it does not make you any better.

In The Law Of The One, There Are Only Gradations Of Good ~ Being Dark Is Not Evil

It simply gives you more responsibility to assist those who would need assistance in their path, to help show the way, for as we spoke as we departed in our last session with you, for many it was the first time you heard this notion, you might say, of Light and dark. Light and dark is a Spectrum, and at one end is total Light and at the other end is total dark. And all of you are on The Spectrum or the path returning to the ultimate Light and depending upon where you are on The Spectrum determines whether you are considered Light or dark to other entities. And as I said to you upon departure, you are all dark to those of The Angelic Force, for we are at a particular point in The Spectrum. However, what I failed to mention to you so that it would give you something to think about is that Amelius views those of The Angelics as dark. And it is not evil ~ this is the misconception.

We have spoken so often of the dark and the Light. In The Universe, in The Law of One, there can be no evil. There is no evil. There is only good. There are variations and gradations of good, but all good, and it is only where you are on The Spectrum, for you can only be totally Light when you are One and have returned to The Universal Consciousness. And thus it is all relative, you see. And while we indicate that there are tremendous battles that occur between the Light and the dark, remember the concept we gave you of the order in which the Light and the dark work with each other, and that you will not do battle with one of the dark that is not at the same level as you.

Being Attacked By The So Called Dark Is An Attempt By The Dark To Move Ahead

This is a very fine, fine, finetuning, if you will, of position, which is not understandable to your limited knowledge while on the plane in the illusion that you have found yourselves, but understand that when you are attacked by the so called dark it is an attempt by the dark to move ahead ~ to move ahead into The Spectrum, and it battles what it sees as perhaps an interference or a delaying of its movement. It is far more complex than what we would give you now, but this is the basic understanding of it, and that as you of the Light, stand ready to battle that of the dark, there is then the movement ever so slightly along The Spectrum.

And remember that as you are being moved along The Spectrum in the battle of the dark and the Light, there is another energy form also being affected by you. As you are moving along, so too are you pushing, if you will, another entity of the Light, and as the lessons are learned, as the encounters are maintained throughout eternity, there begins to become a fusing of the dark into the Light, for the dark cannot maintain itself. It eventually is overcome by the Light. And as you move along toward The One you begin to become brighter and brighter, and as that occurs you gain a closer alignment with The Universal Consciousness.

Now we understand that it will be a bit unclear to many of you, this concept of movement along The Spectrum, and as you grow in your own awarenesses, you will begin in your meditations, and through the seeking of the Higher Self be able to understand better what we might call the whole picture.

Responding To Another Who Needs Your Assistance ~ Not Becoming Egotistical

We have given you some, as we might say, food for thought, for all are good. Remember this. And remember in your own development that as you become more aware of The Universal Consciousness that that gives you a greater responsibility to respond when called upon by another who would need your assistance, and that you must not become egotistical, complacent about your point in the path, about your tremendous spiritual enlightenment, for none can feel that they have achieved perfection until there is Oneness, and then the issue of perfection no longer exists, for there is no ego then. Ego has departed once there is merging with The Universal Consciousness. And remember that once you have merged with the Consciousness, we have indicated this in the past, you may decide then to leave and start all over again and do other types of adventures, for it is eternal.

Having Lightheartedness And Seriousness, And In Understanding That All Is Planned By You

And while we of The Angelics now find ourselves in this particular role, it is not forever, nor has it always been. We have done other types of playing around. It is a playground, you see, not to be taken with such seriousness as you so many do, but rather with a Lightheartedness of the playground and an understanding that it is all part of what you have planned to do. And as frustrating and as difficult as it appears at times, it is all for soul's development for this particular time that you have chosen as time is measured by particular illusions.

And thus it is, you see, that you are all beautiful, all are beautiful regardless of where you are on The Spectrum to return to The One, for if we were to say then that we must act in a certain way with those who are dark and view those who are dark with pity or any other type of emotion that exists on the plane, then you would be talking about yourselves, you see. There is no pity. There is only joy, there is only helpfulness.

And the illusion on the plane that currently exists is set up specifically to give the impression of difficulty. This is what the earth plane is all about. Other training grounds are different. They do not have this same type of illusion. This is an accelerated training ground in which you find yourselves, and as much as many of you would say you dislike the earth plane, Mushiba being one of the leaders of that movement, as you all know, it is said, especially by Mushiba, in humor actually, for it is necessary, it is necessary, and each time an event occurs that appears to you to be so, as you might say earth planey, you must understand that this is what it is all about. This is what the earth plane is about. Of course, it is going to be earth planey ~ you are on the earth plane. It would be nothing else. When you are in another training ground, it is that. When you are on Water Planets, it is water planey ☺ with many issues that go with that, you see.

It Is An Imposition To Help Someone Unless You Are Asked

And so, do not complain, and easy as it is for us to say, for we are not there, and it is easy to look and observe from a distance, but also think of yourselves as you look at others who struggle, and you sense their struggle, and you sense it is something you have also struggled with and overcome, and you want to help, but you know you cannot unless you are asked by that entity. And it appears, on one hand, very easy to overcome this struggle, for you have done this, and on the other hand, it is frustrating for you, especially if it is a struggle that a loved one goes through. You want to assist, for you know the answer, for you know how to achieve the results of the struggle.

This is how it is, for all of us, wherever we are at various points on the path, for we see your struggles, we would want to assist, but we cannot unless we are asked. And we know that many of you during the last Public Session were a bit annoyed with us for we did not come to the rescue, as you perceived it, of the entity who was having health problems, we were not asked by that entity at either physical or spirit, and thus it is that we are not able to assist. We follow in protection ~ there is a difference ~ and we see the beauty that is all of you, regardless of where you are on The Spectrum, so that as we look through what you might refer to as a tunnel of The Spectrum, at the other end of us, as we look toward Amelius we see the bright Light. As we look behind us, we see from where we have come and it is not as bright as we are because we are further on toward The Oneness and this is how you might view it.

There are occasions when your behavior would bring you back into The Spectrum somewhat, what many times is referred to as regressing in your path, but that is all right, my children, for you are on the path, for all are on the path. There is no entity who is not on the path, it is simply where on the path. Remember, there is no evil regardless of what might be said to you by those on the plane. There is no evil. There are only gradations of good. All are good. We would take questions now.

How Can Those Of The Dark And Those Of The Light Be Of A Similar Vibration?

They are of the same vibration, as we had explained earlier. There needs to be an understanding of what is meant by vibration, you see. And it simply means the energy projection at a particular point on The Spectrum, each point infinitesimal, not able to be understood by the physical on the plane, understood in meditation, but each point on The Spectrum has a particular energy projection. And where you as an energy form, find yourself on The Spectrum, determines what your vibration is at that particular time, you see. And to understand the dark and the Light, you must understand that there becomes on this Spectrum the point of unity where one comes from this direction moving toward the Light and encounters at the same point one of the Light, and what occurs then is a total merging of the vibration at that very infinitesimal point.

And the dark, you see, is attempting to get rid of the Light, not really understanding this whole process but knowing that there is an energy form that is blocking its movement, and this other energy form is being pushed, is realizing that it is being pushed, and so the two go like this, you see, (Like the fingers on both hands hitting each other) and eventually, there is a combining, and when the dark is diffused, it then moves along.

Now if the dark is able to overcome the Light, meaning, let us say, for an example, you as an entity, and another entity, you see, are moving along, and this dark entity is able to overcome you, you remain on the point in the path. This other entity moves ahead gaining Light. You, however, have not gained Light, for you have allowed for whatever the reasons, and there is no judgement here, allowed this other entity to move ahead, so that there then appears to be what is thought of on the plane as winning and losing. The winning and losing concept is on the earth plane only, and we give reference to this concept only as a standard by which you would understand this movement, so that you will merge with another entity, who is also moving along The Spectrum, at an instant. It is an instant that is so quick that it is beyond your comprehension on the plane. When you are in spirit you have a better understanding of this concept.

It then means that you have taken this dark, and this dark has taken this Light, mutual agreement of the Souls of the two entities, so that lessons can be learned and strengths can be developed, for understand that deep in the memory of every energy form is the connectedness with The One, is the total understanding that each energy is a part of the other energy and ultimately all helps all.

I need some further clarification from you. When you talked about the battlefield, I thought of military terminology. Battlefield means two parties battle against each other, and one will win and the other will lose.

Indeed.

So, it was clear to me that either the darkness will win, or the Light will win.

And you understood, didn't you?

Yes. But now you confused me.

Indeed.

Because now I think it is both the darkness and the Light are battling to progress on their path so that they might even change the color, the darkness might be Light and the Light might be dark.

Indeed.

But they are always trying to approach the goal of reaching the final goal of total happiness, not like a battlefield as we understand on the earth plane.

You are correct. And in giving the symbolism of the battlefield is the basic understanding that many, many on the plane would be able to identify with at their point of understanding. It is only as you gain greater awarenesses through your meditations and the reaching of the Higher Self and unlocking the Soul memories that you are able to understand the nuances, if you will, of the Universal Concept, for to explain a Universal Concept to you on the physical you need the point of reference from the illusion, and thus it is that we give you the reference point of a battle, you see. But you begin to work your way through this now, my son, as you yourself gain in your understandings. There will be many who will be unable at this time to understand the greater nuances but will be able to understand the meaning of battle and be able to work in terms of protecting themselves from the forces that would attempt to overtake them.

Since we are assigned guides in our lives, does the dark assign their version to us that might stay with us through several lifetimes?

There ~ you must remember that all entities are considered Light to some entities and dark to other entities, and thus to say that, to differentiate that the dark may or may not have guides does not mean anything, for all entities have guides ~ all ~ for there is no differentiation between dark and Light, for if we were to do that then it would be only Amelius and the other four who rule the other kingdoms who would be considered Light and everyone else would be considered dark. Do you see? Do you understand?

A Question Of Being In Complete Control Of Your Own Path And How To Change It

My understanding is that we are architects of our own grand plan, and some have more battles than others that they are struggling with. How can one, if you want to say, "Stop, let me alter the path. Stop, I want to get off." Or "Stop, let me not bring on these struggles in this lifetime. I will deal with them some other time." Is it possible, and how?

The bright Light is new to discussions with us and the reading of the transcripts for we have mentioned on many occasions that an entity is in complete control of their own path and their own lessons and that many entities will decide to stop in midstream, as you might say, and it is done, however, at spirit level, and it means that the Soul works with The Universal Consciousness to determine the next course of action.

Very often an entity will find themselves in an incarnation that is not what they thought it was going to be prior to entry. for whatever the reasons, and it is then discussed with the higher ups, as we might say, and an entity has total freedom in changing. However, what you need to understand is that these issues are resolved at Soul Level, and while you at physical may be saying, "I want to stop. This is more than I want to take on," understand that at physical you cannot stop it. It is only at Soul.

And thus it is, in the attaining of the Higher Self through meditation, that you are able to perhaps change the mission as you have determined it to be. This is a fairly common practice actually. It is not as uncommon as many would think it to be, and the altering of path in an incarnation takes on many, many forms. As many of you are aware of the phenomenon known as the walk-in, many times the entity simply is unable to continue and indeed wants to leave the earth plane, and because, especially at this time on the plane, fully developed encasements are more beneficial to advanced entities who would want to come in to assist, agreements are made and the entity departs and another enters. Also, the entity simply departs and the encasement dissolves and it is determined that it will then take on the lessons some other time.

Understand that there is no time limit. You are not told as an entity that you have X number of millennia to complete your task. You have eternity, and the time frame on the plane is insignificant. It is that which must be accomplished that is the goal not the time frame in which you find yourselves accomplishing it. There are many entities, however, who would want to get it over with as quickly as possible, and thus, take on lifetimes that have accelerated lessons, but even those entities on occasion will stop in midstream and backtrack a bit. It is not necessarily a regression if you were to stop in the middle of an incarnation and either modify, reduce, or eliminate your lessons. It is simply that you have decided to change that which you set out to do.

A Question Of The Animal Kingdom ~ All Energies Have Their Paths And Their Destiny ~ All

I have too many cats in my house and I am seriously thinking of taking them to the Humane Society. I do not want to do it because I am afraid that they are going to put them to sleep, but I just cannot cope with them any longer. What do I do? Follow what I think I should do?

You have been with us long enough to know that we will not tell you what to do. We would say to you that your instincts are correct and you must follow that which your instincts give to you, understanding that all energies have their paths and their destiny ~ all.

If they are in another dimension ~ they are just going into another dimension if they die.

There is no death, my love. It is simply the moving from one field of energy to another. There is more to it all than the earth plane, understand that. The silly earth plane, it is what you all become so engrossed in and think that there is nothing else. There is far more, far more, and your path on the plane is only a part of the total ~ a very small part of the total.
