Waith Discusses How And Why Entities Choose Certain Encasements Before Entering In

In this session we thought that it would be an interesting topic to discuss the physical encasement that an entity takes on and how it relates to the overall mission that the entity takes on, you see, for the mission path has its parameters set by the encasement that is designed.

An Issue Of Miscarriage

Selecting the correct encasement is not as easy as you might think it to be. This is the reason why, many times, you have what you refer to as the losing of the encasement prior to the entry, or the word is miscarriage. And the reason for this is that while it might appear to all of you that from this end it is easy ~ you just pick your encasement and zoom you go into it and that is that ~ but this is not the case, for oftentimes, an entity will want to come through a particular entity, but that entity does not want that particular entity to come through them. And while the making of an encasement is an easy thing from an earth plane perspective, the habitation of an encasement is an entirely different situation. And thus, it becomes then a matter of working closely with the ~ all the Spirit Guides involved with the entity wanting to enter, and the entity who will allow the entry, and it is all very interconnected.

The Issue Of Judgment Toward Another For The Way They Look ~ Their Encasement

Now, the reason, of course, that you see so much variation in encasements is that that signifies the extent of the variations of missions and the variations of what actually an entity has come in to do. And it, once again, gives us cause to discuss judgement, one of our more favorite discussions, for to look at an entity in their encasement ~ oh, it is a very easy, easy moment for so many to judge an entity based upon the encasement. And you might see, for example, an encasement that is what you would say well-streamed and kept healthy according to your perspective ~ and, in reality, you might then look at another encasement and see quite the opposite, and make judgements that that entity must have something wrong with them, for they are not as well-streamed and healthy as you, or what you perceive in your reality to be the correct kind of encasement.

Each Encasement Is The Way An Entity Achieves Balance Of Particular Lessons

And thus, the testings of judgement enter in once again, for each encasement is a way in which an entity in some way achieves the balance of particular lessons ~ and many times an encasement will have in it certain malfunctions and may have on it for sight, easily seen, what you call birthmarks or other types of signatures, if you will. And this is a reflection of, again, a part of the mission that the entity has taken on from other incarnations to balance. And in the time prior to entry, there is much planning involved here, if you will, as to the kind of encasement that will be used to serve the purpose of the mission, and thus, it becomes for each of you as an entity to come to terms, if you will, with why you have chosen a particular entity encasement for your energy and to utilize this knowledge in helping you to achieve your mission.

For some of you, for example, it may be that you will always be what you would call scrawny, and for others of you, less scrawny ~ variations on the theme, you see, one end of The Spectrum to the other. Others of you, it is meant that you have a certain height of encasement, and this all relates to what it is that you have chosen to taken on to learn and what your encasement will then provide for you in the way of physical ailments, and we use this in a positive way that it provides to you certain physical situations that enable you then to work through and strengthen Self.

And if you were to look at another entity and say, "This entity has no health problems, they have a perfect body, they are beautiful, they have no things to worry about. They must have a charmed experience." Who are you to judge? For you know not what it is that has created that encasement manifestation in relation to the spirit mission, for having what is perceived as a perfect encasement is in itself a lesson, you see, so each encasement that is manifested has a part of the mission to be worked through that each of you have chosen, you see.

It is rather interesting to observe the planning that occurs in the selection of the encasement, and oftentimes it takes much longer than you would think in terms of time as you measure it on the plane. Many times an entity will, as you might refer to it, sit and wait for the receptacle to be prepared. It is not an easy, quick situation. For those situations, however, when there is a very quick reentry onto the plane it creates difficulties. It is not usually advised from our end for an entity to go from one incarnation to another without the time of reflection and also preparation for the next entry, for if preparation is done too quickly, or none at all, then it can create problems in the experience in the manifestation itself.

However, it is not for any of you to judge another's energy by the encasement in which you find them, but rather to look at an encasement of an entity as something that that entity has taken on for very specific reasons. It could be the combination of teaching and learning. It could, in fact, be strictly to teach. You do not know. You do not know, nor should you judge this, but simply look at an entity and accept that entity as beautiful in whatever form the entity takes on. And this extends itself, of course, outside of The Human Kingdom, but also into The Animal Kingdom and The Mineral Kingdom and The Plant Kingdom. What you might consider ugly as an encasement is beautiful, for that energy form has taken on that encasement to grow and to strengthen, and for that purpose alone there is beauty, you see. Now, what questions might you have regarding this topic area?

No Entity Is Allowed To Enter Without The Permission Of The Entity Who Will Allow This

While the Soul is waiting for the entity to prepare for its possible entry, if that entity changes his mind to have this other soul enter, are there a couple of alternatives in the mind that the entity chooses, like, let us say, this is my choice one, two, three and four?

In a sense, that does happen. That is perhaps the best frame of reference that you could give to the process. Understand that there are some energies, for example, who currently are incarnated that other entities want very much to come in through, knowing that they can learn certain lessons, and whatever, but not every entity incarnated, first of all, would have the capability of allowing that many to enter through, nor they may not want to allow any to enter through.

Thus, it becomes the entity choosing to come in must have another selection or several selections in mind. It is from the planning standpoint up to the entity coming in who must have alternatives and not the entity allowing the entry, you see. This is the way that it works out. It is the entity who allows entry who gives the permission. It works, however, in a mutual agreement, you see. So, no entity is allowed to enter without the permission of the entity who will allow this.

And when you were speaking of this ~ I remember the exact second that I gave permission to the Soul of my son to enter, and at that time he entered. And it was on a conscious level.

Oh, indeed. That occurs many times with entities. They are very, very conscious of the agreement time.

It was quite beautiful.

Oh, yes.

Could You Elaborate More On The Selection Procedure Of Preparation?

When you take a second ~ any second there will be many millions of encasements biologically created. How does this operate that one particular entity waiting to reincarnate picks out of this millions-every-second, one particular one, or is it more a pattern of encasements which are ready to take on the mission an entity would like to learn in the next incarnation?

Well, understand that when you are dealing with the concept of time that which you have just presented would in fact seem an overwhelming type of situation that you must have what you would call a coordination of so many millions of entries occurring what you would say almost simultaneously, and that, "Oh, we must have this all planned exactly as it is to be." And yes, this is exactly what occurs. But when it occurs, it is being done through the planning at The Universal Consciousness Level and therefore there is no time, as you would use it in the plane, but rather simply a process that occurs in the overall planning of the illusion, as Amelius and the other four in the other four Kingdoms plan out. It is done in a way and at a level that is a bit overwhelming for most incarnated on the plane currently to understand. However, there are others who have reached the level of awareness where they understand it to a sense that it does occur and that it is an easy process.

When one has a scientific training and a scientific mind, it does present the thought of complexity as to the planning process, you see, and how that could be all managed so regularly and so consistently, you see. So thus, understand that it is an easy, easy process from this end.

Is The Planning Process The Same For Walk-Ins?

Oh, indeed it is. Most definitely. Any entry onto the plane has a very planned process, and the phenomena that you know of as walk-in has an even greater dimension to it, for the walk-in has a greater responsibility upon entry, for there has been an agreement made between the entity currently in the encasement and the entity who will replace that energy, and it is a mutual agreement. And when the departing entity, as part of the agreement, makes certain stipulations, as well as the entering entity will make certain stipulations, and both must agree upon the stipulations, as you would call it.

For example, there might be the departing entity may have brought in other entities known as children and would want the walk-in to assure the departing entity that the children will be well taken care of and will not be left behind, for remember that when the walk-in takes over the encasement you have a different entity, and therefore, you will have a different set of experiences. And you will also have different balancing and different lessons, and there will be different connections with entities surrounding the encasement, so that very often the connections that the entity, original entity, had no longer have those same kinds of connections with the new entity, and therefore, everything changes, you see.

However, as is the case with the current group of walk-ins currently coming onto the plane, many of them are coming in with stipulations made by a certain energy form that relates to the mission of The Shift, and thus, they are receiving what you might call dual stipulations ~ stipulations from the departing entity and stipulations from the lead energy that is directing them as part of the mission. And thus, the work of a walk-in during this particular time frame, wherever it is on the plane, is not as easy as it has been in other times for walk-ins.

Does A Walk-In Usually Come In With The Encasement As Having Physical Problems?

Not necessarily physical problems. It is a combination very often of the physical problems becoming the result of the inability of the energy to continue with the mission, and thus, it creates difficulties for the entire personification, encasement and spirit combined. It is not a negative, understand, when an entity finds itself not able to continue and allows another entity to enter in. It is actually a part of the growth process, for by allowing the encasement to be utilized, it enables an entity of a different vibration and strength and mission to enter in and eventually take over.

And now, one of the difficulties for walk-ins is that they are not always given the luxury of selecting their encasement. They cannot have it all, as you might say, and thus, many entities find that in order to offset, looking at their total mission and what it is they want to achieve, they may not be able to have the exact kind of encasement that they would want, and this then becomes a lesson for them also to learn how to deal with, if you would, an encasement that they do not especially like, you see.

You Mentioned A Leading Energy Which Influences The Walk-In. Would You Explain That?

We have in the past discussed the hierarchy of The Universe in that there are lead entities that come out of The Universal Consciousness, and that they make up approximately five percent in terms of size, and from each of these lead entities then springs all of the lifelines and all else, much like you would look at ~ we described this as a spider plant, yes, that was how we had given the description, so that you have this main energy and from this come all of the other entities, but all are connected.

Now, in The Kingdom of Amelius there is a lead entity that is directing a number of the walk-ins coming in who work through the Community of Terra Lux, as well as other areas geographically on the plane, as well as in spirit. And thus, as in other Kingdoms, the other four Kingdoms have their lead entities which are doing the same type of work also. And it is simply a form of order, if you will, that the lead entity in this case receives its direction directly from Amelius and then passes on this information where appropriate to the particular entity who has agreed to take on the mission of a walk-in. Walk-ins are not just arbitrarily chosen, nor is it a frivolous type of situation. It is a much more complex process and takes with it a great deal of responsibility.

The experience of being a walk-in is one of The Menu of lessons that the earth plane provides, and so, many entities in making their selection of their earth plane sojourn will select that from The Menu, if you will, that they would want to have the experience of being a walk-in. Others choose not to select that, and therefore, in their sojourn on the earth plane would not become a walk-in at any time, you see.

Can An Entity Take On An Ailment To Create The Scenario For The Walk-In?

Yes.

Do walk-ins have to continue with the ailment?

It depends. It depends on the mission. Sometimes they continue the ailment and other times there is what you might refer to as a miraculous recovery.

And if an entity came through the birth way on the earth plane with a birthmark, would the walk-in also take on that birthmark as it would be for their experience?

They would have to take the encasement as they got it.

As is.

As is, yes. That, again, as we had said earlier, is a part of the exchange and that you get some of the things you like and some of the things that you do not especially like, but that is all a part of the bargain.

How many walk-ins are there among us now?

Millions.

Would You Expand On The Comment You Made About Symbolism Of Birthmarks?

A birthmark is a symbolic manifestation of something that has occurred in a previous incarnation. It may be a happy occurrence or it may be an unhappy occurrence, but it is your way as an entity of bringing with you a particular remembrance. You may have it at a conscious level, for many entities connect with their Higher Self to understand the purpose for the particular symbol. Others simply do not, but at the Soul Level, it is there. And it is much like you would think of, oh, your favorite teddy bear that you like to carry it around with you not knowing exactly why, but that it gives you some sort of comfort. Thus it is that a birthmark can serve that same purpose. It can provide comfort for you. For some, a birthmark may provide a very visible symbol and the recognition of a lesson to be learned, for the birthmark may in itself in its placement create the lesson, or the teaching.

How about that of Gorbachev?

Ah, indeed, the bright light.

How about his birthmark? What does that symbolize?

It has a very definite symbol and we are not allowed to give out that information for it is a part of his path, but it is also very much a part of what this beautiful entity has taken on to teach, for he is in a stronger teaching mode than learning.

Question And Discussion About The Issue Of Abortion

There is a lot of talk about the pros and cons of abortion. One side is arguing that they are strictly against abortion, because at the minute where you have the logical unification, we are already talking about an encasement as an entity with a soul, so we as a human being are not allowed to destroy this. Others say the entry of the Soul into the encasement takes place, I think that is what you mentioned, after six months, or three months before birth. Could you explain this a little bit more in detail what your statements are?

Understand that any event that occurs with an entity is a part of learning or teaching, and that from our end of things, that which you call morality is something that is a part of the earth plane illusion. We have, in fact, discussed as a beginning topic for you all morality and truthfulness and honesty. What occurs is a very complex situation, for once the encasement has been formed, the entity goes in and tries it out, the best way that we can describe it to you, you see. And thus, at the moment that the encasement has taken on a physical form, at that very instant of the creation of that, the entity awaiting the entry goes into it at that what you would call molecule level, you see. At that very instant there is that unification.

What occurs, then, however, is that there is a melding of spirit between the entity allowing the entry and the entity coming in, and it is at this time that the entity coming in will look at this developing encasement to determine whether or not it wants to enter in through this particular encasement, and thus, it has the opportunity to move in and out of the encasement throughout the time that it is taking for the encasement to develop, and thus, in and out, in and out, you see.

Now, the entity may at any point in this development process decide that this is not the encasement that it wants. Therefore, it leaves. There may be other situations, however, in which the encasement or the entity coming into the encasement has made a forceful entry, not in agreement at Soul Level with the entity who has ~ it has taken over, and therefore, this what you call abortion occurs. Now, we do not look at these issues as moral or immoral but rather as lessons to be learned, for imposition of one upon another is not, in the Universal sense, appropriate and therefore creates an imbalance.

Now, the entity who attempted to force themselves onto the entity for receivership has created an imbalance for themselves. On the other hand, and it is not always as simple as it might appear to be, the entity who has been imposed upon may, in fact, have been allowed from the planning aspect of The Universe to be imposed upon, for they at another time imposed themselves, and therefore they must undergo this what you would call abortion in order to balance for themselves. It is not an easy situation, and to make a judgement upon one who has an abortion, if you will, is making a judgement, for you know not what the mission of either entity actually is, you see.

The church says, "We will not have abortions." They are afraid that they will go to hell if they allow it. That is why that even in this archdiocese when they bought up another hospital, they put down the law and said, "Thou shalt not do abortions here." So why is it so muddled?

It is all a part of the illusion, my love. It is meant to create the opportunities for learning and also for teaching. It is a very strong part of this particular illusion which is about to end. With The Shift, this illusion will come to an end, and The New Illusion will begin, and there will be many different standards, if you will, in The New Illusion and issues that are thought of as being immoral in this illusion will not be in another illusion and vice versa. Things that are considered quite, quite immoral, if you will, in this illusion will not be so in another illusion, the one to come.

And thus, it is simply that this is the particular play that is being produced now. And all must take their part in the play, in their role, for in the act of objecting to abortion, if you will, that in itself is a learning and a teaching, for it ~ for some entities there needs to be that kind of forcefulness to bring them to grips, if you will, with their own sense of who they are. And morality, as it is discussed on the plane, is a very important aspect of the illusion and not something that is to be taken lightly, if you will, but rather to be dealt with as how you will respond to another's imposition upon you, or your imposition on another, for each entity, having their own set of experiences from other incarnations, brings with it an opinion, you see, and this is quite normal on the earth plane. This is what the earth plane is all about.

And so, the battle will continue as it needs to be for lessons to be learned and taught by all concerned, you see. And you as an entity establish that which feels appropriate for Self, for the direction of your own path. And if an entity feels that they must take a firm stand in objecting to any number of issues ~ abortion being one of them ~ then that is appropriate, for that is what the entity has taken on in this incarnation, for whatever their reasons. It is not for you to judge what their reason is but rather to see it in the scheme of The Universe as a part of all that must be.
