Gathering For The Winter Solstice

The Highest of the Light to all of you. We are gathered with you to share in the vibrational changes that occur with the earth, physical as well as spirit, at this time of what is commonly referred to as the season change when it apparently becomes colder in this geographic area. We underline the word APPARENTLY, for that is, as many of you know, changing. And we, however, wanted to share just for a brief time with you on the plane.

You know, vibrationally, it is more appropriate for this time about to occur with the earth to be referred to as the New Year. However, you see, it would cause much confusion among all of you on the earth plane if, for the opposite side of the planet, it would be not the New Year and it would be another time frame, you see, and it would cause even more confusion than time causes on the earth plane. Thus, this calendar that you have was agreed upon that the New Year would begin, and it is that point in which we make our frame of reference for the New Year. And we will be discussing quite soon now on the plane coming in and speaking with you regarding our plans for this coming year and the joy and the playfulness that is to be on the earth plane for that year.

Waith Begins Discussion Of Earth Vibration Changes Occurring, Past, Present, And Future

Now, we would like to give you, and to have with you, a discussion of earth vibrations as they relate especially to that which is occurring now, the changes that have been, the changes that are occurring now, and the changes that will be coming about.

You know, vibrationally, this is a most critical time for the planet, that which is the beginning of the movement in this geographic area toward the Light, so that there is more Light occurring on the plane. This has a vibrational significance. The other half of the earth is moving toward the dark now, and that also has a vibrational significance. It is representative of the balance that all energy has, the movement toward the dark and the movement toward the Light, and the balance. As the earth achieves that balance so beautifully, so too do all of you balance in your movement within the Spectrum of Light and the balance of the dark and the Light within each energy.

It is important that you connect your energies vibrationally now at this time with the earth. And quite a while ago now, Mushiba had this meditation that occurred for each of the season changes in which you would each find a representation of the earth, vibrationally, and it would be placed into the basket that you see now beside Mushiba's encasement.

And this continues in this gathering, for after we have departed, that part of the ceremony, as you would refer to it, will continue, and this would mark a significant time frame, for the geographic space that you find yourselves in now will be the last time a season change will be held in this space, and it is a transition time, then, from that, when this tradition was begun and that which it will be continued.

We have placed an energy of solitude and stability in this energy grouping from the earth that will then connect with you as you each participate in the meditation that will give you a sense of continuance as the remainder of this earth plane year comes to a limping end. It does seem to limp along, does it not, as it reaches its conclusion, and the anticipation of something better is part of the earth plane experience.

Would there be any comments or questions that we might perhaps address so that it becomes a dialogue instead of a monologue?

Waith Discusses The Strength Of Peace And Contentment That Comes From Solitude

Why an energy of solitude?

Ah, an energy of solitude. You know, it is necessary for each energy to feel secure within Self and to feel the strength that comes from aloneness, knowing, of course, that you are never alone. You may be alone physically on the plane but all of us are around haunting you, as you might say. However, it does give a certain strength to feel the peace and contentment that comes from solitude, and that it is necessary, if you are To Be of Service to Others, to be able to feel comfortable with Self alone without all of the extraneous earth plane distractions.

And as the New Year comes in, the emphasis that we will be having with all of you is Playtime on the Earth Plane. And in order to play, in order to feel lighthearted and happy, one must feel a sense of strength from aloneness, for it is from the sense of solitude that one truly feels lighthearted, for aloneness means that you are able to let go of all that would encumber you. And thus, we will be helping, as the year moves along, to give you techniques and to give you guidance in the quest for comfort and solitude within Self.

Does this have any connection with Self love?

Ah, indeed. From the sense of Respect for Self comes the Love of Self, and it is the eternal quest of energies outside of ~ out of The Universal Consciousness, out of The One, to seek this sense of strength within Self and the Self love. It is not unique only to those on the sojourn of the earth plane; it is Universal, and, you know, an issue that is perhaps the most difficult. It is so easy, especially on the plane, to say "Well, if I were to develop Self, I would be selfish. I am told that I should Be of Service to Others."

Understand, and we have said this so many different times, and cannot say it enough, however, that in order for each of us as energies to Be of Service to Others, we must have the strength within, for it is only the amount of strength within and love of Self that is equal to that which we are able to give to others. You cannot give more than you have, and the more that you have, the more that you are able to give, and the more that you have, the less likely it is that you will be depleted.

It is when one holds onto things of materialism or things of emotion that say, "I will not show love toward others," that the constrictions occur, and it becomes, therefore, more difficult to not only Love Self but to Love Others, for there is the sense of threat to the inner being. The stronger each of us becomes within Self, the easier it is to give away, for there is no fear, for there is security in the sense of solitude.

A Discussion Of Astrological Reference Points Relating To Vibration

You said now is when the New Year starts because the days are getting longer. How does that work in astrology, the New Year starts in March? Is it just a different reference point? A different symbolism?

Yes, my love, it is. As we have stated so often, there are so many different reference points and frames of reference, each, however, most appropriate to that which is the mission of that particular lesson or vibration. And that which you refer to astrologically is very much connected with all that occurs with the planet Earth and the vibration. It is connected in a way that makes it very easy to work on the earth plane. You see, vibrationally, things are quite different in other dimensions as we look upon the vibration of the earth plane and we see it a little differently. It would be too complicated to do it at physical the way that it is at spirit, so that astrologically all is correct.

Would You Talk About The Geographical Location Of Pivotal Points In Relation To Europe?

I was recently in Europe and discussing with people there about Waith. Will Europe have any local points like these twelve pivotal points ~ something coming up in Europe somewhere? Or is it all darkness and ~

Oh, it is not all darkness. There are Twelve Major Light Points on the planet Earth now, as well as for each illusion. It is the way in which the illusion is vibrationally kept together. So, you see, the twelve major pyramids are Major Light Spots, as you might call them, and then each of those twelve pyramids have twelve substations, as you might call them, and those are sub points of Light, and each of those twelve eventually have their own twelve. You see, this is the way in which it spreads.

This will maintain itself in The New Illusion. It is simply that the structures will have different locations than are currently with the pyramids and will have different shapes to them. And, of course, they will have different substations, as we lovingly call them. Now, it is on record that the geographic area in which you find yourself is one of the twelve major sites for a new structure. That which you refer to as Europe will also have a major structure with several substructures that will come from other major structures and not that which is on that particular land mass. There are, as is in that which you call the North American continent, areas that will no longer be. And simply all that occurs is that the land comes and goes, you see, depending upon what the earth needs vibrationally now to move along in its path.

You have begun to see, rather dramatically we might add, disappearances of land, or reconfiguration of land, and certainly a cleansing of land. This geographic area that Terra Lux serves is what is referred to as vibrationally safe. It does not mean that structures will not be cleaned away. It means that the land itself is to remain. As we have said before, it will become ocean front property. Buy now. You would perhaps consider for future warehousing that which is called beach balls. ☺

My friends in Europe would like to know if there is an area where they may expect some enlightening, or is that still too premature?

Oh, it is occurring and has been for quite some time. There are what you call pockets of awareness, and just as we work with Mushiba and Terra Lux, there are eleven other pockets, if you will, that are doing similar types of preparations, not, in some cases, as public as we. We have a particular mission in being as public, and that will continue to unfold and expand. Other pockets are less public, and in some cases not public at all. Nonetheless, the mission is the same, and that is to prepare the geographic area for the hookup of the new vibration and the threads of energy that will be connected from structure to structure and sub-structure to substructure, and from substructure, substructure to substructure, substructure.

So, understand that, just as many are drawn to us, so too are those who need to be drawn to the other eleven pockets will do so, if they have chosen this as their path. If they walk away from the Light, then they will not, of course. If they walk toward the Light, then they will. It matters not where they are in their walk. What matters is that they walk toward the Light. It does not matter if one would say, "Well, I am here walking toward the Light. Now, I am here walking toward the Light," you see. It is if one walks away that the decision is made by that entity that they will not remain after the illusion change, and therefore would not be interested in finding any of the pockets or the sub pockets.

We use these interchangeably now, Limera, as you would prepare your written version of this, you know, substructure, substation, sub pocket, all mean the same. ☺

Limera: Thanks, when we use the search key we will know what to do.

There are others on the plane in varying geographic areas who are part of the substation areas connected to the Terra Lux major structure, and they will find themselves, as is appropriate and as needed, to hear the words that we have. You could, of course, be a facilitator if you so choose to do so. Opportunities will be presented to many to help disseminate the words that we have given out in the past and give for the future.

The Lower Levels Of The Energy Centers ~ Needing Attention in Order To Concentrate

(There is a long silence) Such shy little flowers. We are aware of a certain emanation of vibration known as hunger.

You got it! 😊

You know, we have worked very hard to reach this level of awareness. 😊

You know where you fit in the list of priorities!

Yes, we have learned that, as all energies have learned that when in the search for awareness of Self that ~ you know this on the earth plane, it is true of all energies, that the highest levels are happy, as long as the lowest levels are happy. And if the lowest levels are unhappy within Self, then the highest levels get a little shaky until the lowest levels have been taken care of, you see. This is true of what you call ~ we refer to them as the Energy Centers, it is commonly referred to as Chakras, that, you know, you move along up through this little tunnel from the lowest to the highest and you can be very happy in your meditations, but if some of your lower level Chakras need attention, then it is difficult to meditate, is it not? Indeed. We understand this.

What About The Difficult Situations In Other Countries ~ Regarding Race And Starvation?

I just read an article where white men were saying that the white man created all the difficulties we are having in Africa right now. How do you see from the spiritual point of view the fact that when you go back so many thousands of years ago, all continents basically had the same start, and that there was such a differentiation in development of wealth in different continents. And I think the worst continent right now is Africa, and it is not only Somalia right now, but there are so many other countries which are really suffering. There are millions and millions of people who do not even have the minimum of food to eat.

Well, you know, no one continent, if you will, suffers any greater or any less than another at any point in the illusion. It is simply that the awareness of a particular grouping of energies now is heightened. You know not what occurred at the beginning of this illusion, and that energy groupings who are having to balance, still, within certain issues, will find themselves in Energy Circles that allow them to do so. From the spirit standpoint, this is simply a training ground, this continent now that allows certain energies who need to balance in whatever their ways are, to do so.

You must remember that part of the scenario of the earth plane is exaggeration, and that each of you have had many opportunities to come into situations of exaggeration. The earth plane history for this illusion is ten thousand earth plane years. You focus in on a history of only what you would call a few years. From our perspective, one hundred or two hundred years of earth plane time is a flash in relation to ten thousand.

Vibrationally, it is simply an opportunity for balance. If one were to look through what you call recorded history, and understand that that which we want to be known is known, and that which we do not want to be known, it never becomes so called recorded ~ (the tape skips here) ~ that you might look as briefly as two or three or four hundred earth plane years ago on your very continent of North America, and that which is referred to as Indians were slaughtered, no different than that which is occurring on this continent now called Africa.

The predisposition of the race known as white is a setup, if you will. Many of you have been in other races in which you were tortured by other colors. The colors on the plane in this illusion are purposely designed for balancing, and those who find themselves in positions of being tortured now ~ understand, we go back to the issues of judgement ~ may be teaching or may be learning. You do not know. What is important is that, at a very minimum, you send nonjudgemental love and Light to all the areas of the earth plane, and especially to areas where you feel a kindred relationship in which you would feel that you should do something. And if you feel you should do something at a physical level, then do so. That is what issues are all about, you see.

Throughout the earth planet there are opportunities presented for each of you to Be of Service. It does not mean that you must all Be of Service to all issues being presented, but particular issues bring about the balancing. And this is what it is all about. It is the opportunity to develop compassion. It is the opportunity to develop fortitude, to develop sincerity, sensitivity. It is the opportunity to become strong within Self. It is the opportunity to stand up for one's belief. If you believe that what is being done is not right, then do something. It is that opportunity.

Be careful of judging those who would not respond as you do, for they have other paths, other missions, you see. All is arranged on the plane to provide the opportunity for spiritual advancement, for growth within Self. And it will be another place, another time, as you, if you read your history, observe, that exaggeration occurs from spot to spot. And currently on the plane, most every place is a spot, you see. There is exaggeration everywhere you look. There is an opportunity everywhere that you look. And believe us when it is stated that the weather, as you call it on the plane, now will present very, very strong spot opportunities.

A Question About The Recent Discussion Of Co-dependency And Shaking Up The Higher Self

Regarding your recent discussion of co-dependence, you mentioned that it is okay to use help to go into an altered state to help ourselves ~ it shakes up the Higher Self. Doesn't the Higher Self always work to our greater good?

Yes.

Well, why do we have to shake it up then?

Ah. Why would you have to shake up any energy? To get it moving. Working toward the greater good can become, shall we say, static, and there would be sometimes this sense of "Well, all is well. I am working toward the greater good, and I am doing a very good job at it. There is no reason to have to really challenge me anymore," you see. This can be at a point, then, a regressive behavior. And thus, energy must be dynamic. It must be ever changing. It must be ever moving. It cannot stand still. And thus, on occasion, the Higher Self gets, shall we say, complacent. It gets lazy and starts to say, "I am very happy where I am now." Soul, however, you see ~ this is where the connection we have told you of the soul, the Higher Self and the Conscious Self ~ Soul is over here saying, "Wait a minute now. You have to start doing something. You cannot just sit around and be content." For in order to return to The One, there must be movement, progression. Soul's ultimate goal is to get back from where it came, you see.

Well, we will leave you now so that you may indulge in the Lower Chakra issues of hunger, which will ultimately, you see, bring you back to the issues of greater awareness, and then you will wish I were still here! ☺ And I will not be.

We have been most pleased and delighted to be with all of your fuzzy bouncy energies, and we look forward to spending the time with you at the end of this earth plane year which marks the anniversary of our entry into the energy field of Mushiba, also, and we will be with you in spirit and energy as you finish out this year. And call upon us for energy to help you in selecting that last minute little item.

We send to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.
