Playtime On The Earth Plane ~ Foundation Discussion

We begin this session of the first month of this New Year with the foundation of the topic of that which we will address for this coming year on the plane. It is Playtime on the Earth Plane, loved ones. It is time now to lighten up. It is time now to learn of the balance between the spiritual heaviness and the spiritual lightness. Play is a spiritual activity. Many on the plane feel that play is something that should not be part of their behavior, for, "We must get to the seriousness of the spiritual mission," which is to be serious and always looking for the reasons why everything happens, to analyze all the reasons why a particular behavior occurs. And, as we have indicated in other times, often there is no reason to know the reason.

Now, playtime is, as we said, a spiritual activity and it is meant to help in the balancing of the spirit and the Soul. And as you look at the concept we have given you of Energy Circles, that each of you has an Energy Circle that is composed of many different elements. One of the threads that go through this Energy Circle is Lightheartedness. It is intertwined with seriousness, much like you would look at a braid of thread ~ you look at intertwining. And the goal is to keep that twining strong and unbroken. What occurs when we leave The One is that the twine within our Energy Circle becomes vulnerable to breakage or vulnerable to lapses where there is not quite the strength of connection as it weaves its way through the Energy Circle.

And that is why we concentrate in this earth plane year on playtime and Lightheartedness, to give you certain perspectives of how to keep yourself lighthearted, for as often as you are serious, and as often as you would be most concerned of matters of consequence, so too must you laugh. So too must you feel that, you know, it is all an illusion after all. We understand how much easier it is to talk about this than it is to actually do this ~ the discussion is very easy, just as any of the spiritual precepts that we have given over time on the plane are easy to discuss ~ much more difficult to activate.

And thus, many of you will find the information that we give during these coming months to be a bit serious, "I cannot take that, seriously! That is ludicrous." Or, "I do not understand that!" And this is fine, my loves, for we give information of long term value. And if you are able to take a portion of the information and apply it to your own path, then our purpose has been successful.

The Importance Of Color And Sound That You Surround Yourself With

Now. We plan to have discussions of color and sound. There is a very special time that is planned with Farena and Barjan, who many of you know, in which sound, especially, will be presented in a way that will help you to, as we have said so often, fluff up your aura. It is most important to fluff yourself up. If you are not able to keep yourself lighthearted, it becomes a bit difficult to expect another to. And at the same time, if you are able to keep yourself lighthearted, it becomes your responsibility, then, to teach that to others. As you learn, so then must you teach. And as you teach, so too do you learn.

So, we will have much in the way of lightening up via color also, for each of you is able to become more harmonious within your own energy field by the types of color that you surround yourself with. And we have given out the information on the filtering out process, and we will elaborate on that in the coming months in sessions that we have. For when you find yourself in a vibration where the color and/or the sound is inharmonious to that which you have determined appropriate for yourself, you are able to filter it out. Now, we have indicated in other times that this is possible. We have been rather vague on how to do this, and we will become more concrete in the techniques of filtering out inharmonious color and sound.

You will have available from us the ways in which to determine appropriate color, and that, you know, this changes, sometimes within an earth plane day and sometimes day to day, but more often, you have a range of colors that are both dominant and minor that for the particular point in your path that you find yourself, those colors are appropriate. And understand that we view black and white in the spectrum of color even though we know on the earth plane they are considered noncolors. We include black and white.

Waith Talks About The Concept Of Colors In The New Illusion

In The New Illusion, the concept of color, of course, will remain. The colors will be different. And it is most important on the earth plane to understand that color is used as an energy indicator on the earth plane and on several other of the training grounds, but it is not something that is used in all training grounds. However, since you are all on the earth plane, it is appropriate that you know how to associate with color and sound.

And the issues of judgement will prevail as we present information to you, not only color and sound, but also play ~ for each of you is on your own particular path, and you are at a particular point in your travels. And it becomes most important that the overriding issue of life on the earth plane is that of working through judgemental attitudes and working toward Unconditional Love. It is never achieved to perfection while outside of The One, let alone on the earth plane, but the standards must be high to achieve what is as close to perfection of Unconditional Love and nonjudgement as is possible on the earth plane. So, you see, it would be very easy to say, "That person is not playing the way I think they should be playing. They should be lighthearted. They should ~ you should do more. You should laugh more. You are not playing enough." You must be most careful of these judgements.

Playtime is a spiritual activity and, therefore, you have permission to play, if you are so inclined in your spiritual path. Most on the plane have difficulty in giving themselves permission to play, for they feel it would take away from the greater mission. Well, play is a mission. Play is part of balancing and, therefore, it must be attended to. So, you will have fun this year on the earth plane! ☺

Oftentimes, you know, it is very good to use exaggeration. We have done this on several occasions. Yes, we have ~ we have been known to exaggerate a bit! Farena, more than any of The Company, has been known to exaggerate a bit, and that will continue, and in fact, we will show you ways of exaggeration. Understand that in the issues of balance, as we have said so often, the teeter totter must go up, you must go down, up and down, up and down, until you are able to come to that balance. That is achieved through exaggeration, the highs and the lows.

Thus, it will be with play and with Lightheartedness, that at times you will be perhaps perceived by others ~ and who cares what they think ~ that you are too lighthearted or too serious. But as long as you know that you are attempting to achieve your own balance, that is all that matters, and that you would strive to understand that others are seeking their own balance, and that it is appropriate and beneficial to discuss with others their striving to balance without saying, "My balancing is better than your balancing. And if you do this, then you will surely balance because it worked for me."

It is good to relay experiences. There is this fine line, this balance, between relaying experiences and Being of Service to another, and judging. It is a line often crossed. But, you see, of course, it is often crossed, for unless you keep crossing back and forth, you will not find the point of balance. And thus, it is all right. Life on the plane is, by definition, a life of imbalance, for you know, and we have said this in other times, that once you balance, The Universe says, "We will let you stay balanced for X amount of time," depending ~ it could be a day, a week, a year, a nanosecond, ☺ and then it is time to work on either something else or a higher level of that particular issue that you had just balanced.

And thus, all of us, you know, not just the earth plane but all who are out of The One, are in a constant state of imbalance. That is what makes it so exciting. Think about it. When things are even keel, it is rather boring, isn't it? When you think about it, to not have anything going on, just things going along without any disruption, without any issues being presented, it is really very boring. And, you see, that is why we all come out of The One. This is very boring in there. We want to have some fun, so we come out. And that, by definition alone, means that there will be fluxes that occur. And it is fun, then, to try and regain the balance between seriousness and Lightheartedness, for once that thread melds and becomes One, then it is time to return into The One, be absorbed, get bored, come back out, the new little Energy Circle, new little tasks.

Follow Reading Session To Session This Year Will Help With Your Own Issues Of Play

So, you see, this coming year on the plane, if you follow us through from session to session, if not with your physical presence, but in the reading or the hearing of our information, you will be able to work through your own issues of play and how to help others to work through their own issues of play. Would there be questions or comments relating to this topic?

When do we start?

Ah. It has begun. You know, the opportunities are being presented now, as we are here with you, to be lighthearted and to look into Self for play and to look for guidance as to who in your vibration you can look to for assistance. You would look around you and you would find, perhaps, one individual who you feel is too playful and you do not feel quite in harmony with that person. That is fine. For another person, this playful person is most appropriate. So, you look to find those who you feel compatible with. That is always the key. And you do this how? How do you find this out? What is the technique to determine whether what you do is right for you?

⚙ Practice, I guess.

⚙ Meditation. 😊

Oh! This word MEDITATION, finding the answers myself! Darn it! I cannot have somebody else tell me now, can I? I have to find out myself.

You know, on occasion we may give you some assistance in a private session to help support what you are endeavoring to do, but the time has begun, each of you, if you were to go now after hearing us, into your own meditations, and let go of this issue of IT IS NOT RIGHT TO PLAY, then you would begin to hear from Higher Self and from your guides and your Angelic Protector ~ for this is a time when The Angelic Protectors assigned to each entity will come in closer to the vibration, to help in the playing ~ and to learn of the sense of Lightheartedness and to look at events around you with a different eye.

Changing Weather Patterns ~ Earth Is Realigning Its Own Balancing Of Seriousness And Playtime

You know, we have said from the very beginning of the changing weather patterns. Well, surely now, in this geographic area that you find yourselves, in this very day you would say, "My goodness, these are very interesting weather patterns, are they not?"

Record highs today.

Well, you know, we have said for quite some time that while the cleansing occurs there will be cold when it should be hot and hot when it should be cold, and that is accelerating now as the earth's own energies change. And the earth itself, you see, is realigning its own balancing of seriousness and playtime. The earth plays also.

The Issues Of Judgement Where Play And Work Are Concerned

I understand that anything we go through has a physiological, a chemical, a magnetic and an electrical change in the body. I feel my own psychological makeup is serious, and that the body must work and learn how to keep and run a lighthearted energy.

Well, of course, for understand that the Energy Circle that we have discussed in other times is made up of the vibration of the total, so that includes, of course, the physiological, and oftentimes, an entity comes into an incarnation to be very serious.

There will be some who are gathered here now and others who might read or hear our words whose mission is to be at one end of the teeter totter ~ seriousness for the entire lifetime. It is not meant that they do anything in terms of lightening up. And in their own way, that, you must understand, is the balance between serious and Lightness, and this is why we caution you on the judgements. And thus, if you find yourself so very, very serious, this indeed, if coming from Higher Self to acknowledge, is perhaps the mission.

But as you all ~ many of you know, you have points in the mission where change occurs. And thus, you would plan prior to entry that you would be working for a particular issue, and once a certain point was reached in the resolution of that issue, it was time to either place it on the back burner or incorporate it with another issue or change completely. And thus, many have said, "For the first" ~ we will use this as simply an example ~ "For the first thirty years on the earth plane, I will be very serious, this will be my concentration, at which point I will begin to change and put that issue aside and work on another issue."

You see, you each have control over your entire destiny. There is nothing external to any of us that would control our own destinies, that which we have determined to be our path. It is only when you give up that to an external source. So, you see, you will encounter many, many entities who are at so many different points in their own balancing of Lightness and seriousness, and this is where you need to be careful.

You must, however, be cautious of allowing another entity to interfere with your own sense of balancing. Do not let another impose upon you, just as we would say you do not impose upon another. Be careful of another saying to you, "You work too much! You should play more. You should take a vacation." Well, you see, to one particular entity that work may be the balance. It may be the vacation, you see. And thus, it is a double-edged sword, being imposed upon and imposing. It is not an easy task.

Certain Energy Connections Astrologically Are Significant For Balancing Lightness And Darkness

Certain energy connections astrologically are significant for balancing of Lightness and darkness. You will find coming in under the sign that you have chosen, for example, my love, is one of seriousness. However, every astrological sign, as you would call it on the plane, has its serious side and its Light side. And thus, you can indeed become a lighthearted Virgo.

For me there is hope, huh?

You look to Mushiba for that.

Do Guides And Angelic Protectors Have The Same Issues With Lightness?

Oh, indeed, my son.

So would I, as a serious person, get a grumpy guide or ~ 😊

A most appropriate question. Yes, indeed, most appropriate question. You could. Yes. Understand that guides are assigned to help in whatever the issue happens to be in a particular series of incarnations or a specific incarnation, and that if you need to have, as you call it, a grumpy guide, to help you work through a particular issue in that series of lifetimes, so be it. All the guides are simply in a different training ground, you see. Some guides are still doing their sojourn on the earth plane, but when they are not on the earth plane, you know, they are in Guide School, and when they learn a certain lesson in Guide School, they come out and try to apply that lesson, that concept. And thus, it is an interactive type of situation.

Understand that your guides are not arbitrarily assigned to you. You choose your guides. You say to the leaders of Guide School, "This is what I need to learn." Now, there are no A-B-C's or D's given for learning. You simply learn as long as it takes to learn. You tell the teacher what you need to learn. You do not ~ are not told by the teacher, "This is what you will learn." Thus, you will say, "I need to have the learning of seriousness in the next ten incarnations on the earth plane. And in order to achieve the percentage of learning that I have determined on the earth plane, I need to exaggerate, and need two lifetimes where I am very, very serious." Now, you may then say, "Give me a guide who is at the other end of the teeter totter to help me to come to balance." Or you may say, "Give me a guide who is at the same level of learning, except at a greater awareness, that can help me to get through this lesson."

Remember that there is a Cycle of Learning of Lessons (See Transcript 04.17.1990), and each lesson goes through four different stages of learning. And so, it is determined at which stage of the learning you are as to what type of guide you will have, whether it is a guide who will ignore you, essentially, or so it is seeming to be ignored, or a guide who is very much involved.

Remember the first level of learning a lesson is that you come onto the plane and you have absolutely no assistance. And then, the next level is where you receive as much assistance as you need. And the next level, is that you begin to teach those who need help. And the final lesson is that you teach those who teach. And thus, the circle is complete. So, you see, it will be most dependent upon where you are in your own cycle. And, again, this is not some other entity's cycle, nothing external to Self ~ your own Energy Circle and your cycle of learning.

So, if you have a grumpy guide, it is your own fault. 😊

Waith, can we trade them in? 😊

Yes, you may. This is entirely your decision. It happens more of the rule than the exception, for as your own energies increase or change, so too do the needs that you have for guidance change, and the interconnection of other energies to Be of Service to you changes. It is most appropriate to have a continual changing of energies around yourself that respond to whatever your vibration happens to be at that point in time.

Allowing Your Guides To Be Of Service To You Is Part Of The Learning Process

Something you said earlier suggested that we may, at this level, be as much assistance to a guide as a guide is to us. Is that possible?

Oh, indeed. We have given considerable discussion on the interaction, the teaching and learning, and that ~ you know, we have said so often, guides cannot help you unless you ask. And we have often said, unless you ask us to help you, we are not allowed to do so. It is imposition. And thus, if you do not ask your guides for help, then you are not enabling that guide to learn the lessons that they have been assigned to learn as a guide, to Be of Service. And, you see, it is just that it is in different vibrational levels that a guide exists, that you exist. This is the earth plane. The guide is a guide to earth plane vibrations. When you are in other training grounds, guides are available to work within that vibration, but it is always an interaction.

You see, one of the paradoxes is that the goal is to learn to be totally Self-contained, that you need not have a use for anything external. However, it also means that, since we all come from the same source, we all need each other ~ and that when you hear an entity say, "I do not need anybody else," look carefully at that individual. And if you make that statement, look carefully. The balance is to be so Self-contained that allowing any entity to come into your vibration is no threat.

So, even though we can do something ourselves, we may be performing a service by simply asking for help in doing that very thing.

Yes. You know, and only you will know this. It is your own issues. If you feel, for example, that you are able to soothe your own aura and your own energy field, that is fine. It may also, however, be appropriate that, knowing that you can do this yourself and not feeling threatened by another who might be needing to learn to Be of Service, allow them to play with your energy field, for if you are able to control your own energy field, then another's moving into your energy field will not be a threat.

There is much here. Oh, there is so much complexity and yet so much simplicity, and it will evolve, much of this, during this coming year when we look at the very serious business of being Lighthearted.

If people are in charge of crystals, making sure that we get the right crystal, so to speak, what energies are in charge of giving out for Chinese cookies where there is little sayings in them? ☺

We have a baker here in The Angelics. ☺

Yeah. What happens if you do not get the saying in the cookie?

And if you do not get the saying in the cookie, it means that you have been a very bad entity.

Oh h h!

And we are just paying you back. You know, we like to play.

We want to know who to blame.

It is really much more fun to try and find someone or something else to blame, isn't it?

Where Are The Guides, And The Play, In Events Like In Somalia With Starvation Issues?

This is not meant to be a trick question. It is sincere. Where is the play, where are the guides, and why are events taking place where an eight old is emaciated, alone, and starving to death on the plains of Somalia?

Yes, indeed. We have addressed that issue. In fact, we have had another entity ask us a question quite similar to your question, and we would certainly not view it as any kind of trick question. There is for us, no concept of trick ~ for, you see, all that occurs on the plane is part of the lesson learning that entities and groups of entities have determined appropriate. Think back, or perhaps you would read what we said earlier in this session, that it may be that another appears not to have any play in their incarnation, for they are at an exaggerated state of their own balancing, and that, in order to bring themselves into balance, there must be an activity that is so serious, and according to earth plane perceptions, so heinous, that it allows their own energy to either learn or to teach others.

It is important to remember ~ and we have said this so often ~ we will reiterate on this again ~ that you do not know if an entity is teaching or learning, or some combination, and that oftentimes, when what appear to be terrible tragedies, terrible starvation and mass murders and all of this, is meant to bring a sense of enlightenment, a higher awareness, a greater understanding as a result of it. Certain entities specifically choose to come in and perform this. You know, unless you believe that energy is simply something that keeps coming back and playing a particular role, then, yes, it is difficult to accept that children are starving and others are ~ groups of entities are murdered in masses.

But this is the way of the earth plane. It is the way of many of the training grounds, not all of them, but certainly the earth plane, in which it is an accelerated training ground. Everything is exaggerated, including the play and including the seriousness ~ and to help others in learning their own issues of gentleness, of service, it provides an opportunity for some, who would so choose, to become involved in that particular activity that is upsetting to you, and to either Be of Service or to allow yourself to be taught by an entity, or group of entities, certain spiritual as well as earth plane issues.

Can We Ask Our Guides To Give Assistance To Other People In Need?

It is a most tricky situation, you see. In fact, the issue of sending of Light is, in its concept, or could be, an imposition, if you try to force another to receive help. Rather, what you can do is to ask your guides to be available to Be of Service if another entity so requires and so asks. It is a very difficult situation for any of us to simply barge in and help out. We must be asked. There are rare situations in which The Angelics are allowed to impose upon any of you. However, guides are not allowed to do this, and a guide, in fact, would have to go back to Guide School very quickly and relearn that particular lesson before being allowed to come back as a guide. So, the answer to that is yes, as long as it is done with nonjudgement, for who is any of us to determine that another needs our help unless we are asked?

We are certainly able to give out information. We give out information. We do not tell you this is what you should do. In fact, we stress quite the opposite. You seek out the knowledge and you synthesize from all that you hear, that which becomes appropriate for Self.

And thus, it would be appropriate, then, if you see another in what you think is need, to say to your guides, "Please keep an eye out, and if it appears that there might be some help needed, be ready," and then to simply send in a thoughtform or, in some cases, right at earth plane level, to an entity and say, "You know, I have just contacted my guides and if you need any help, they are available also," and leave it up to that individual to make the decision.

It is the same as the sending of the White Light. We send to each of you the very Highest of the White Light, but we do not impose it upon you. We simply bring it in and lay it here. If you want it, you can take it. ☺ If you do not, fine.

The Possibility Of Someone Asking For Help At A Higher Level Rather Than Consciously

The question of someone asking for help is one that is a puzzle for me, because I am wondering if that is limited to simply speaking up and saying, "Would you help me?" Would that be a case ~ I am thinking of myself, for example, if I learn certain techniques and I see someone who is obviously in need and is a friend and expressing the pain of a physical problem to me, but not necessarily physically asking me to do something. Can I still take that as a request for help?

Well, you know, this becomes, again, rather complex, for oftentimes, the call for help comes at a higher level, not at the physical level ~ and thus, it becomes your own balancing issues, once again, as to understanding whether you feel you have received a call from a higher level. It all goes back to being in tune with Self and being able to receive the answers from your own meditations so that you would feel comfortable in responding, for you can say from your meditations, "I have received a request at a higher level and not at the conscious level, but certainly at a higher level."

What Happens If You Read Yourself Wrong And Impose Upon Another?

Now, what happens if you read yourself wrong? What happens, indeed? You are not banished to this place called hell. There is no such thing. What you are banished to is your own Self, for you have not learned yet. You have not quite gotten the hang of the balance of that particular issue. And as we said earlier, you indicate what it is you want to learn. You are not graded on what you have learned. It is simply, "Well, I guess I did not learn that one. I have to go back and try again until I finally learn it."

Many of you know, it takes a lot of different situations before you think you have finally learned it. The Universe keeps sending it back in a different little package. It looks a little different, but it is the same. And then you finally say, "Ah, I have learned it." And then you begin to feel a little smug and complacent about it. ☺ The Universe says, "Nah, now, we are going to see where your learning curve is. Did you really learn it?" It comes back again. And periodically, you know, it does. You are sent back an opportunity to prove that you have truly learned an issue, even when you have given closure to an issue. It is all part of the fun. For you know, you may reopen the issue. It happens. Then you start all over again.

And so, you see, it is the quest, as we have said so often, to learn, that is more important. It is the desire to progress. It is when you become obstinate and consciously abusive ~ "I will abuse my powers, my abilities. I will not progress." When you consciously block at whatever level that consciousness happens to be, that is when the difficulties become, for you are stalled, then, in your learning. So, just keep at it. Do not be afraid of not doing it right. Be concerned that you are doing something. Do the very best of your abilities, for each of you gets better with practice, better and better. It is when you do not try to improve that you face your own Self in ways that you may not like. But then that is all part of learning lessons also.

And being stalled in your learning of lessons is part of learning your lessons. And it is all right to be stalled, for you eventually will get out of it ~ for, you know, you have eternity. There is no timetable that says you have to get back to The One at a certain point. You may never go back to The One. We have entities out there who have been there for eternity. They do not want to go back. It is fine.

Can You Dream In Color? And If So, Is That A Dream From Your Guides?

Oh, indeed, you can dream in color. We have given some preliminary discussions of dreams and what it is all about, which you might find interesting to read, my love. We plan in this year to go into a discussion further of dreams, for it is part of the ways in which one can balance the play and the seriousness. So, yes, you can dream in color, and it is not necessarily something that comes from your own guides, but rather, it is coming from Self, and that one would need to connect with a particular color in order for that dream to be effective, or to perform the service that it is meant to perform.

Why Is This Year Important To Learn The Balance Of Seriousness And Lightheartedness?

Why not? ☺

What I am getting at is, is the earth plane going through some sort of time when there is a lot of seriousness and we must be conscious of this balancing?

Well, you know, the cleansing for this illusion has been occurring, as we have said before, for approximately three to five hundred earth plane years. This is the final spitting up, if you will ~ and there have been other times on the plane in which information has come through from our end that relates to Lightheartedness and the balance. It may be presented in a way different from the way we are presenting it. We simply chose to go into a playtime environment because of certain events that are going to occur in this earth plane year, that, if you buy into the illusion, you would be most serious and most distressed about. If you are able to see a higher purpose for all that is occurring, then it will help you to maintain your own balance.

There are many who will leave the earth plane in this earth plane year, for their issues of seriousness versus playtime have really taken over and they are not going to stay for The New Illusion. They have decided that it is time to leave. This earth plane year will see significant group departures, in all of the kingdoms, not just The Human Kingdom. And thus, it seemed to be an appropriate time to bring in Lightheartedness.

Various Questions About What It Will Be Like In The New Illusion

- ⚙️ Can you give us a fun tidbit about another change that will occur after the cleansing? 😊 You said there would be no golden arches. Can you give us another one?
- ⚙️ No chocolate candy.
- ⚙️ No o o. 😊

The chocolate will certainly be replaced by another more appropriate addiction. The New Illusion, you know, we have said this so often, is not this panacea of "Oh, we will clean out all the muck from this illusion and we will go into this time of utopia." All the lessons, all the issues, all the addictions will still be there. They will just look different. That is all. Each illusion looks different. You are already seeing. It is not a dramatic HERE TODAY AND ANOTHER ONE TOMORROW. You are seeing changes in the illusion that have been occurring during the past three to five hundred earth plane years. There is much that has occurred that your scientists have not recorded.

For example, in the weather patterns, they indicate, "Well, you know, all the times that we have been keeping records, this has not occurred." Or, "This has occurred, and there is really nothing going on here that will not settle back in." They have no frame of reference to the beginning of the illusion and the weather patterns and the middle of the illusion, for that has been blocked.

The weather in The New Illusion will be most ~ as you call it ~ the weather will be most interesting. The sky as you now know it will be a different color. And those ~ and it has begun already, the change in color, and it will be something that simply happens. It will not be that, today, you know, you have a blue sky and tomorrow you wake up and it is black as its normal color. It will be a gradual changeover in which it will be most normal for you to adopt to. So we would say, then, that the sky is not going to be blue.

Will we have to rewrite all the songs? 😊

That is easily achieved, you know. You simply put in the new color. You will have new words to rhyme.

Waith, you have mentioned that The New Illusion will not be a utopia. You also mentioned that when a New Illusion starts, it is better than the past one because of the cleansing, and then it kind of declines. I was trying to put those in perspective. It seems like they contradict each other.

Well, you see, each illusion has its design for the addressing of particular issues. And when a new illusion begins, it is purer, if you will, than the illusion that has just concluded. And it takes approximately, as measured on the plane, one thousand earth plane years for all of the little issues to kick in. And, you know, the issues of tolerance and patience are at a high level in The New Illusion as compared to the former illusion.

They are at a higher level. However, as you go through the illusion, it finds its level, and the levels, then, for lesson learning, are of a different nature than they were in the prior illusion. Therefore, it takes time for the energy to start taking on its own life.

You know, in Atlantis, for example, it started off as a very primitive illusion and very rapidly, in terms of earth plane time, reached the level of mind control, for one thing, that was necessary in that illusion. When The Atlantean Illusion comes back again, you know, another little less than one million earth plane years, it will start off the same way and achieve its same level. So, you see, each illusion has its role to play. We will discuss, as we talk about playtime, much more where The New Illusion is concerned. A little enticement.

Where To You Get Your Wisdom? What Is It Like Where You Are? Can one achieve This Wisdom?

I am just sitting here and wondering, how long do you come through this body and channel, or whatever it is you do? I am sitting here listening to you and thinking, how many years have you been doing this? And where do you get the wisdom? And when you die, do you instantly get the wisdom to know what you are saying? And have you met God?

We have given quite a description of ourselves when we first began entering through the vibration of Mushiba, and we have, as an energy, always been a part of The Angelic Kingdom. We have not gone beyond that kingdom. And as we have said so often, it is a matter of choice what an entity wants to do. We have always Been of Service within The Angelic Kingdom. I did start out as what you call a Cherub. I was a very little angel, rather errant at times. ☺ Hard to believe. I owe my responsibilities, if you will, to that energy that is most commonly known as Amelius. Amelius ~ the energies that came out of Amelius have been commonly known as the Jesus entity as well as other significant energies who have come in at particular points on the earth plane to raise awarenesses.

There have been occasions when I have incarnated on the earth plane with Mushiba, and only with her ~ there have been no other times, and it has been ~ for I am The Angelic Protector of Mushiba ~ to assist in certain situations. I have no wisdom as such. There is nothing instant about my wisdom. I simply have availability to information at a very high level, but it is information that is not unavailable to any entity. If your own searching for awareness continues, then each of you has the ability to, as we say, tap into The Universal Consciousness, which is where all of the information is stored.

I have the ability to tap in at a very high level. That did not just come to me. That was not just handed to me. It was part of the mission that I took on to Be of Service within The Angelics, to Be of Service. What I have for information is available to any entity if they so choose to work to achieve that awareness.

So where do you go from here?

Good question. I have been asking that.

Just hang around. I mean, what do you do when you leave this body? Do you just hang out?

Yes. You know, we have been asked that question before. ☺ What do we do when we are not here with Mushiba?

Yeah, I want to know.

We have a little house and we watch television and sort of hang out. ☺ We do have a remote control that we like to click and tune into all the little scenarios that are going on in all the training grounds to see who is after who, and who is doing what, and, you know, it is like a little soap opera. That is how we amuse ourselves.

We also have a higher directive, of course. We are of The Angelics, which means that we are the defenders of the Light and the dark, and there is far more to what we do than simply coming in for an hour or so to talk with all of you. This is a very minor part of our mission. We are here to help in the transition into The New Illusion. This is done predictably when each new illusion that comes on the plane occurs. It is being done by many now coming from various levels in awareness, speaking either as I do, coming through another, or filtering in through the Higher Self of an entity.

All of the information that comes through is valid in any particular way and is geared toward a particular audience, and if someone would hear our words and feel that it is appropriate for them, then so be it. If they feel it not to be appropriate for them, then so be it also, for the quest is for information that is appropriate to you at your own path, your own level on the path. And there is no imposition. There is no one truth. The truth comes from within Self. That is the one truth and therefore, ultimately, The Universal Consciousness.

We will go back and have a beer and take our wings off. ☺ It is not beer, actually. It is something similar to. It is an energy boost. ☺ Gets the old energies sort of fluffed out ever ~ what do you call it? Mellow. Mellowed out. Mellowed out.
