Open Discussion ~ Organized Religion

We are gathered with you in this particular session to have an open discussion of what you call organized religion, and to give perhaps some insights to many of you as to what has occurred from illusion to illusion in this area called organized religion. Each illusion has its own name for the occurrence that you call now on the plane, organized religion. Understand that it is all part of the training ground of the earth plane and that simply because you may find yourselves in what you call spiritual growth, and therefore feel not the need for formal religion, is no reason to give negation to that which is organized religion, for we would dissect for you here this phrase ORGANIZED RELIGION.

Organized. Now, there is a favorite word. Many on the plane come in to work on their sense of organizing. And The Universe itself is perfectly organized, as you would call it, organized. Perfect. Religion is simply a translation in your current vernacular that has its roots as spiritual ~ organized spiritual thought. Now, what is wrong with that? Not a thing. And that is how it all starts, you see. It starts as a small group who come to gather to discuss spiritual ideals, just as you all gather. Whether you gather with us when we speak, or whether you gather in your own homes with several others, you speak of spiritual ideas. You speak of the concepts that you learn from many sources external to Self, as well as the insights that you gain internal.

Now. It begins in a small manner and it then begins to grow as more and more seek out discussions. And soon comes the need for order ~ organization ~ for as you know, The Universe requires complete order, and that when chaos occurs, and chaos in a positive manner is always the situation, then it means that this is the indicator for things to be placed into certain spots, if you will.

And thus, the order and the organization begins of the group, for it grows larger and must have some type of organization to it. And as the group grows in number, so too does the diversity of ideas. The similarities that brought the group originally together are beginning now to disperse and beginning to spread out as the group grows larger. And as those who founded the group begin to leave the earth plane, and leave then the continuance of their spiritual group, so too are the ideas diluted over time. And soon into the group of ideas comes new forms of communication unknown to the original group ~ as you would call it language. And with language differences, then come interpretations that are different, for they know not that they have interpreted different from the original. And thus, it goes on and it goes on.

And as the group grows larger and more diverse, and older, it needs more organization, and its roots begin to spread very, very, very far. And thus, you see then even greater dilution. As the roots spread further and further away from that which is the core, it creates the dilution, until eventually this group becomes so large and its similarities now are in the minority to the differences, that it becomes necessary for a cleansing. And a cleansing indeed does occur. It is a predictable behavior of energy groupings that it reaches just so large a size, and it must then come back to its original form, its roots, so that it can begin all over again doing this spreading and growing until it reaches the point of largeness, and it brings itself back into a spiritual core and then brings itself back, back and forth, you see. And all along the way in this growth from the core to the very large arena are the opportunities that are presented as part of the training ground of the earth plane for each entity who has incarnated onto the plane, for each take on many different lessons relating to spiritual values.

And thus, it is critical that all of those organized religions that exist currently on the plane, and that have existed in this illusion, be given their due respect, for they serve a purpose, and each who incarnates on the plane finds themselves having to incarnate into a particular point in the development of any number of these spiritual groupings now referred to as religions. It does not take much to make a group of entities with a single value and a single thought, develop that into THE TRUTH ~ THE RELIGION. "This is the way. We have found the way." This is a predictable behavior. It is absolutely essential as part of the training ground rules of the earth plane. The fact that it becomes diluted over time is not even an issue. It is expected. It is part of the path. And many issues of patience and judgement are at play when it comes to organized religion and spiritual awarenesses.

Many now on the plane, and you have met many of them, have a sense of superiority. It matters not what religion or spiritual focus they have, but they have a sense of superiority. And it is becoming even more prevalent among those who claim to be seeking the greater awarenesses outside of the confines of organized religion, that they are truly enlightened, and that if someone is in an organized religion that they truly cannot be enlightened. This is judgemental and unacceptable thought patterns. And it is that arrogance that creates an imbalance in an entity who may express those thoughts, just as an entity in any religion would express thoughts of superiority to another. It creates an imbalance.

It is meant, each of these religions, to bring about greater harmony and to understand that there is no one truth, and yet there is only one truth. The one truth is The Universal Consciousness, and from that all else flows, and that each energy that comes from The Universal Consciousness makes up The Universal Consciousness, and therefore we are all One. That is the truth. Everything else that comes from that one truth is meant for lessons to bring each of us back into The Universal Consciousness. And each religion starts out with the truth, that we are all One. Somewhere along the line, groups determine that they are more One than others, and thus, the hostilities begin to occur.

And you understand that issues of ego are very much built onto the earth plane. It is critical. This is an advanced training ground, and therefore, issues of ego and tolerance and patience and judgement, all meant to bring you to Unconditional Love, are necessary for your growth. And thus it is that the purity is the Universal Truth of Oneness, and it is very easy to get back to that purity. But of course, it is very easy to say it is very easy to get back.

You each have taken on in other times roles of ministry, many of you, along your path, in different spiritual groupings. Remember that each entity has its purpose, even those who you would be quick to criticize who speak through the electronic media now currently on the plane. Be not quick in your judgements. Understand the role that all have in the return to The Universal Consciousness and that we are all part of that path.

Now. We would like to have perhaps some conversation, as you might want to explore perhaps ideas relating to specifics in organized religion.

Symbols Used In The Catholic Religion ~ Discussion Of Christianity And Jesus

In the Catholic religion, the Eucharist is a big focus, and it is spoken of as the body and the blood. Could you elaborate on the significance of it being flesh and blood?

Yes, indeed. It is very critical on the earth plane that there be concrete symbols to aid those along their path of spiritual awareness. When you reach a certain point of understanding in your path back to The One, the need for concrete symbols diminishes. And thus, however, for those who are just starting their journey along a particular path, it is critical that they see concreteness that they are truly on the right path.

Thus, in the religion that began simply as Christianity, and then of course had to, by its definition, sprout new roots, you know, there needed to be an identification with the entity who came in known as Jesus. In the time frame in which he entered in, it was difficult to accept abstraction. And he was presenting very, very abstract ideas, and he was given, on an earth plane time, a limited amount of time to get his point across. He had to get back and do other things.

And thus, in order to give a human quality to that which was difficult to grasp in that time frame, they took that which was considered the substance of their life, which was the bread, or the manna, as it was referred to then, and it symbolized the body. It symbolized the encasement itself. And it also symbolized what at that time could be understood as the life within the body, which was blood. It is another symbol for energy.

However, they were not able to understand energy at that time in their evolution. It was not at that time, when introduced, that this bread was in the shape of a circle, that it was round, as you now have come to know it. That later evolved as the understanding of Oneness began to creep in. And as they began to understand in more concrete forms, that message that came through, they were able to give it a frame of reference. And thus, the symbol has maintained itself as a part of the history of the development of the religion.

It is, however, also necessary for those who need to have that symbolism ~ who are currently incarnated on the plane. It serves a most significant, valuable and useful symbolism, and draws the focus, almost as if it were a meditation to the entity who takes it into the encasement. They may not want to admit that they are meditating, for many would dispute this idea of meditation, but for even a brief moment there is a complete focus on that symbol, and that brings the entity into a Self focus for even a slightest moment in time. And that can be beneficial for that particular entity in ways that proportionately serve the same benefit to another who may meditate for hours on end, you see. Understand proportionate is the key word here. Religions have all developed their symbols to help the followers of the concepts to have a frame of reference and to better understand the abstract.

A Discussion Of The History Of Killing Others Who Do Not Follow Another's Religion

Throughout history, there has been a lot of different religions, and it has been documented that certain religions killed others who do not follow their religion. Is this a form of cleansing? And with other religions, like witchcraft and druidism and satanic religions, how do you know which religion is right for you to follow?

Ah. You have lumped a number of questions into that.

I tried to think of a way to put it all.

Yes. Let us sort out a bit these questions. First of all, the killing aspect, as you refer to it, and whether it is a cleansing ~ remember that as an entity evolves, there is a shedding of the old energy, and therefore, there is a cleansing as you move into a higher awareness and a higher energy, so there is always a cleansing. Each energy, as it grows, is continually cleaning itself.

In order for growth to occur, there must be imbalances that occur. We have talked of this so often ~ that you must have the exaggerations like the teeter totter in order to balance, and that killing, as you refer to it, is part of that teeter totter effect, to bring balance, and that if one is killed by another, it is a balancing that is occurring. You often may not know whether you needed to balance with the entity or the entity needed to balance with you, or there was a mutual balancing.

Love And Hate Are Not Opposites Of Each Other

Religions, you know, are designed to bring out emotion. And one of the most powerful emotions available on the earth plane is that which you call hate, and it is thought by many that hate is the opposite of love. It is not. Love does not have an opposite. There are only gradations of it, so that one has the capacity for love. It may not be the highest capacity. It may be very, very conditional love, but the opposite of love is not hate, and the opposite of hate is not love. Hate is of itself an emotion. There are gradations of it until it dilutes itself. And thus, this particular emotion finds a very fertile forum in the issue of religion. It is one in which many entities find themselves able to work through and rid themselves of this emotion of hate.

And religion, also, is the powerhouse, if you will, of Unconditional Love, for it is where the spiritual values are housed. And thus, the two work hand in hand. It is often therefore thought that they are flip sides of each other. However, love is the Light and hate is the dark. And as you know, the Light eventually wins, and the Light eventually will clean out and make the dark pure. This is all that is occurring in religions. It is a fertile ground for working through that particular issue. It is predictable. It is planned by an entity that you will go in, and certain issues will be worked through. And in the name of religion, many wars have been fought. You know, it is a most powerful emotion.

Now, in terms of all of the many religions, there are many that have gone by the side, if you will, that you are not aware of, in just the ten thousand years since the last illusion of Atlantis. What you are familiar with now are those that were necessary for you to be familiar with for this changing illusion. Whether or not one is right, or not, for you is for you to determine.

What is correct for one may not of course be correct for another, and while it may appear that a particular religion has more negatives and more darkness to it than Light, understand that it serves a purpose in the balancing that an entity must take on. And once that purpose is served for the numbers of entities who need it as part of their concreteness on the earth plane, it disappears. It no longer serves that purpose. That is why many religions have disappeared, for they no longer are needed.

Some other grouping has come in to take their place. And the only way that you will know if it is right for you is to try it and see how it feels. And if it does not feel right, then it is not for you, you see. And oftentimes, an entity may stay in a particular religion, or energy grouping of spiritual thought, for an entire lifetime, even though they would feel it not correct, and upon departure from the life would evaluate it at that time. It may be that they are not able to truly evaluate while they are at the conscious level, and that is appropriate also, you see.

Can One Combine Different Thoughts From Different Religions?

Oh, one would want to, my son. This is why there are so many religions, you see, for an entity would indeed say, "I like what this religion has to say, and I like what this religion has to say, but I do not want to be part of either of those two groups, so I will form my own new group." And thus it is, and the group grows, and the group organizes, and becomes diverse. And someone else then says, "I like what is in this religion partially, and I like what comes from another religion partially, and so I am going to go off and form my own religion."

And periodically on the earth plane, The Universal Consciousness sends in highly evolved energies to keep things on course, and the leaders of these religions that you have become so familiar with are those energies, highly evolved, who come from the energies of each of the five who run The Universe, as it currently is configured. And so, you must ~ we have encouraged from the moment we have begun speaking through ~ to seek out as much information as you can and to form then your own beliefs as they are best suited for Self. It is critical to the growth.

Is There A Way To Know What Jesus Actually Said?

You mentioned all the dilution of information. In Christianity, for example, there is probably nine thousand translations of the New Testament. Is there any way to find out what Jesus actually said?

Not anymore. It is very important to understand that if it were meant for the world now currently in existence to know exactly what it was that Jesus said, you would have it. Part of the lessons to be learned is in the very fact that information that comes through changes over time because of translations. It is not so important to know what exactly he said. The only thing that is important to know is that he started with the Universal Truth of Oneness. That is what he said. Everything else is hearsay, because he is not here to tell you that it is the truth ~ what he said. So, even those who reported directly from what he said, heard what he said in a way that was different.

The dilution began even among those who were his closest followers. That is the way in which it happens, my loved ones. It is only if there is a recording, such as we have, ☺ that captures all the pearls of wisdom. Understand that even that which we give out for information now will dilute over time, for in The New Illusion, when The Shifting occurs, there will be the loss of much of the original pearls of wisdom that have come through ~ much to Limer's distress.

What will remain will be the written word, as you call them, the transcripts, so that the original recording of that, up to The Shift, will be lost. And then, eventually, gleefully after Mushiba leaves the earth plane, then the translations will begin, and it will be like any other type of information that has evolved over time. There will be translations. Even now, many of you in discussing what we have said, misinterpret. You hear it different from the way it is said. But that, my loved ones, is necessary. That is all part of the plan. That is to get you questioning. That is to get you moving along your path in whatever your path might be ~ to help you to grow.

Growth occurs only by trying something and not having it work. Once you try it and you see that it does not work, then you improve it so that it does work, and then it is time to try something new. And that is the way growth occurs. If everyone understood everything, why would you all be here? You would be back in The Universal Consciousness. So, do not be so concerned about he said/she said, but rather to look to the essence of what was said. Do not take what was said verbatim as THE TRUTH but look to the essence. Look to The One as the truth.

Discussion Of Powerful Buildings, Like The Sistine Chapel And The Dome In Cologne

There are some magnificent buildings, such as the Sistine Chapel, or the Dome in Cologne, or the one in France, and I understand that many of them are built with very geometric alignment and are power spots.

Imagine that.

Living close by in Germany to the Dome in Cologne, it is such a circus going on in there. Does it still have any effect that, for example, spending time in a building like that? Or would one be better to sit at home meditate, tuning into that kind of structure?

Well, you know, my love, it goes back again to where you are in your particular evolvment and why the need for meditation is so critical to be in touch with your own energy and the answers to that. For some entities, that type of environment is very important to their growth, and for others, it would now be disharmonious to their energies. So, you must be careful of the judgements, you see. Your question has a judgement in it that, "Well, this is perhaps not a very good environment anymore." Well, perhaps for some entities it is not, but that is not a negative if it is a harmonious environment for another. And thus, look at each energy grouping as harmonious for someone. It may not be for you.

Where Is Heaven? ~ Heaven Is In Your Hearts. Heaven Is The Love You Hold For Self

And thus it is with religion that the dividing lines are drawn. You know, if you belong to one religion, then you are able to go to heaven! And if you do not belong to that religion, then you do not go to heaven. And if you ~ wherever that is. We have not found it yet. Supposedly, we inhabit heaven, but I am not quite sure of that ~ where it is. Heaven is in your own hearts, my loves. Heaven is the love that you hold for Self. It is not dictated by a religion, as a spot up in the sky ~ though Saint Peter has been out looking for a job these days. ☺

Are The Five Who Run The Universe Currently Active On The Earth Plane?

The five who run The Universe are not active on the earth plane. Their emissaries are active. They do not come onto the earth plane. Amelius, for example, who is our commander and runs this particular portion of The Universe, sent out as an emissary that who was known as Jesus, and would not be able to physically take on a form. There is an occasional popping in, if you will, where it is needed, and they each do that. However, they are all now in the mode of illusion change, which is keeping them quite busy, actually, and they have enough ~ all of us are actually their emissaries ~ all. All are part in some way from each of the five. Thus, in the frame in which you asked the question, my son, they are not active participants in the current illusion on the plane. They will be active at the time of The Shift.

Do their emissaries correspond to the great world religions?

You must understand that these religions would not exist if it were not for the emissaries. They are the ones who are designated to bring about what you call the Great World Religions. Every illusion has their own great religions. No religion is any greater than another, however. Understand that. It is only in the minds of those who run those religions that they are greater than another.

Do Other Civilizations In Other Galaxies Have Their Own Religion

Are there civilizations in other galaxies with their own religions? And if so, do their religions correspond to ours? And how does this all tie in with the UFO phenomena?

The earth plane ~ and we have touched on this ~ not in the depth to which we will in the future ~ is composed of many different planets, as we have discussed. It is not just Planet Earth. And so, the earth plane as a training ground has many planets that have not even been consciously observed by you on the Planet Earth. And each of those other planets have lifeforms, and energy exists. Energy Exists in everything. And whenever there is energy, there is the tendency to organize. And wherever there is an organization of thought, you can be certain that there is a religion. And thus it would not be perhaps a religion that you would have a frame of reference for in your conscious state here on the earth plane, but it is certainly a religion by any definition.

Other galaxies within The Universe are part of other training grounds different from the earth plane, and it is an issue that we intend to go into further on during our stay here with all of you on the earth plane. Currently, however, we have other information to bring through to lay groundwork for that type of information. But religion is a common denominator on training grounds. Religion as a frame of reference ~ as you would call it here on the earth plane ~ groupings of spiritual thought is the best way to frame it. And, yes, that exists in every training ground everywhere, and is the basis for growth. Very, very good question, my son.

What Is The Holy Spirit?

The Holy Spirit is, again, my love, a symbol to represent the energy that is unbounded by those who are The Universal Consciousness. It is a very abstract and difficult concept to comprehend by many on the plane. And indeed, the continued use of the symbol of the Holy Spirit gives comfort to many who try to in some way explain the fact that there can be more than one form coming from an energy.

Now, we have gone through, in many sessions, discussions of lifelines and all these different sproutings that come from energy, and that an energy has the ability ~ it may not have developed it but does have the ability ~ to be in more than one place at the same time. And the Holy Spirit is a symbol of the multitude of energy potential, and it very easily helped explain during the time of Jesus, his ability to come back from the dead ~ so called ~ that there was some higher force ~ the Father, the Son and, as many would call it, the Holy Spook. ☺ It is an attempt to bring harmony into something, and wholeness, a family unit, if you will, and that all energy is able to disperse, and all energy is in itself One. You see, it all returns back to The One. Energy is One. So, it is no mysterious type of concept. It is simply an attempt to bring a stronger frame of reference. It started out in a different form than it has turned out to be, which is necessary. It evolved as the needs of the earth plane required it to evolve. All evolves as the needs require.

I am still not fully understanding the feeling, though, or how that comes through to a person, and they are able to do things such as healings ~ and it is a sensation as well as an ideology.

My love, understand that that which you feel is Self. It is the expansion of your own energy. Nothing happens to any of you external. No energy comes in and takes over. There is planned energy exchanges, such as Mushiba allows with my energy to come through, but that is not what you speak of. When an entity feels a healing energy, it is Self that is doing that. You feel Self. And the symbolism of the Holy Spirit is representative of Self, of The One, of the ability to expand in your own energies and to do more than one thing at a time, you see. So, you are healing at one level, and at another level, doing something else with your energies, and thus, you feel the sensation of fullness.

We are preparing to depart. We do not want to overload you with too much information. We want you to digest that which you have heard and to discuss it among yourselves and then to return for additional questions. We are always happy to give whatever clarification on muddiness that we can ~ for there is much on the plane ~ and our attempt is to support perhaps that which you already sense as an answer and to give you greater understanding that ultimately it all goes back to The One, and that is the purity, and that is the prime Universal Truth.

So, as we depart, my loved ones, we give you a fluffing energy to keep you lighthearted and happy, as best as you can, and to remember that the earth plane is an illusion, as is all, to keep that in mind as you live the illusion. You are all fluffed. We send to you now the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.
