Open Questions Session

We thought we would sit down once again in this session with you. We miss rocking. It is much fun, you know. It bounces the energy a bit. It makes it fluffy. And it is important to stay fluffy, not to become too serious. We, in our entrance into the vibration this time, felt a sense of seriousness with some of the entities gathered in this session, and we would want to fluffy you. Remember to stay fluffy. Fluffy is very important. We would like you to do one thing for us now before we begin the open questions. We would like you all to laugh. (The group laughs) Again. Not too bad. One more time. Much better. Much better. Now then, this of course is an opportunity for questions of general interest to be asked. And we are now prepared to take those questions. (There is a long silence) We have one hour to sit here and rock. ☺

A Discussion Of Cross Pollination Of The Animal And Human Kingdoms In Atlantis

I read a book by Ruth Montgomery where she talks about the life in Atlantis, and her guides were emphasizing the fact that on Atlantis, there was a time period when there were beings that were a combination of human being and animals. And she elaborates on this subject very much in detail. And I was very surprised because genetically it is actually not possible.

Oh, indeed! ☺ Our scientist has returned to the gathering. I am going to have much fun in this session.

I was in the Louvre in Paris a couple of weeks ago and I saw a sarcophagus built by the Roman and the Greek, and you could see animals/human beings on this, among people. You could see a ghost head with an animal body, or sheep with human being heads. In talking to some people, they said this is all imagination. Can you make a comment to this?

We are already on the record, my son, for this discussion quite, quite some time ago. We gave quite a bit of information on the Atlantean time. What occurred in Atlantis was part of the testing for the abuse of power that came about in that time frame in the illusion of Atlantis. It actually occurred. It was not anyone's imagination. And it was indeed a rather dramatic testing of the abilities to control what we can best describe as electromagnetic fields between two kingdoms, as we refer to them, any of The Animal Kingdom, The Human Kingdom, The Mineral Kingdom. There have been other illusions in which combinations of kingdoms have occurred. The documented one that has been allowed to be now given out for information to those of you in the illusion currently relates to the Human and The Animal Kingdom.

What you have experienced in your own Atlantean time, my son, is relating to your skepticism in this particular area, which of course we will not elaborate on in a Public Session, which is perhaps a clue to you that you are long overdue for a private discussion with us.

As the current illusion is concluding, there are examples of cross kingdom pollination, as you would call it. You think nothing of what you call the cross pollination of various species with others, and think nothing, for you are The Human Kingdom. You are the all-powerful kingdom. Or so you think. When it comes to your own kingdom being cross pollinated with another, especially what you consider the lower kingdom of the animal, which of course is not the case, you are highly indignant that this occurs.

In the Atlantean time, this particular practice created great mind control issues, for those who are able to create the combination were also those who had tremendous abilities of mind control and were able then to control the behavior of the cross species, if you will. And it brings in an entirely difficult discussion in a Public Session to give, for there is much detail. The entity of whom you speak, who writes this information, comes from a very valid source, as we have placed on the record before. Her information comes from a very high source, and it is her source that is meant to give the type of detail that is being presented. We can certainly provide fill-in information as it is needed. But to say that anything is impossible, my love, you must know better by now. In these Public Sessions you open yourself up to my discussions with you.

Could You Elaborate On The Planet/Star Sirius And Its Influence With An Energy Vortex?

We have not discussed it as yet, my love, and we have had other attempts to inquire about certain alignments currently presenting themselves that relate to The Shifting, and as yet we are now allowed to give that information. We will give that as soon as the alignments are complete. The path of these particular energies involved in this planet need to come to their own closure, as you can understand.

What we can say, however, is that there is tremendous realignments occurring that are working with the current twelve master pyramids that encircle the energy of the current illusion and that will help in the transfer of the energy and the information for the twelve new master structures that will control the encircling of the energy for The New Illusion. And this planet of which you speak is a part of that realignment. And it is creating some rather interesting energy exchanges currently, as many of you may be feeling and experiencing.

Does this have like an importance for the feminine energy also?

That is a very good try, my love. We are not allowed to go into that type of detail as yet, only because the issues of gender are going to be a bit different in The New Illusion than they are in the current illusion. That will be discussed as it becomes time for that information to be discussed. Once some of the paranoia about current gender issues subsides a bit, then we will give information to soothe and heal relating to gender.

The Exaggeration Of The Battles Of Light And Dark At The End Of An Illusion

In the past we were not bombarded with so many negative energies in the media, in newspapers, magazines. But now, the violence and hatred around us seem to be thrown in our face every day. Could you comment about why this is happening?

Yes, my love. What is occurring is a natural phenomenon at the end of any illusion in which exaggerations occur. There is a very significant battle waged between the dark and the Light at the end of an illusion. We have not given this battle much public discussion as yet, only focusing on the minor battles with the dark that occur. However, there is a major battle currently occurring and that will accelerate as the illusion comes to closure. What you are seeing then is what we can best describe as a residual to the attacks, and to the battle, and that it is the time when the Light and the dark meet each other head on in the physical as well as in the spirit, and that at times it appears that the dark is winning. The dark does not win. They just never win. They may appear to gain ground but the Light always prevails.

However, what you are experiencing now is seeing an onslaught by the dark. And the Light is simply holding its ground and preparing for its own defense against the dark. It will subside, for when The Shifting occurs, it will bring equilibrium to the energy, and the battle will have been completed, at least for a short time frame, as you know it on the earth plane.

This is an expected behavior, my love. As the energy of the earth plane, and all that inhabit the earth plane comes to closure, exaggerations occur that the dark are able to grab onto and give acceleration to, to make it appear that it is far worse than it actually is ~ that there is doomsday occurring, and that all is terrible, and there is no hope. This is absolutely untrue, for just the opposite is the case. No matter how the dark would try, they do not win. We tell them this to their face and they simply do not believe us. They keep trying. We keep showing them proof that we win all the time. They keep saying "No, we are going to try again." They do not get it, as they say on the earth plane now. Yes, that is a phrase? So, do not be disheartened, my love. Simply continue in your own light filled way to enhance your own life, each of you, and as you enhance your own light filled life, it will have an effect upon those around you.

To attempt to make great and massive changes to large numbers of people is not the goal. The goal is to make change within Self, for then that change has the ripple effect upon others, and that is the way in which massive change eventually occurs. It must start within Self. And not to allow the negativity that is around you to take hold of you and to convince you that, yes, it is a terrible place. Rather, say, "No, it is not," and laugh, as I had you all laugh a while ago. Laugh at it all. The dark cannot stand to be laughed at. The dark cannot stand to be ignored. Ignore the dark and see what happens. They get very upset. Laugh at the dark and watch what happens. They get very upset. And even though we tell them to their face what it is we are doing to dispel them, they do not believe us, and they continue to attempt their work. We laugh at the dark. We ignore the dark. And at the same time, we are here to bring the dark into the Light, and that is what they fear the most.

Why do they fear it, Waith?

The dark fears the Light for the Light does not feed the ego. The dark has as its prime directive the feeding of the ego in a way that creates abuse. And ego is still present in the Light. Ego of course exists outside of The One. We have talked of this in Public Session. It is critical to have ego, for that is strength of Self ~ that is Respect of Self. It is the abuse of ego, the manipulation of those around you, that create abuse of ego. The dark presents a rather glamorous life to the ego. It presents a sense of power. And the dark knows that the Light does not abuse ego ~ that the Light SIMPLY IS and does not need to be helped from external sources.

The dark needs to be helped from external sources in order to maintain itself. It needs to feed from the dark and continue to feed, and in order to sustain itself, must try to grab onto the Light. And it is the battle then that occurs, to try and grab the Light to bring into the dark. This occurs. This is part of what happens outside of The One. It occurs temporarily that the Light may be brought into the dark. The dark fears the Light for it is the fear of the unknown oftentimes, the brightness, the sense of control of Self without external sources, without having to always say that they are great. The dark must always talk of how great it is. This is one of the clues you can find in those who are truly entrenched in the dark. They talk of how good they are and how wonderful they are. Those of the Light have no need to do that.

You say the dark is being suppressed. What about the reduction of church attendance throughout the world, and attempts to take God out of our monetary system currency, and the reduction of prayer to God in the boy scouts, and reducing the prayer from the Congress when they start every session. The dark attempts to remove these things. I think the dark seems to be winning throughout the world rather than being suppressed.

In your observations, my son, you make a most interesting point. First of all, the attempts to take spirituality out of the earth plane is indeed a tool of the dark. It is one of the ways in which they strike the hardest, for, as we have discussed before, religion comes from spirituality. Not all religions end up being as spiritual as their beginnings, for they become entrenched in their own dogma. Nonetheless, each religion has its base of spirituality, SPIRIT. This is the base to which the dark would strike.

And again, we must emphasize that the dark is being suppressed, even though it does not appear that it is being suppressed. In order for the cleansing to occur, certain behaviors that have developed over the past ten thousand earth plane years have to be realigned. The energies have to be cleaned out, and that there become then a return to a greater sense of spirituality rather than a sense of dogma. What is occurring on the plane is an attempt by the dark to pull entities' definition of spirituality, be it God, as you would call The Universal Consciousness, or any other name that would give you the sense of connection with The Source. It is the dark's attempt to disconnect or to make you feel that you are being disconnected.

You must understand, my loved ones, that there is never a disconnection from The Source, even though it may appear, for the dark has waged its battle. Each of us are never completely disconnected. It may appear from external sources that you are disconnected. This is what the dark plays on, the external, rather than you going to your own source within and saying, "I am connected to The One, to The Creator, The Universal Consciousness," the name that you give it.

As the cleansing progresses and comes to closure, it will bring about an end to the battle, and there will be the reconnection, in reality, of those who remain on the plane, with their own sense of spirituality. So, as we said before, it is important that you hold onto that which you believe to be your truth, your own Light, and let it then shed itself onto those around you as an influence so that then it will affect others, and the ripple effect will occur.

There is much abuse currently on the plane. The governmental systems are in complete chaos and in complete abuse from within. The financial systems, the social systems, all is in complete overload, as you would call it, without a sense of spirituality. This is why we have come in at this time, to help in bringing back a sense of spirituality, a sense of equilibrium, and a sense of connection to The Source from which we have all come. We have no quick, easy answer for you, my son, that would solve the problem.

I remember you said that right after the earth shifts, in the first second there is only Light, and once we progress in the illusion, the darkness will grow. So, is it always from shift to shift that before the next shift occurs there will be basically everything dark, and then we have The Shift, and everything will be Light, and all of a sudden, the dark sneaks in again.

Well, of course. Outside of The Universal Consciousness there is Light and dark. And it is merely a sense of perspective as to where you are on The Spectrum of Light and dark. However, there are forces that are committed to being dark, and it is they who we do battle with. When each new illusion begins, there is an instant of complete Lightness. It is what you would call a nanosecond perhaps in time, and there is a sense of complete balance that occurs. But then, it is time to get on with the games. It is time to start working The New Illusion, and therefore, all of the issues that you had in the current illusion are simply looking different now in The New Illusion, but the issues are still the same. And the battles are still the same. And it takes a while for the equilibrium to get tipsy again. And it will be more Light than dark in the beginning of each illusion, and then gradually, as the illusion comes to its end, it will appear that there is perhaps more dark. But we must, again, reassure you that it is not the case. It only appears. There is much more Light currently on the plane than there is dark. You must trust in this.

The reason why the dark forces do what they do is because they are bored and they have nothing better to do?

This is true of all of us. This is why we all come out of The One. It is boring in there. So, we come out and play. It is just the same for the Light, each of you. Think about this yourselves. When things are going absolutely wonderful in your life, what do you think?

What do you say? It is getting a little boring. It might be subconsciously, if you will, at a higher level, but you get something going. You bring about challenge in your life. To have everything going simply as you would want it, and wish it to be, we each Self-destruct in that manner, if you will. We bring about a new challenge.

Will The Antichrist Soon Announce Himself To The World?

Will the antichrist will soon announce himself to the world and lead the world into more years of darkness? I hear he is about to reemerge on the earth, under the guise of peace, and will bring the earth into desolation and gloom.

Well, you know, this is the work of the dark. They give great propaganda about their own abilities and their own power that they are going to be bringing in, as they call it, the antichrist, which is simply their own definition of darkness at a high level. As we have said before, they never win. They wage these battles. It is all part of what must occur outside of The Universal Consciousness. What is occurring now is the end of an illusion, which means that it is simply cleaning out all that energy that is no longer vibrationally sound for the earth. What you are hearing is an attempt by those forces of the dark to scare you. And they do a very good job at it, I might add. There are many going about saying that some very powerful entity will come and destroy, and that this entity will be in the guise of peace.

Well, my son, the dark is short term in its ability to project Light. It needs only to be challenged by simply saying, "I challenge you." Now, there are enough of the Light on the plane who know of this challenge, that if any were to come and say, "We project ourselves as the Light and we are the savior," they would be challenged immediately. The Light is able to withstand any challenge. The dark is not. However, what occurs is that many entities are fearing this darkness so much that they will believe anything that they are told and they will not bring the Light from within themselves out and challenge the dark. Yes?

Did not the dark chase Eve and Adam out of the Garden of Eden?

Well, you know, we are planning to have a special topic session on the symbolisms that come from the bible and from other points in history. And that is simply a symbolism, my son, and not an actual occurrence. But Public Session now is not the time for that. Soon, however, we will be having such a special session, and you might want to attend that and present your questions at that time. It is time for the next question now.

Could You Discuss Astrological Signs And Personal Polarities?

Ah, Mushiba has indicated to me that you have a particular reason for asking that question, my love. You find yourself surrounded by entities from a particular astrological sign recently and wonder if there is any coincidence about it. What could that possibly be? Well, you know, we always say to you that you have your own answers from within, and that there is obviously patterns that develop, and that when you enter into a lifetime, you come to learn particular lessons. And the planets are aligned in such a way so as to provide you with particular polarities, if you will, or particular energy fields, that work with, or against, in order to help you learn your lessons. And thus, it is not by chance that each of you come onto the earth plane with a certain alignment of planets. We have been on the record quite a number of times in discussion of the significance of the alignment of the planets.

One of the reasons we were not able to answer your question, my love, regarding the alignment of this planet of which you spoke, relates to the new aligning of energy and planets for The New Illusion. If it would satisfy you, we would speak with you privately relating to your question.

A Question About The Realignment Of Planetary Energies

A few years ago, a new planet has been discovered, Kiron, and before that it was Pluto who was discovered. Is it actually that as our consciousness evolves that we open up to these energies, or do we even create these? Is the planet there who brings the new energy, or is the new energy brings the planet?

Well, you know, everything is ~ nothing is discovered ~ and simply awaits the moment when the greater consciousness is able to understand and to benefit from the energy of a particular grouping. Planets are groupings of energies. In parts of the earth plane playground ~ all of the planets that are part of the earth plane playground ~ the planet Earth is not known. And in some parts, the planet Earth is just being discovered. So that the answer to your question is yes and no, and neither. What is now occurring, however, is that as the illusion cleans itself and prepares for the next stage on the earth plane, it now has need of energy groupings to assist it that it did not need before. And for entry into the plane now, different alignments are needed than before. And thus it is that the discoveries are upon you.

In the near future, our scientists are seeing that there is going to be a collision with fragments of a comet with the planet Pluto. Does this have some kind of corresponding effect on the earth?

It is all part of the realignment of energies that are currently occurring for the total earth plane experience. The earth plane experience, as we have said before, is not solely on the planet Earth. It is existing in many dimensions, and many planets seen and unseen from Planet Earth. And what is currently occurring then is, as we have indicated in our last response, a realigning of energy groupings. There will be no damage to the planet Earth. Planet Earth is part of the Universal training ground. The physical planet Earth will not be damaged. It will be changed in its appearance within the earth, as you know it. The physical, the rivers, the land and the water, will realign and be in different places than it currently is. And that will all be connected to these realignings that are occurring.

We are not able to give much specific information at this point until certain other occurrences have presented themselves. Remember that The Shift of the axis is the final act of the realignment. Everything now that is occurring is all part of that shifting around, finding its home, if you will, finding its right spot so that when the axis does its flip, all will then be in readiness to soothe out and be aligned properly. So remember that the planet is in no danger as a planet physical. It is in no danger as a training ground. It is in no danger spiritually. Part of our mission is to continue to reinforce that message to you all, that the dark never wins. In the short term it may appear that they do, but the planet is safe. We have our learning to do at our level in the battle. And even though we know we always win, we are presented at times with the illusion that we are not winning. Therein lies the fun in the battle.

During This Upcoming Change In The Earth, Can We Expect Any Reemergence Of Atlantis?

Ah, indeed. The question has come up so often. There are parts of the Atlantean land mass that will reappear and are currently now preparing for discovery. And when The Shifting occurs, when the land and the water realign, the land mass of Atlantis, which has been covered with water now for ten thousand years, parts of it will return. It will have an energy that comes from that particular illusion that is meant to help in the transition into The New Illusion. When that job is done, that energy will then be absorbed into the new structures that will be on the earth plane in The New Illusion. Artifacts from the Atlantean time will be in great supply. They are beginning to return now. They are around you without your knowing them, and they contain energy, where appropriate, to help those entities on the plane currently who are part of the transition into The New Illusion.

I understand that when we have the earth shifts of its axis, this will be almost instantaneously. I learned recently that Atlantis disappeared differently over a much longer period of time. So, it was not during a shift of the axis.

Oh, indeed. We change illusions in different ways each time. It is not always a shifting of the axis. In Atlantis, there were energy fields relating to the pyramid structures that were different from the pyramid structures currently on the plane that created a different type of energy. And because of the great ability of mind control that existed in the latter time of Atlantis, in essence, it was the abuse of that mind power that destroyed the energy shield around the planet and created destructions that took a bit of time rather than something that simply happens quickly ~ and get it over with. But each illusion change occurs in a way that is appropriate for the conclusion of that illusion.

Other Sources Of Information ~ Commenting On The Celestine Prophecy

I recently read The Celestine Prophecy, saying that children synthesize basically what the parents have started. Is it true that it is not just that the two physical bodies that create the child? So therefore, there is a synthesis of that, but also, the issues of the father and mother get combined, and then the childhood is an evolutionary step to solve that on its own path?

There are few times when we would categorically disclaim information, and this is one of them. That is not how it truly occurs. That does not give credence then to one's own path, but rather, that one's own path is determined by two other entities. This is incorrect, COMPLETELY INCORRECT. A mother and father serve simply as vessels for entry onto the earth plane training ground, and the earth plane training ground only. There are generally, but not always, lessons to be learned and balancing to be done through these entities who are agreed upon for entry. But we would go on record in one of our rare moments of saying that this particular source of information does not have our acceptance, for in accordance with our ways of giving information. And it is not a source that we would comment on any further.

Will Organized Religion Change Closer To The Shift?

Well, you know, they will change, as all changes. We have stated that it is critical for organized religion to be on the earth plane. It is part of the spiritual journey. Without it there would be no journey. There would be no base. It is from the spiritual base that each of the organized religions have sprung. And they will change. They will not go away. They are not meant to go away. The dark would like them to go away. The dark would like to project that they are on the downslide, but they are not. They are simply evolving into a greater spirituality. And as is the case so often, when, and we have addressed this, as you grow and you enlarge, you become too big oftentimes and lose sight of where you have come from. This is what is occurring with many of the organized religions. They have lost sight of their base and they are simply now being forced to return to their roots, to their spirituality. It is difficult for many, for they have ego involved and a great sense of power and do not want to give the religion back to its spiritual base.

You see, religion has its premise that in order to reach heaven or to reach God, you must go through this hierarchy of people. And if you are in this hierarchy, you have a greater chance of getting into heaven, than if you are not, because you have been blessed. And therefore, the rest of you are what you call sinners, and, you know, you have to obey the way you are told or else you will not get into heaven. Well, this is of course foolish, for each of us, and that is everyone, every entity outside of The Creative Force, can return to The Creative Force through its own efforts.
