Would You Please Address Multiple Personalities?

Could you address multiple personalities? My daughter asked me to ask that question. She is looking into multiple personalities. And could you help her a little bit?

It is a very interesting and sometimes rather a complex discussion. As is always the case, there is the Universal application of a concept and then its individual application. The individual application of a particular concept can vary from entity to entity. We will give to her, through you, the Universal concept of multiple personalities as it is known on the earth plane.

It is understood that all entities have various levels of themselves. Some of you may not have heard this type of information before now. All of you, and all energy, in whatever form it takes, has various levels of awareness, as we would refer to. For the most part, the levels are integrated into their particular vibrational appropriateness. And when on the earth plane, there is an appropriate level of vibration that is maintained.

And when we speak so often of going to the Higher Self to learn your answers, we are speaking of going through several levels of yourself to get to that higher level. Beyond the Higher Self there are indeed higher levels of understanding. Think of it much like a layer cake. And many of you have ~ and many of you will ~ experienced an infusion of a level from a higher point in your own consciousness into yourself at this particular consciousness. And if all is integrated, as is generally the situation, there is not what you would consider a grouping of these levels of Self into the particular conscious energy level in which you find yourself on the earth plane.

In the case of what is referred to as multiple personalities, there is a lack of integration that occurs within an entity of the various components of Self. This occurs most often from an incomplete closure occurring at the end of a particular lifetime. So that what you know as personality does not have complete closure at the end of a particular life and is left in the vibration of a particular level of your awarenesses, for when you move from lifetime to lifetime, you bring in different components of your energy, not always the same component, not always the same level.

And when that occurs, this incomplete closure, it leaves what we would call then a loose end to the total Self. Oftentimes, going into the very next lifetime, an entity may easily and quickly take that loose end and integrate that personality into the current personality. It generally occurs in the early time on the plane, the first several years on the plane. When that is in some way hindered, then the lack of integration begins to become part of the personality of the current vibration and the current level of the energy.

Going along with this, as a result, is a traumatic event. Oftentimes, on the earth plane, the multiple personality situation is thought to be the result of a traumatic event. It is not. It is the opposite of that. It is the cause of there being a traumatic event occurring. The event occurs so that those personalities of Self that have not been integrated will have the opportunity to do so. It may take the entire lifetime, or it may take a very short time on the plane, depending on how many incomplete personality closures there are.

Most entities in their sojourn on the earth plane experience this type of situation. In a particular lifetime, for whatever the reasons, the personality is not fully developed. When it is time to leave that lifetime, the personality still hangs around, if you will, until it is given an opportunity, then, to come into another lifetime and share within the encasement the personality. It is Self. It is nothing external to Self. Multiple personality is not to be confused with what is called possession, for that is an external energy coming into the vibration. It is Self simply integrating with Self. And when the integration occurs, then the entity of course becomes stronger.

This is a metaphysical, as you would say, explanation of this situation and one that is not completely understood by those on the plane. It is understood by those on the plane who are able to do what is called regression hypnosis. In this type of regression hypnosis, bringing the entity back into those various lifetimes in which the incomplete closure was experienced is one of the techniques to bring closure and to integrate into the current energy. Those entities on the plane now who are able to assist in regression hypnosis, and/or who believe in the technique, are those who would understand the theory that we have just given to you.

There would be many on the plane currently who would, of course, dismiss what we have given for information, and that is fine. It is simply levels of understanding and awareness that, as you increase in your own awarenesses, so too do you increase in your understanding of that which may seem not to be understandable.

That would, my dear, be an appropriate type of answer that we would give without going into, then, the specifics of a particular entity's path.

To sum it up then, it comes from Self. So, if someone's personality is entirely different, then that personality at another point in time was that personality.

Yes. Yes, indeed. It makes for very interesting lifetimes to have several of your own personalities within the single encasement. We do not dismiss this in any way as frivolous. However, it does on occasion have its humorous components, as you can understand, and it is only in the recognition of the situation as existing that an entity is able to do the integration. If there is a denial that there is an incomplete integration, then it will continue into lifetimes until it is faced. It may not be the next lifetime, for the next lifetime may be dealing with other issues that would bring in different components of Self. Eventually, the lack of integration of any of the personalities from other lifetimes needs to be brought into an integrative situation and resolved.

When Higher Self Levels Come In, Can They Be Of A Different Gender, Sharing The Same Soul? ~ Male/Female Issues ~ Changing One's Physical Gender

Yes. The Self shares the Soul of Self. They are not different souls. Different souls occur when the energy splits, but in the layering effect, it is the same soul, just different levels of understanding. And generally, for the earth plane sojourn, there is given in approximately seventy-five to eighty percent of the energy as a common situation. The lower the amount of energy coming in, the more difficult is the journey on the plane. And many entities choose to only bring in a small percentage of themselves for the earth plane sojourn to accelerate their learning and to make their learning more difficult. It is purposely done. It is not something that is required.

The remaining percentages that exist in the Self slowly integrate in very minute ways. It is, however, common in an accelerated training time such as you all find yourselves in now, that large portions of the Higher Self enter into your consciousness. It is generally done with those entities who had chosen to have very small amounts of their energy coming onto the earth plane. So, there are situations in which the Higher Self that is integrating into the energy has not had experiences on the earth plane, and is bringing in a higher level of awareness from other dimensions, but not the earth plane. It creates interesting assimilation. We have explained that part of this phenomena relates to Mushiba and that type of integration.

There are many of you in this gathering who have had a number of infusions into your conscious being during the past few earth plane years that have given you a sense of clarity of what you are here to do, and what you need to do, and have given you a sense of strength in seeking your own spiritual path. And when you begin to see the world around you in a different way ~ you become calmer, you become, in your own way, more aware of your place in the world ~ you can be certain that your higher awarenesses have integrated. Sometimes, it can be very dramatic and sometimes it can be very, very subtle.

Each layer, if you will, of yourself, has different gender orientations. You have a dominant gender, for each energy takes on a dominant gender for its experiences outside of The Universal Consciousness. But there will be times when you will bring in a particular level of your energy that is a different gender than what your encasement is, and what your dominant energy is. And it is nothing unusual. Many of you are rather comfortable with the sense of feeling that you are different from what you appear to be. You may look female but do not feel female, or you may look male and do not feel male, or that there is an integration of the male/female, the opposites within Self. And you have a clearer understanding of the issues that the opposite gender to which your encasement is/has for its journey on the earth plane. And that is a very critical and important issue for all on the earth plane to learn, the perspective of those who are different from them.

And if you are in a female encasement, whether or not your dominant energy is male or female is not the issue. Rather, the issue is how you are able to attune yourself to not only your issues but the issues of those around you in other genders. You become more understanding and not one sided in thinking that you are the victim because you happen to be male or the victim because you happen to be female. You can take either stand, you see.

So, it makes for a rather interesting lifetime when large amounts of Self infuse into your Conscious Self and that those levels carry different genders. One day you are female, the next day you are male, the next day you are back to female again, and all, of course, in the same encasement, unless of course you so choose to change that ~ which is a common situation, not just in this time frame in this illusion that you find yourselves, but in many of the other illusions, for the desire, as well as the high ability, to change the physical encasement to meet the vibrational gender, was a common practice.

And in other illusions, in fact, it was not the need to have assistance in changing the encasement to meet the vibrational gender. It was not needed. It could be done with Self. This was part of The Atlantean Illusion, the ability to do this. It is also part of why the illusion had to end eventually, because of the abuses that that type of ability brings. And it is not part of this illusion, but it will be part of the next one.

Current Dramatic Earth Changes In Relation To The Cleansing/The Shift

In reference to this cataclysm that the earth is supposed to be experiencing within the next several years, it is evident to us from news reports around the world of some of the physical and energy changes that have been occurring. Is there something that you would like to share with us regarding all that is happening now?

We have always found it interesting that the use of the word cataclysm is viewed as a negative on the earth plane. From our perspective, it is not a negative. We have used the word cataclysm and now do not use that word for it brings about a sense of anxiety and fear in those who hear it. Rather, we use the word cleansing. And we have spoken quite extensively in our length of time with all of you regarding the cleansing. And it is very much upon the earth plane now, its final cleansing. The cleansing, or as we also refer to it, the ending of a particular illusion, had begun three to five hundred earth plane years ago, and slowly was taking on momentum. This illusion has currently been in existence on the plane for approximately ten thousand earth plane years, with a minor cleansing occurring six thousand earth plane years ago. What is occurring is simply a change in the vibration of the planet itself, and coinciding with all of that, changes in the vibration of all the energies that make the planet their home. And we had indicated not long ago that the cleansing was in its next to the last stage before the final shaking out.

Entities seem to want to know the exact date of when this is going to occur, and we have cautioned throughout our time of any who would give you an exact date and time that this is going to occur. From a vibrational perspective, it is imminent. We have indicated that what is commonly known as the year Two Thousand, plus or minus four years, or even some kind of fluctuation as the time frame. It could occur much sooner or much later than Two Thousand. Two Thousand is not to be looked as the definitive year, but that it is within that range, so that the earth plane illusion is on its last points, if you will.

Now. The Universe generally prepares entities for situations. You do not have anything given to you that you are not able to respond to. So too is an illusion change in that same type of situation. There will be many who will have left the earth plane before the final cleansing. We have talked of mass departures. For there will be, as with every illusion change, a small number of entities in each of the kingdoms that exist ~ The Animal Kingdom, The Plant Kingdom, The Wind, The Air, all of that ~ that will start up The New Illusion and very quickly bring in new entities to keep the illusion going.

All that you see occurring now is part of the illusion change. You will not suddenly wake up one day and everything will be different. There will be some major changes at the conclusion of the illusion. The conclusion of the illusion. Now, there is a catch phrase. What you are experiencing now ~ you hear of something traumatic happening and it hits you momentarily, and then you sit back and you become used to it. You are accustomed to it. And it is no longer dramatic. If there is a flood in an area, at first it seems so dramatic. Everything has changed. But once the flooding becomes the norm, it is simply as it is. And this is what is occurring as the dramatic Earth Changes occur.

We had stated very early in our time speaking through that there are three major earth events that work in harmony to bring the cleansing to its closure. Earthquakes are one of them. Hurricanes are another. And tornadoes are the third. And they all work in harmony with each other bringing about very dramatic cleansing. And more importantly, their energy, each of those three different energies of earth, impact upon other types of earth plane situations, so that earthquakes also bring about water, and the rumbling of the earth brings about what you call volcanoes. And the volcanoes bring about a cleansing. And all of this is occurring, and has been occurring throughout the history of the illusion.

It now is more apparent, first, because more of it is occurring, and in much more dramatic ways. And second, because of your mode of communication, primitive as it is on the earth plane, enabling you to know that something is occurring as it is occurring. So, your cameras can go right to the earthquake scene and watch the buildings crumble as the earth shakes. The cameras are able to zero right in on the disaster, and therefore, all of you are aware, in a much more concrete instant way, of events happening that up until a short time ago on the earth plane you only would read about after it had happened. Or you would only have heard about it after it had happened. And the impact of it was not as great when you simply heard about it after it had happened or saw a still photograph. The impact is far greater when you are witnessing it as it occurs in its vibrational intensity. Understand that it is all part of the Earth Changes.

We plan for the coming year on the earth plane to have only questions regarding the Earth Changes. This will be our topic for the coming year, for it appears that it is time now to give some rather specific types of discussions regarding the Earth Changes and in helping entities to prepare vibrationally as well as physically for the Earth Changes.

There will be many who will determine not to remain, for when the final cleansing occurs, the axis of the planet will shake and will shift the poles. And what you know as north and south and east and west will change. And the magnetic field of the earth plane will now move in a rotational manner East to West rather than North to South. And that will be one of the major changes.

For those of you who stay for this, it will not be a big deal, for it is not. You will have prepared for it in smaller steps. And when we indicate that there are many who will not stay, it simply means that you either did not want to stay or your vibration was not of the same vibration as the earth vibration. Your vibration would be incompatible with the new vibration of the earth, and thus, you simply leave the plane, reassemble your vibration, and go onto other training grounds. When your vibration is compatible once again with the earth plane vibration, you come back in and continue your sojourn. If you believe that this life you are in is the one and only life that you ever have had or will have, then what we give you for information probably seems ludicrous. If you believe that there is no such thing as death, only change in form, then this seems not a big deal at all.

Waith Explains The Differences Between Minor And Major Cleansings, And Illusion Change

You mentioned there had been a minor cleansing six thousand years ago. Is this cleansing we are approaching considered minor or major?

It is a major cleansing. It is an illusion change. The minor cleansings simply readjust within the illusion. And this is what occurred at that time. It is when many structures were constructed to help with the pyramid structures that were constructed ten thousand years ago when Atlantis changed into this illusion that you currently are in. And so, it is common practice that at some point within an illusion, there is an adjustment of the illusion, if you will, vibrationally. There is cleansing. And in this case, there was a flooding, and the water cleansed, and when the flooding ceased, then the land masses came back very quickly.

This particular illusion change, however, as dramatic as it is, does not take as long to reconfigure itself as the minor cleansings do. The Shifting in the illusion takes longer, and in some cases, can take several hundred earth plane years to reconfigure, remembering that illusions last thousands of years. One hundred earth plane years is not a significant amount of time.

An illusion change, however, in its final moment of shaking and cleansing takes only what you would call a few days on the earth plane. And then you are all up and about again, working on your same issues, but in different ways now. It looks different, but the issues remain. So, going from one illusion to another does not mean that if you had an issue of not being responsible for paying your mortgage in this illusion, and you feel that you can stop paying your mortgage, because, "After all, the illusion is changing and we will not have to worry about it, " rest assured, my loved ones, that it will come back in another form in the next illusion, perhaps in a way that you had wished you had resolved in this illusion.

So, remember that the changes that occur are not excuses for not addressing your issues, and they are not excuses, in any way, to stop doing what you are doing. You must continue your life as you are living it, knowing that from moment to moment the illusion changes subtly for you. You see things differently. The physical plane begins to look different. Water is where land used to be. Land is where water used to be. It is hot where it used to be cold. It is cold where it used to be hot. Extremes are occurring in all venues on the earth plane. You must maintain your own sense of continuity in your path, or else you would then be swayed by the extremes in the changes. And in one moment, you would be trying to adjust yourself to having land where there used to be water, and then, maybe that is not the final configuration. And the land where there used to be water is water again.

And instead of your trying to simply move with the changes, rather than try to change with the changes, you find yourself fluctuating back and forth before the settling in has occurred. And this is the time frame on the plane now. It is a time of extremes, a time of imbalance, a time of crumbling of that which used to be, and a rebuilding, but in many cases not knowing quite what to rebuild, and therefore, allowing it to stay in a crumbled state. And it is up to all entities to maintain as best as they can their sense of balance with the changes. And it is why we emphasize consistently that meditation and seeking your answers from Self is the only way that you will maintain your own balance. You cannot get that from us. You cannot get that from others. You only receive the answers from Self as to what your balance is. Your balance is different from another's balance, and that must be maintained within Self.

The Earth Changes is no big deal. We are here through the Earth Changes, you know, AND AFTER, to help entities maintain a sense of perspective about what is occurring and what will be after the illusion has changed.

Did The Atlanteans Go Into Space, And Did They Establish A Colony?

On this same time period in the last illusion, with Atlantis, you have indicated that they had a greater technological system or development than we have today. Although there is probably not sufficient time for us to continue to explore space before the change, like to establish colonies on Mars and things that they are talking about now. I was wondering if the Atlanteans ever did so. Did they go into space and did they establish any colony?

Well, you make an assumption that The New Illusion will not allow for that type of exploration. The New Illusion is not going to bring you back into the caves. The New Illusion is going to bring you into a different technology, a different growth mode. It will give you new opportunities for expansion of, not only your awarenesses, but expansion of your abilities. Every illusion, regardless of how primitive it may start out ~ and every illusion starts out primitive in comparison to the way that it ends ~ has exploration built into it as part of its path.

The purpose for being on the earth plane is to grow and to explore and to do so in an accelerated manner. And thus, The Atlantean Illusion had great exploration, not only in what you have as a frame of reference, referring to the skies, but exploration into the unseen. And it was indeed part of their bringing closure to the illusion ~ the abuses in mind control. And we have talked of this briefly in other times and will address it as it is appropriate to the discussion. Exploring that which is unknown is inherent in every illusion. And so, in The New Illusion that is coming, it will be different from this illusion that you currently are in. However, it will not be going back and growing your own vegetables, though you certainly will have the opportunity to do so. It will not be what you call an Agrarian Society. It will be a highly technological illusion. However, it will not be what you currently know.

We have made reference to magnetic change occurring at the time of The Shifting. Understand that all of your technology currently in the illusion is based on a particular magnetic field. When The Shift occurs that will no longer be. In fact, it would be rather appropriate to have the written word, as you call it, hard copy ~ for tapes, as you know them, all of our words will, on tape, no longer be. It is why we have them transcribed. It is why they are in written form.

However, prior to the illusion change, the technology for the new magnetic fields will have been brought into the plane, and therefore, there will be a very easy transition, and it will very quickly begin to evolve. And it will simply be different. And those who are remaining on the plane will have the tools with which to work to bring about the new structures, if you will, of lesson learning on the plane. So, there will be exploration, and there always has been exploration.

How Are We Supposed To Figure Out What Our Individual Purpose Is On This Plane?

We could give you a rather flip answer to that, but we will respond to it in the seriousness in which you have presented it, for it seems to be the main question that so many would ask. "Why am I here? What is my reason for being here?" Oftentimes, you do not need to know what your reason for being here is. And we do not say that in a cavalier manner, but it is simply that you come in, and you do whatever it is that you do, and there is not a seeking of higher purpose, and that is part of the lesson to be learned. And when you return back into the contemplative state where you review your life, then you understand at that point.

There are other lives, however, in which there is a very conscious awareness of a spiritual path, and a very deep need to know what the purpose is for being in the life. When you have that flickering within you that says within Self, "I need to know very much what my purpose is," that is a trigger within the Soul that is infusing into all the levels of Self to begin the search within.

Nothing external to you can give you that information. It must come from within through meditation, or whatever other form of communication you find yourself able to conduct with your Higher Self, your Angelic Protector, your guides, all those who surround you to help you. There can be guidance given from external sources, such as ourself, who can perhaps lead you to the point, to give you guidance to reach the point where you would then find your answer.

We can, if given permission by the Soul at a higher level, give you your purpose. However, it is only if we are given permission to give you that information, and then it is in a restricted manner, for each of you finds your own sense of purpose from within. And when you feel strongly about that sense of purpose, you then act upon it and nothing else will deter you. Until you feel that strong sense, then you will be searching. And once you feel the strong sense of purpose, you will find yourself positioned in a grouping or in an arena of other entities who will share this with you.

Finding your purpose can be, for some, a lifetime journey. When they finally find their purpose, it is time to leave the earth plane, but that they take that purpose with them that they have discovered and bring it into the next lifetime. You may know entities who seem to have a sense of their purpose from the moment they came in. You have met young entities on the plane who seem very independent, very sure of what they are to do at a very early age. Or as they have matured on the plane, and they reach what you call the teenage years, there is a strong sense, and they follow that. That did not just happen. It was not just luck. It was something that was worked upon in another lifetime, searching and searching and searching. Many lifetimes can be spent in the search.

And after you have spent many lifetimes in searching, you finally reach a point in a particular series of lessons that you have determined need to be focused on for learning. You come into the next lifetime with a clear sense of purpose that has come from many lifetimes of travel. And once you get into this mode of finding your purpose, then it becomes easier. And so, let us say, for example, you have a lifetime now where you have your purpose. You know what you are here to do. And you do it. And you leave the life and evaluate it afterward and see that you have done what you planned to do. It is time then to find a new purpose, for there is a new series of lessons, or even one lesson. And you may find then that going into the next lifetime, it is easier to recognize your purpose concretely for you have done it before. You have learned how to do it before.

And it is all in the experience of the seeking that makes the seeking easier as you seek more and more. The more that you seek, and the more that you learn, the easier it becomes to recognize the higher levels of understanding, and of course to recognize that there is so much that you do not know, and to not be afraid of that that you do not know so much, and that you do not know what it is you do not know. It is all right to not know, for you will eventually find that knowledge as you are ready to find that knowledge, and not one nanosecond sooner, as you would say in your technology.

Do We Have Any Responsibilities Toward Others In Our Awarenesses?

The answer to that is YES and NO. You have, first and foremost, responsibility to Self and taking responsibility for Self, but you also have complete responsibility for the implications upon others that your behavior would bring. And therefore, you do have responsibility to others, for everything that all entities do affects every other entity in some way or another. Mostly, you do not see it. You do not feel it at the concrete level, at this conscious level, but in the higher realms, the reverberation of the entire force that exists is felt. And every action, every behavior, every thought that each of you gives is felt by the others in some subtle way, maybe not at the concrete but assuredly at the higher levels. So, yes, responsibility for Self, first and foremost. When you take that responsibility for Self, and the higher that responsibility for Self is, the greater your sense of responsibility to others, you will not act irresponsibly. And, again, that is defined within Self. And that is a topic for another time. There is much to say on that particular topic.
