Topic Of Discussion ~ The Point Of Entry ~ Your Reference Of Origin Of Growth

In this session with you we will be addressing a topic that we introduced in a very brief moment several sessions ago. It relates to the point of entry, your reference of origin for growth. It is information that is meant to give you a greater understanding of your first time onto the earth plane and its relationship to your total path outside of The Universal Consciousness. And to give you, also, a frame of reference for your own growth. Each of you has your own frame of reference for growth that comes from the origin of Self as a result of your point of entry.

Understanding The Configuration Of The Known Planets ~ Astrological Configurations

There has been much laughter on occasion from skeptics on the earth plane who subscribe to the idea that astrological information is nonsense. We of course have given credibility to the concept of astrological configurations. And while the earth plane entities who spread the information of astrological configurations have made up rather generalized descriptions of the characteristics of those configurations, that information that they give comes from a pure source, just as all information that is currently on the plane originally came from a pure source, and has been muddied, if you will, over the earth plane time frame of centuries. Understanding the configuration of the known planets that are part of the earth plane as a training ground has historically been understood by those who were indeed wise, as it is called.

Each of you entered onto the earth plane experience at a particular point that configured the planets in a unique way that was absolutely unique to you as an entity. There is no other energy outside of The Universal Consciousness that has the exact configuration of planets, and therefore energy, as you do, each of you. Energies, upon entering the earth plane, must wait in line to enter in. There is none of this jumping in. "Oh, well, it is time to enter. Let's go. Everyone into the pool." It does not work that way.

There is order, of course, to entry. It is the only way in which we can maintain the equilibrium. And thus, when it is time for each of you to enter onto the earth plane, you take a number. And when your number comes, you jump in. Even though it would appear that entities enter in at exactly the same time, earth plane configuration of time, there is an infinitesimal difference in some cases. Infinitesimal. Nonetheless, it means that there is uniqueness to each of you.

This is very valuable information to have. We have discussed, in the past, the entry day. The discussion of the point of your entry day is directly related to your point of origin. At that exact moment of entry, there is a recognition of the total path, the total mission that you as an entity has taken on for the earth plane. That is an important component of this. This is an earth plane reference. It is not a reference to the other training grounds.

Thus, by connecting with your Higher Self, and therefore your soul, you are able to recreate that energy that is uniquely yours. It also means that you have your own very unique path and your own very unique behavior patterns. Whatever the configuration of the planets, energy wise, were at your point of entry, when you first entered the earth plane, so too must that exist for your final departure from the earth plane. And that is why we keep it so organized.

It does not mean that you have to, in your last incarnation on the earth plane, leave on the day of your so called birthday. The fluidity of time as it exists on the earth plane changes the configuration of energy, and those configurations of planets change. What it means is that there must be closure then to your own energy on the earth plane. When you were allowed to enter, initially, onto the earth plane, you were given a spot, energy wise, on the earth plane sojourn, and until your spot is vacant, no other energy can enter in. We have allocated X number of spots for earth plane training. It is in the multiple millions. But there is a definitive allocation, and unless there is an opening, no other entity can come in. It would be overcrowding. It is our version of population control, you see. It keeps order in the scheme of the earth plane as a training ground. In the setting up of illusions, those illusions are determined, and their staging, if you will, all that is created for impact for learning, in part by the number of entities who will be a part of the play.

Each time you are able to connect with your own origin of energy, gives you then an instant insight into Self. Of course, there is no easy quick fix for the ability to reach this point of origin. It must come through the meditative state. It must come through your own abilities to communicate with your Higher Self, and therefore, your soul. When you entered in at a particular configuration, it established a pattern of behavior that was precisely allocated to the types of lessons you had taken on in your Menu for lessons to be learned and is directly correlated to all of the behaviors that are underlying your entire experience on the earth plane. And indeed, as each of you look at Self, you see a particular uniqueness to your own behavior, and that uniqueness is based upon that particular energy configuration.

We, for the sake of ease, would use Mushiba as an example of the astrological sign that you know as Virgo. The generally described characteristics of this configuration relate to perfection and order. To be able to do what she does in Being of Service and in assisting us in our mission, there must be that type of behavior. It is, however, the dominant behavior of her energy and has been an integral part of every experience on the earth plane that Mushiba has had, regardless of other points of entry. The initial point of entry determines the thread of behavior from lifetime to lifetime and the eventual balancing of that behavior. What each of you then is in the process of doing is balancing your own thread of behavior.

Your point of entry in this particular incarnation, for most entities, is not your origin point. However, each time you enter onto the earth plane you have the opportunity to thread, if you will, with an energy needle. Think of it that way, a webbing that takes each point of entry, each lifetime, and threads it so that each time you enter in, you have a cloaking of energy that comes from your point of entry each other lifetime. And therefore, you have the connection of your own energy surrounding you, much like a cloak. In order for that cloak of energy to be completed, it must return back to its source. So you weave this in a circle.

And you work with your Angelic Protector and a special group of emissaries who are specially trained in the final linkage and assisting entities in completing that final linkage. For each earth plane year, as you know it, there will be a moment in that earth plane year in which your exact energy configuration will come around again. It is all planned that way. It is infinitesimal. And for most on the earth plane who are so concrete in their thinking, a difficult concept to even imagine, let alone to accept. It does not matter if you accept it or believe it. It is simply what happens.

Technique To Enable You To Understand Your Own Path Of Growth, Your Thread Of Behavior ~ Followed By Questions And Responses To This Technique

We are prepared to give you a meditative technique that, for many who would have this technique available to them, would find it beneficial in reaching their own origin, to understand the thread of their energy, and therefore, to enable them to understand their own path of growth. This is not a quick and easy type of technique, and for many of you it would mean trying over and over again to have it work. And for others, it would simply work immediately. But it is one way in which you could make connection to the Higher Self and the request of the Soul to reveal that origin.

You would, of course, focus as you do ordinarily in your meditations and bring yourself into the state of feeling, as best as we could describe it, FUZZY. You know that feeling that you have as you are relaxed and you feel a lightheadedness perhaps, and you feel a tingling in your encasement as you allow all of your energy to relax and then focus itself. As you begin to feel this, you would then focus a ball of energy that moves from that which you call the Solar Plexus, and you would move that ball of energy up through the Energy Centers. Allow it to remain a bit of time in the Heart Energy Center. And allow that to fill that Energy Center. This is a White Ball of Light.

After you have felt the Heart Center mingling with the energy of this Ball of White Light, move that energy ball up, further up, bringing it up completely into that which you call the Crown Energy Center. Allow that ball of energy, that White Ball of Energy, to cloak your Crown Center. Let it drape over. Feel it all over your encasement, falling gently and softly around you so that you are complete cloaked now.

As you are cloaking your Energy Center, you are calling upon your Angelic Protector to guide you in talking with your Higher Self. So, at a concrete level, you see, you are directly communicating with your Angelic Protector. You then say, quite simply, "Angelic Protector, bring me to my point of origin, please." And then simply allow time to pass, and be relaxed. And then you would gently imagine knocking on the door to the Higher Self, and envisioning, then, the door opening. Knowing that you are cloaked and safe, you take Self and enter into the Higher Self and close the door behind you. Settle into your Higher Self. Do not rush this process.

Your Angelic Protector is with you now. You now will say to Higher Self, "We wish knowledge of the point of entry that determines our reference of origin for growth." Then envision the door to the Soul opening, and envision then walking into the Soul. Close the door behind you. Settle into the Soul, and wait for the answer. Do not badger the Soul. It is not a good thing to do that. Be patient with the Soul. The Soul may not answer you the first time, the second time, the one hundredth time, but what you do is bring yourself into the environment of your own soul. This is a technique that will bring you into your own energy, your own soul energy.

And after you have sat quietly in the Soul, and feel that you will not receive the answer this visit, then simply thank the Soul for allowing you to visit and to be in its vibration. Open the door and return into the Higher Self. Close the door to the Soul. Be certain that you close each time, for you are closing your own energy. Stay a bit in the Higher Self. Chit chat. Do not make the Higher Self feel that you used it to get to the Soul. When you are ready to leave the Higher Self, open the door, move out of the door entry, and close the door. And then, slowly bring yourself back down through your Energy Centers. And when you return into the Heart Center, you would stay a while, as you did the first time when you were moving up. As you move down, you are feeling the energy of the Heart Center of Self.

Bring yourself, then, slowly down to the Solar Plexus area. At this point in your energy field, you will envision taking the cloak that is still around you and bringing it into the Solar Plexus. As you bring it into the Solar Plexus, envision this cloak bringing in all of this energy of protection. It surrounds all of that area of the Solar Plexus. It closes the Solar Plexus, and therefore, protects your entire energy. Then slowly return into the dimension of the concrete earth plane that you all exist in.

When you do this, give yourself plenty of time. This is not a technique that you would do when you have a few extra minutes, or as you are rushing to go to some earth plane activity such as employment, or whatever. It is when you have the time without restriction, for you know not which visit to the Soul will give you the answer. When you have your answer, you will also then have your direction. It is a package deal. And you will then have achieved the ability to connect quickly with the Soul, using the Higher Self, of course, as the filter. There is an order to the way in which you reach your own soul. You cannot go from this concrete dimension directly into the Soul. You must go through the passageways. It is protection that Self has set up. But it will be easily achieved and you will find harmony within Self.

It does not mean that the implementation of your lessons in the concrete will be less difficult. It will mean that you will have a greater understanding of its importance in your own growth, for you will have the understanding of the point of origin and its effect upon your thread of behavior. That will give you insight into your own ways of responding to situations that present themselves to you. We are prepared to answer questions now relating to this topic.

Why might the Soul make us do this procedure several times before we got an answer?

For lessons to be learned, my son. It may not be the appropriate time, as determined by the Soul, for the concrete version of Self to have the information. However, to be able to enter into the Soul's domain is an accomplishment in itself. You may not enter into that domain the first few times that you try this technique. The door may not open. You may get into the Higher Self, but it is the Higher Self that has the key to the door to the Soul. It could take, indeed, hundreds of attempts to get into the Soul. That is a lesson in itself, the learning of understanding of Self and not taking Self for granted, and all of that.

Once you allow yourself to go into Self, then it still may be appropriate from the Soul's perspective that you simply sit in the environment of the Soul and have an understanding of Self, simply by being quiet within Self, and to appreciate your soul, and to appreciate that you have been able to gain entry into your own soul. It is one of the most difficult activities of an entity who is on the earth plane training ground ~ to be able to connect with Higher Self, not to mention the Soul. And thus, be also a time of rest and relaxation and feeling comfortable with your soul. And when the Soul determines that you are, at concrete level, ready then to take on the knowledge, then it will be given to you. Understand, of course, that this is all Self that is determining this. It is not an external source that is controlling this process. It is completely Self-controlled.

Is it possible that the Soul would determine that at no point in this particular lifetime should you have that information?

That is correct, my son. You may find that this particular incarnation you are not meant to have that information. Some may spend a lifetime searching for that information. That in itself is part of the path, the searching for the information of Self. When it is time for that information to be in your concrete energy in this dimension, then you will have it. To have it sooner than you are ready, of course, is not the way that The Universe operates. And thus, to have knowledge before you are able to use it appropriately, and to apply it appropriately, would deflect the lessons that you are attempting to learn, for with knowledge, there must eventually come wisdom. And understand that your soul has the wisdom and the knowledge in balance.

The concrete version of Self, all of you here, is working on developing the balance of wisdom and knowledge. Many of you still are completely bound in knowledge only and not able to bring it into the higher levels of understanding, which is wisdom. And that is where your soul maintains that control in helping to bring the wisdom that comes eventually from knowledge.

When you are asking for this point of origin, what exactly are you looking for? Where this happened? I mean, the name of the place? And the time of the year? And the exact time?

No. You would not be looking for anything as concrete as that. Your point of entry, your origin, is an energy perspective, a configuration of energy, not a configuration of time and place, as is concrete. So that what you are asking for then is quite abstract and is an indication of your thread of behavior. You will not be going into soul and being told that, "On January 23, 1942, at 2:15 a.m., you entered in, in some illusion many, many, many illusions ago, and that that is your point of origin." It would have no reference for you to utilize in this illusion. You would not be able to understand. It would have no meaning, you see, for time on the earth plane only has meaning as it is used in reference to other earth plane time that you can use within this illusion. Time existed in The Atlantean Illusion. However, no one in this illusion, currently, on the plane has a frame of reference adequate enough to refer back to time as it was measured in The Atlantean Illusion.

What you look for then in your search for your point of origin is your behavior, your thread of behavior. When you are given that information, you will understand its meaning. When it is time for you to have that information, it is also then time that you will understand it.

When you say thread of behavior, what does that sound like? Could you give an example?

Well, we gave you an example using Mushiba as a thread of behavior, the sense of order. You see, that is a concrete example.

So, we would get that answer rather than such and such a month that represents that answer.

That is correct, my love. You would not be looking for the name of an astrological configuration as you know it now on the earth plane, for from illusion to illusion those definitions and frames of reference for astrological configurations change. They are appropriate to the particular illusion, and therefore, contain the information that is understood by those living in the illusion.

The names that were given to those astrological configurations during The Atlantean Illusion, for example, were quite different. They, however, did describe the same types of behaviors. So, the description of behaviors remains fairly constant from illusion to illusion, but it is the naming and the definitions of these configurations that change from illusion to illusion. That is why when you are discussing your own origins that you move into the abstract rather than the concrete, for the concrete changes from illusion to illusion, and indeed, from day to day in the illusion. The abstract has a more constant approach in its understanding.

When An Entity Departs The Earth Plane ~ The Gift Of Companionship From Another Who Departs At The Same Time, Followed By Questions And Responses

Just as you enter in alone, you leave alone. Except for the fact, and this is where a little gift is given to each entity, we have said in many, many sessions past that when one entity departs, there is another who also departs at the same time. There is an infinitesimal difference in departure in terms of energy. It is not exact, for the exact moment is unique to each entity. However, there is a return into The Spirit Kingdom with another at so close a proximity of energy that it feels as if you have companionship that applies to the immediate departure from the energy closely aligned with the planet Earth.

Once you move toward the Tunnel to leave the earth plane and return into spirit, some entities who are departing at the same time are separated, for whatever the reason. Some stay in what you commonly refer to as the astral plane and become stuck. Others would remain closer to the earth plane energy, thinking that they are indeed still in this dimension that you find yourselves in now currently. So, there is order to entry and there is order to departure, final departure.

When we are ready to leave our point of exit, how does that relate to this Group Balancing, where our soul, along with other souls, leave at the same time. Although you said it is infinitesimal, there must be a reason for the Group Balancing.

Oh, indeed. Yes, there is. You are in Group Balancing leaving at approximately the same time. You see, infinitesimal is, as we would define it from a Universal perspective, so infinite that those of concreteness would not understand it. It certainly cannot be measured by any of your earth plane tools of measurement. It is completely of an infinite nature. It is not by any means finite. And so, even though there is the apparent departure at one time, there is the waiting in line, even though it is, as we would say, a very infinite spacing. It would not be spacing as you would have as a frame of reference. So, it is happening instantaneously. It is so quickly assimilated that it gives the appearance of departure at the same time ~ time as measured on the earth plane being a concrete concept, as opposed to what we describe as a very abstract concept.

When you said that we come in alone, however, that we go out and we are given a gift, and that gift is another soul goes out at approximately the same time.

That is correct.

Why is that a gift?

Because then there is not the sense of aloneness. Completing the earth plane sojourn means that you have brought about a sense of wholeness to Self. That wholeness of Self, then, for the journey on the earth plane, and accomplishing that sense of wholeness, enables you then to bring with you, another. One of the quests on the earth plane is to unite with Self, to have companionship. One of the reasons for the sense of aloneness entering the earth plane is to set up each energy for the journey on the earth plane for finding Oneness, for finding wholeness. That becomes quite allusive to many entities until there is an acceptance of Self, an acceptance of Self as to the percentage that was agreed upon to learn on the earth plane sojourn.

When that percentage of learning has been accomplished, it means that you have let go of the issue of trying to become One with Self, and therefore, by letting go, you have it, and you have companionship. It is something that was always there, but oftentimes, energies think that they are completely alone. When you enter the earth plane, you are given the illusion that you are indeed completely alone. You must learn that that is an illusion. When you leave the earth plane, it is the gift ~ from Self to Self ~ of having learned the lesson ~ no entity is ever alone, even though you are separated infinitesimally.

So, you are speaking of Self, really.

Indeed.

Rather than another.

No, there is another. There is another distinct entity. It could be your soul mate. It could be your twin energy. It could be an energy that has no previous connection of experiences with you. What it simply signifies is that you recognize that you are not alone. Even though you are infinitesimally separated, you are nonetheless with companionship.

When you say soul, are you saying the complete soul, or in my term of reference, would be that like soul consciousness?

Your soul, not The Universal Consciousness.

No, I did not mean The Universe. All right, my soul.

Your soul. However, you would give it terminology, whether your frame of reference refers to it as soul consciousness, or soul, or whatever, it is that connecting energy to The Universal Consciousness that controls each energy that we refer to. So, it is soul in our terminology. Referencing your own terminology, then, when you refer to soul consciousness, it is the same as when we simply refer to soul.

Just to clarify, was the companion you mentioned on leaving the lifetime, after every lifetime? Or just the final earth lifetime?

With the final earth lifetime, you would be aware of that. With each departure, because of the infinitesimal qualities and your own partial unacceptance of Oneness, you would not be aware that you had all of this companionship. When an entity leaves the earth plane, in some cases, there is what we call mass departure, and entities are not aware that there is any other entity leaving. It is as if you are in a bubble and you do not see any other entity around you. You think you are leaving alone, while actually, the line is quite long. You know, we have talked of the mass departures and the rush before the final shifting. There is a continual line at the portal. It never ever goes down. It is in some time frames much longer, but in general, there is always a line at the portal. Comings and goings, that is what occurs at the portal.

Sometimes, we do sit there at our table and we check off, you know. You have been good. You have not been so good. You have to go to this training ground now because you have to learn something else. And sometimes, we go there with our scepter and beard, and we open the golden gates. Sometimes, they are pearly. Sometimes, they are golden. It depends. But there is always activity going on. It is never dull. It is never quiet. And during this time of illusion change, of course, there is quite a crowd, and we have special Angelics trained in crowd control, for there is this desire to just get through. And we have to be most careful, for the darkness is also at the portal trying to grab an entity if they can, and of course, as we have said before, the dark just never catches on that we have the strong protection.

But when you are standing in line at the gate, you are not aware that there is an entity in front of you, and there is an entity in back of you. You simply think you are moving along as you should be, and you get to that point, and you are brought back into the spirit, and you then evaluate.

And all the information that we have given you now relates only to the earth plane journey, the earth plane sojourn. There is other information that relates to other training grounds. However, it is only necessary for you to understand this information, to have this information relating to the earth plane. That is where you are now, and that is where you find your journey, and that is where you need to have the information that relates to your specific journey now. When you are on other training grounds, then similar types of information are given out. And similar types of gatherings, such as you find yourself in now, exist in other training grounds to give out the appropriate information.

Why wouldn't you be aware of the other people going toward the gates? It sounds like it would be a fun time to talk and compare lives and have a social thing.

It is not, actually, appropriate to talk and compare with others. It is indeed not really allowed, for it would dissolve that which you have attempted to learn by trying to compare yourself with what another has learned. The evaluation that you give after you have completed a lifetime is done with your Angelics and your guides, and not with others. As you look at your life you see it in terms of your own path and not the path of another. We have said so often that you cannot, and must not, compare yourself with another. The danger then would be that you would inhibit your own growth by comparing with another, for it would mean that you would have to know the other's path, and that is not allowed, you see. So thus, it is that you have the sense of isolation. It is purposely directed in that way.

We would prepare now for departure, and as we do this we would bring you all into a centering of your own energies and a soothing of your energies. Gather now into that which is the Heart Center the energy of Self. Form in the Heart Center a soft warm White Fuzzy Ball of White Light ~ very white, very soft, very fuzzy, very warm. It fills your Heart Center. Feel this warmth spread now throughout the encasement, filling all of the parts of your encasement. You feel warm and soft and fuzzy and filled with very bright White Light. Slowly now, let this warmth, fuzzy White Light, move out of your encasement and fill the gathering you find yourself with now. And feel the mingling of soft fuzzy White Light, and relax. You are safe. You are protected. And as we depart now, slowly begin moving about and greeting each other and sharing the fuzzy white soft Light. We depart now, and we send to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.
