Open Questions Regarding Earth Changes

We would in this session take from you some open questions regarding the Earth changes, in the expectation that some of the questions that you raise in this particular gathering, we will address in greater detail in the next few sessions to come. We are planning a very special type of energy exchange when the changing of the earth seasons comes. We are aware through Mushiba that in a session in which we will speak with you publicly would also coincide with the changing of the seasons, as you call it.

Thus, we would give you that information now so that you may make your plans accordingly, for the theme of giving Light to Earth for this year will be focused upon during each of the season changes that you will find yourself involved in for this earth plane year. We will have a very specific type of meditation technique and vibrational soothing technique to give to you for each of those changes. They will be different, for each of the positionings of the axis differ from season to season. So, we would then take questions from you. (There is a long silence) We like rocking. We can sit here for one earth plane hour and rock and you can watch us.

How Are Illusions Set Up? Who Does It? Are There Variations Of Each Illusion?

Well, you know, the earth plane is indeed a training ground that has a very specific purpose and a very established set of plays that occur. We call them illusions. They are placed into, what you could use as a frame of reference, a portfolio of plays that are played out in a specific time frame, as it is measured on the plane, that works into the timing and the way that time is measured on the plane. It takes approximately one million earth plane years to go through all of the illusions in the portfolio. So, every million years, then, the illusion that you currently find yourself in comes back again. So, illusions never go away. They simply are placed on the shelf. The essential staging of the illusion comes back in the same way each time.

What changes is the way that the play is worked through. The cast of characters, shall we say, changes. Those who are in the play change, thus creating new types of conclusions from certain behaviors. The types of issues to be learned, and the way in which they are concretely presented, are the same when the illusion comes around each million years. So, when this illusion that you are currently in comes back on the plane in one million years, it will have the same types of scenarios being played out ~ the same types of issues with your political systems, and your social systems, and the prejudices that exist. The way in which those are played out will differ. The costumes may differ somewhat. When it is time for The Atlantean Illusion to come back onto the plane, it will have the same types of issues to work through, the same type of staging, if you will.

The planning of this actually occurs in several ways. There is the major planning of the illusions as a portfolio when those who run the kingdom take their place. We have indicated that The Universe now is run by five entities. Amelius, to whom we report, is one of those five. Other times, The Universe is run by more entities, and other times, The Universe is run by fewer entities. The Universe is run also in the same way as the Portfolio of Illusions is run, as you have your frame of reference for the earth plane. Time is a different issue. It is not measured, the amount of time.

Each of the five who run The Universe now have an entity in training to replace them. When the entity in training for each of the five has received all the training, then all five of those entities will then come before the five who run the kingdom ~ The Universe. A decision will be made as to whether those five entities will split and create more who will help in the running, or will absorb into another ~ merge, consolidate, if you will ~ to create fewer who would run The Universe. Those are decisions that are made at that level which is right outside of The Universal Consciousness.

What then occurs is that the new cast of characters running The Universe have to design their own portfolio. They go into each of the training grounds and look at the portfolio and make changes or additions. The earth plane Portfolio of Illusions will be subject to change when it is time for the five, who currently run The Universe, to merge back into The Universal Consciousness and allow the new entities to organize and operate The Universe.

There is still, as you call it on the plane, much time before that will occur. It is estimated that it will probably have a running through of the earth plane portfolios for several more times. So, there is for this portfolio perhaps three to four more run-throughs, if you will, or three to four more million earth plane years of this particular series of illusions to run through. So, an illusion comes in and gets set up, and an illusion plays through and goes back into the portfolio and another illusion comes in. They go in the same order, however, so that there is no switching of the order in which the illusions are presented on the plane.

What is always a constant with the illusions is, as we have described in the past, a thread of commonality that connects one illusion to the other. Portions of one illusion remain for The New Illusion and are carried into The New Illusion. Once all the illusions have gone through the first time, which occurred many millions of earth plane years ago, there is then in each illusion something from all the other illusions. So, the illusion that you find yourself in now has something from all the other illusions, has some component of it.

The way in which an illusion is maintained is very organized, as you would expect anything in The Universe to be. There are systems established that, with the use of energy, maintain the illusion and also create a connector from illusion to illusion. So, as we have spoken of the new structures being constructed to replace the twelve pyramids currently being used as connectors for the energy and the illusion on the plane, there will be then an exchange of energy from the pyramids, as you know them, to the new structures. Those new structures will be in place simultaneous to the dissolving of the old structures. So, there is no momentum lost and the threading is maintained. When The New Illusion that you are about to enter into comes to its closure, and is ready to make its connections with the illusion to come after it, the same type of situation will occur. There will be a time frame of energy exchanges and information exchanges into those new Energy Centers.

This type of process was set up by the five who currently run The Universe. When the new group comes in to run The Universe, they may organize it in a different way. It is up to those who are running The Universe at any point in time, as you know it, and it is they who determine the way in which it is organized. Once the process has been set up, it actually becomes rather easy. It is simply a maintaining of the balancing of who is on the plane at any point in time.

Entities are not allowed to enter the earth plane without permission, for there would be an imbalance in the vibrational attunements that could create difficulties for the entire playing out of an illusion. Those permissions, however, are agreed upon with your higher levels of Self and your guides and your Angelic Protector. It is all very well thought out.

Many Entities Are Working In Many Different Dimensions Simultaneously

A while ago, I asked you about a picture I had seen, and your answer was that it was The New Illusion. In the picture, it appeared that something was coming out of the ocean and there were buildings, and so forth. Would you expand on that information?

Yes, we would. What many of you on the plane are experiencing, and many may experience now in these final times of this illusion, are energy shiftings. Understand ~ many of you do ~ but understand that time, as you know it, is not what you call linear. Time is very fluid. And even though there is an attempt to make it linear on the earth plane, that is part of the game that is played.

The more that you become in a sense synchronized with the ebbings of time as an energy, you are able then to actually see things that are a reflection of the ebbings, the back and forth flowing of time as an energy, and are then able to see things that will be happening that have already been determined to be happening ~ as you would say, the future. However, what you are seeing as the future in this time frame is subject to change and is not to be considered a definitive future, but rather, one of the possibilities because of the ways in which time as an energy flows.

In a time when the illusions are switching, when they are in a state of transition, you will see part of what is to come during that actual transition, during, in this case, the axis shifting. When the axis shifts and the reconfiguration of water and land occurs, as we have indicated, there will be then land coming up and land going down, water and land reconfiguring.

What many of you may be able to plug into is a vision, if you will, of the time as an energy flowing, and showing you a concreteness to something that is still abstract in your time frame, in your linear interpretation of time, as you see it right now. You are sitting in meditation, for example, and it is a specific time on the earth plane. It is a specific day. It is a specific week. It is a specific whatever you want to give it for concreteness. Around you is flowing, time as an energy, just as all around you, your own vibration as an energy flows.

Thus, what you are able to do as you attune yourself to the flow, is to actually plug in. It would be much like taking some type of equipment and plugging it into a receiver. and suddenly, you are hearing or seeing pictures or sounds that were unavailable to you until you had the proper instrument. What you see then would be what flows past you, and it may flow in one direction. Then it will flow in another direction back again. It is creating the possible scenarios of the energy that is going to exist where you currently are planted. You are linear in where you are. You are concrete. You are unidimensional, if you will. Around you are multidimensions. And around the multidimensions are multidimensions.

When we speak of interdimensional, we are speaking of the movement into one dimension and another dimension and another dimension. But they are all intertwined. Dimensions exist simultaneous to each other. Yet, depending on the training ground in which you find yourself, you believe that you are unidimensional. This is the only place where you are, where you find yourself. The earth plane is one of those training grounds that gives a sense of unidimensional perspective. However, one of the challenges to being on the earth plane as a training ground is to break through that perception of unidimensional, for all the dimensions exist around the earth plane. You are able then to break through the concreteness of the illusion in which you find yourself, and at the same time, remain in the illusion.

It is a rather fun thing to do. For some, however, when first experiencing it, it can be a bit disconcerting and can be a bit frightening to some. There are many who are on the plane now who do this as a matter of course. It is the way that they live, and they do not even stop to analyze it, to say, "Oh, I am interdimensional now. I am functioning in the current illusion. and at the same time, I am functioning in other dimensions. Oh". They do not even think of it.

The only time that it would come up as a topic, perhaps, is if, as in this illusion transition time, they are called upon to work in many different dimensions simultaneously, and find themselves then coming back into the current illusion with a great deal of fatigue and a sense of exhaustion. There are many on the plane ~ there are many of you in this gathering ~ who are currently involved in that. You are working in many different dimensions simultaneously.

There are mass departures occurring now, not just of The Human Kingdom but of all of the kingdoms. Thus, you are called upon for that. You are called upon to aid perhaps those who have been close to you in this particular illusion, in this lifetime that you are in, to help them through the tunnel and into the waiting room, and then through the processing chamber. That can take a great deal of energy and work.

Many of you have been in the process of having vibrational changes occur in your encasement that are meant to coincide with the new vibration of the planet, the East to West energy flow as opposed to the North to South energy flow. In those changes comes a great deal of pulling on the energy and a sense of fatigue that can occur. But it is also interdimensional, you see. Does that answer your question?

That is a whole topic that I did not expect you to address. The picture that I saw was apparently in the Atlantic Ocean. And it appears to be like apartment buildings and such, stone buildings, that seemed to be in the picture. At the time that I had asked about it, you said this was part of The New Illusion rising. I have a vision or a thought that it is sort of like a Ferris wheel. Am I correct that perhaps some of the physical parts of The New Illusion are underneath the ocean and are rising?

Yes.

Would those who dive into the ocean be able to see such?

Entities see only what they are capable of seeing.

So, the earth could be thought of then perhaps as a Ferris wheel. And when it comes up, it comes up. Could that be?

You know, that is a very interesting analogy to be using, a Ferris wheel. I am going to bring that back to Amelius and see what he thinks of that particular analogy ~ a Ferris wheel. Yes, indeed. We are plugging into the memory banks, the vocabulary banks of Mushiba to look at this. Yes. What is perhaps more important to understand, and it relates to your analogy of a Ferris wheel, my love, is that the Portfolio of Illusions stays within the vibration of the earth plane. There is not this little briefcase that is carried out and put in some other part of The Universe, and when it is time for a new illusion, we pull it out and throw it onto the earth plane and take the other one out and put it back in its little briefcase.

It is all self-contained. It is all within the earth plane physical and the earth plane abstract, the energy of the earth plane. Understand, of course, that the earth plane is made up of layers and layers and layers of energy. Using that type of descriptive could be actually rather appropriate. There is this sense of rolling forward, moving around and around, and certain parts of the concreteness are placed, when we say on the shelf, or the back burner, in actuality, meaning where they cannot be seen. But they are not lost, you see.

We are ready for the next question. We will be addressing, however, in greater detail the issues that have been raised in the questions asked.

Having Visions Of Another Dimension

Am I understanding that what you are saying is that a whole portfolio coexists simultaneously, and we either choose, or are able to look at, different parts of it?

That is correct, my love. Yes. As you sit now in this gathering, you have the potential to be completely aware of all that exists. However, that can be a bit overwhelming. Thus, it is the reason why the earth plane, especially, as a training ground, has so much density to it, so much concreteness to it. But certainly, in your meditations, it is an appropriate time to bring yourself into multidimensional understandings. You can actually access the portfolio and view it as you would perhaps a mini-theater where you are able to see all of the plays stretched out, and see its entirety ~ all of the different illusions. In doing that, you would be able to see how they each connect and relate to each other, and that there is a sense of organization to the order in which they come and the way in which they are presented.

You see, many, many have thought it a bit confusing that the illusion that you are currently in seems to be less advanced than the illusion that came before it ~ The Atlantean Illusion. But we will not go into it in this session. We have raised the issue. But we will be discussing the reasonings for the ways in which illusions in the portfolio come in their sense of order. We will elaborate more on that.

Is This Shifting Of The Earth's Axis Necessary For The New Illusion?

Each new illusion has its own way of creating the transition from one illusion to the other. This particular shaking of the axis was determined to be the appropriate way for this particular transition. It is not always the same way from illusion to illusion. For example, when this illusion comes around again, and it reaches a point of closure and entry into the next illusion, it may not necessarily have a shifting of the axis to do that. This particular shifting was determined to be appropriate because of the ways in which vibrations had settled in to various energy pockets around the planet.

There have been other illusion changes in which flooding occurred. There have been other illusion changes in which the top of the middle of the planet, which is what you might refer to as the ocean floor, completely turned around, and the bottom became the top. Thus, it created an incredible kind of changing. Some illusion changes are extremely dramatic and do not leave as many entities on the plane as this particular illusion change is leaving. There are many more remaining in this illusion change than other illusion changes. When Atlantis concluded, it was through flooding. That was how the cleansing occurred and that is how the illusion changed.

This particular illusion now has developed energy pockets that need to have a complete shaking in order to loosen them from the strongholds that they have developed. In the Atlantean time, for example, there were no pockets of energy as there are currently on the plane. The energy was focused in very specific places on the plane. There was not the spreading out of living in the Atlantean time as there is now in this illusion. Thus, it was much more concentrated. When it came time for the illusion change, it was much easier actually.

This illusion, by its very definition, required a spreading out of living. As a result of that, it was a predictable situation, that there would be these strongholds of energy pockets. When that has occurred in other illusions, there have been similar kinds of shaking that are required to get them off the plane or to get them in other parts of the plane, to move them about. Remember that those who will be staying into The New Illusion will remain regardless of where they are when The Shifting occurs, you see. It may be that a particular entity is in one of those energy pockets, and in order for them to get into another part of the planet where they need to be, they need to be physically shaken and pulled out of it and then shown the way to their new location.

Is The New Illusion Attempting To Balance Pockets Of Light And Dark Energy?

Is The New Illusion Attempting To Balance Pockets Of Energy, To Spread It Out Evenly?

Yes.

And so, they are not necessarily negative.

Oh, no, no.

Seeking a balancing?

Yes, it is seeking a balancing. We do not speak of energy generally in a negative way unless we are very specific in saying that it is of a negative force. When we speak of the energy pockets, there are some that are so dense that they are in a dark arena of themselves. But for the most part, it is simply a spreading out of the full Spectrum of Light ~ thus, the very Light and the very dark. There are some places on the planet now that have a very large concentration of Light, and some other places have a very large concentration of dark.

Due to the people's thoughts?

Oh, it is due to many things, thoughts being one of them. Yes. Thoughts are an energy. We have said this in other sessions also. Any thought that any entity has, has a ripple effect upon the entire consciousness. Thus, the need to bring in more positive thinking is critical as The Shifting is about to take place. There will be, however, with The Shifting, then a concentration of Light and a concentration of positive thought. For those entities in The Human Kingdom, and those energies in all of the other kingdoms who remain after The Shifting, will have received a balancing. As we have so often said, that once The New Illusion ~ any new illusion kicks in ~ the imbalance begins again. But for a while, at the beginning of The New Illusion, there is that complete balancing, as complete as balancing can be on any training ground, and especially the earth plane.

So, as we so often say to you, in sending the Light, you are sending the positive, and that helps to break down energy pockets. The theme that we have for this year of GIVE LIGHT TO THE EARTH is an attempt to help the earth in the dissolving of those energy pockets and the balancing of it, so that when The Shifting actually occurs, there will already have been a loosening of the energies. It will be much easier for the earth to shake it all and to have it resettle in its appropriate positioning.

Being Of Service By Helping Those Who Will Be Leaving At The Time Of The Shift

If you were to review all the people in this room, what are most people concerned about with the changing of the illusion?

In this particular gathering there is a large percentage of you who are concerned about your abilities to help others to work their way through this change. There are only a few who have a sense of fear. There are other times when those gathered for our sessions concentrate with an energy of anxiety and fear over what is to occur. This particular gathering, there is not that type of concentration. There is a sense of understanding of what is occurring and a sense of wanting to know more about what can be done to help others to work through their own fears. Most of you in this particular gathering have been through an illusion change and understand at a higher level that it is no big deal, as we so often say. It is not a big deal. It is not an ending. It is a transition.

There will be many things that you are accustomed to in this illusion that you will take with you into The New Illusion, and many that you will not. So, there is the sense of understanding in this gathering, a sense of concern of Being of Service to those who would call upon you as they feel their own anxieties. There are many on the plane ~ the majority on the plane ~ who do not want to even talk about what is occurring, do not want to acknowledge that there is an event about to occur. If they do, they speak of it in ridiculing ways, "Oh, it is the end of the world," ~ thus, to give it less credence, to give it no power. They can deny anything that they want. Those who do not deny the changes are primarily those who will find it easier to go through those transitional moments.

If they choose not to, and there are many who could stay who will choose not to stay, they will choose not to stay primarily so that they can truly be of a higher level of service to those who do not want to leave, and who will have to leave, and will have great difficulty. There are many who will have to leave who will not want to leave and could potentially become stuck in one of those outer layers of the earth plane, often referred to as the astral plane. It is a time when we attempt to get everyone through that muck, you see. What we sense from the gathering is that type of concern. There will inevitably be many who will find the transition most difficult. The major challenge to those who will work with the departing entities in getting them through, is in not losing anyone. They can get stuck in the muck.

Angelic Protectors Are Responsible To Watch Out For The Path Of The One They Protect

Every Angelic Protector, as we have talked of in the past, is responsible for watching out for the path of the one who they protect. Thus, when it is time for an entity to leave the earth plane, The Angelic Protector must be on guard. There have been occasions where an Angelic Protector has lost its charge, and then The Angelic Protector must go on its own path of finding the lost entity. That is a lesson in itself. That could take, as you measure on the plane in time, millions of years. They go around The Universe crying out, "Yoo-hoo. Yoo-hoo. Where are you?" But the serious part of this is that The Angelic Protector is accountable to The Universal Consciousness for protecting the entity to whom it was given the charge.

When there is an illusion change, especially, and such mass departures occurring, the forces of dark and Light are all lined up, and the dark are trying to grab an entity. It is all part of the game that is played. The Angelic Protector is there to make sure that the entity is not grabbed without their agreement. Many entities would freely go with a dark entity as they are leaving the earth plane. They may say, "Yes, I will go with you. You offer me what seems to be a better deal," ~ in the short term. Thus, they go off with the dark. That is different from being grabbed, you see. At an illusion change this is what occurs, a great lining up of dark and Light forces. That is part of what occurs.

We will of course discuss this as time progresses, this departing procedure, if you will, and the responsibilities that go along with those who choose to stay, those who are able to stay but choose not to, and those who must leave because their vibration is not attuned enough to stay.

Some Examples Of Helping In The Transition Of Those Passing Over ~ And In Mass Departures

I am curious about how one who chooses to leave, although they can stay, helps one who has to leave. Is it that they leave about the same time, and therefore, it helped them through that period?

That is one of the possibilities. The other is to, in some cases, physically push them out of the energy of the earth plane ~ actually push them through the tunnel, one of the various tunnels, into the waiting room. Another scenario is to be gentle and show them that there is nothing to fear and that they are not negative in any way because they must leave. There are many, many different situations that occur with an entity who must leave who does not want to. There are many entities currently leaving now who know that they cannot remain, and they say, "Well, let's go now and get it over with, and that gives me more time to get ready to come back in when The New Illusion can accommodate unbalanced entities," you see.

There are large percentages of entities who know that they cannot stay because they have not reached that level of balance to be in the beginnings of a new illusion and do not view that as any kind of negative. They simply say, "Well, yes, I have only been on the earth plane for two million earth plane years, so yes, I have not advanced enough to be able to be part of the beginnings of a new illusion. But if I wait until The New Illusion is ready to take on my imbalance, then I have that whole illusion to work to the point where I will be able to be part of The New Illusion startup." Maybe the next time around, the next illusion that comes, that entity can be part of the beginnings of a new illusion. Other entities view it, not being able to stay, as some type of indictment against them. It is not. It is not.

We have stated in the past that we will physically pull-out entities who refuse to leave, for it is their time to leave, and they will not acknowledge that it is their time. This occurs with many entities, not just at illusion changes, but at any time. When it is time to leave, it is time to leave. Period. At the conscious level, there can be quite a bit of disagreement with the higher levels. One of the reasons that entities can become stuck on the earth plane outer layers of energy is that at a lower level of themselves, they did not acknowledge that it was time to leave. They were stubborn, if you will.

When the higher levels said, "It is time, and we now leave," there was sort of a fluctuation, if you will, of the energy line. The lower level said, "No, no, no." And the higher level was pulling through the muck, but there was such a pulling that the entire energy, or at least a part of it, got stuck, because in going through the muck, it must go like that, you know ~ (Waith slaps his hands) It must go very quickly, for those vibrational energies in the outer levels of the earth plane are very dense. This is part of what we will be faced with in the transition, for the mass departures will be so tremendous that just getting everyone through will be a challenge in and of itself. But we will talk more of this as time progresses on the plane.
