The Search For Self Through Meditation ~ Harmony Within Self And Gender Harmony

Four out of the six in The Company have already come in to discuss their particular component, and scheduled for this earth plane month is Boopsie. It is Boopsie who is charged with the responsibility of assisting energies as they search for Harmony within Self and the issues relating to the gender that has been taken on in the lifetime, as well as harmony with the gender opposite to what they have taken on, as well as harmony with the same gender. We give you the three different scenarios, for there can be an energy in a particular gender encasement that is the opposite to what is called the Dominant Gender, for when your energy is defined, initially, you are either what you know as male or female in this illusion.

When you come onto the earth plane, you take on lessons of gender, which means that you not only must learn the issues of the gender you have been assigned, or agreed to take on, but also you must learn the lessons of the opposite gender. This means that in order to do so, you must come into the encasement and live the life of the gender opposite to what your dominant gender actually is. This is what creates so much interest, challenge, excitement. It is also an explanation for why many on the plane feel very comfortable in their encasement, and others feel very uncomfortable in their encasement.

Relationships Of Same Genders Versus Relationships Of Opposite Genders

We have indicated in our other discussions that when The New Illusion enters into the vibration, that the tendencies that you now consider abnormal ~ that being same gender relationships ~ will slowly become the norm, and relationships with opposite gender will become what is now considered abnormal in the illusion ~ that of same gender being considered the abnormal. This is part of what many who are approaching The New Illusion feel discomfort, feel anxiety, for they know not what it will mean to the frame of reference that they now currently have.

Boopsie will be entering soon. She will give you a perspective of the playground on the earth plane of gender. And it will be from her prospective of training in Guide School and working with gender issues that she will be able to give you a greater understanding, for she has recently finished the earth plane sojourn and comes back in Guide position with a fresh memory of gender harmony. She is available to be called upon in your meditations as you search for guidance in your own issues of gender harmony. So, Boopsie will greet you now, and when she finishes, we will return and close out this particular meeting.

Boopsie Comes In And Speaks Of The Gender Issues Relating To Male And Female

Boopsie: Hello. I am Boopsie. We scan the energy of each of you. There are several in this gathering whose dominant energy is opposite to the encasement that you have taken on. We will not say who, however. Having recently finished the journey on the earth plane, I still have the memory impressions of the difficulties of gender, for my completion of the sojourn was in the illusion that you currently find yourselves. Moving into The New Illusion brings about, of course, a different perspective and a different energy. What I am able to share with you now is the perspective not only of the higher level, but coupled with what I experienced in my last lives on the plane.

Dominant Genders ~ The Issues Of Gender Dominance And Coming In As The Opposite Of Your Dominant Gender ~ Required Lessons To Be Learned

When coming out of The Universal Consciousness, an energy form is created ~ pops out! Many energy forms pop out ~ pop ~ pop ~ pop ~ pop. Waith has spoken of this phenomena. What occurs, then, is that gender becomes one of the many challenges that can be taken on. If an energy form, first of all, decides that it wants to become more than itself ~ to split ~ then it automatically agrees to some type of gender. The gender issues, however, are defined by whether or not you come onto the earth plane or you go into other training grounds. The earth plane has as its setup, male and female. All energy forms are male and female. In other training grounds, this is not the case. There are other types of identity criteria, not necessarily what you know as gender.

Coming onto the earth plane, then, brings you into a Menu from which you select what you are going to do on the earth plane. One of the requirements mandatory for earth plane journey is gender. You have no choice. The choices come in the ways in which you will work through the gender issues. So, you split as an energy, and within that energy split is an instantaneous determination of who will be what. So, each of you was in complete agreement with the gender that you are as a dominant gender ~ male or female.

There are specific roles assigned to the male and to the female. Male and female are not meant to be alike ~ hence, the difference! The attempt to be alike is a behavioral component built into the earth plane as a training ground. It is not meant that the female become like the male or the male become like the female, for in the splitting of energy, is created then the need to return back into The One, having achieved a balance within the gender. So, if you are female, you will need to learn all of the issues assigned to the female gender, and the same for the male. However, in order to understand Self, you must understand others. And in order to understand others, you must understand Self.

Waith's GUIDELINES FOR GROWTH indicate Respect for Self, first and foremost. The only way you can learn that is, first of all, feeling within Self that you are achieving the goals that have been determined. And the only way that you can Respect Self more is by then Respecting Others. And the only way that you can Respect Others is to learn of others and their journey.

Thus, you come in initially in the encasement of your dominant gender. So, if you are male, then your orientation time on the earth plane ~ the first ten or twenty lifetimes ~ is in the male. It is the rare occasion when that would not happen. You become settled in to the earth plane. You become acquainted with the male gender. The orientation time frame is meant for each entity to be, as you would say, bombarded with the issues. You may not necessarily even have to deal with the issues, but they will be infused into the Soul memory. For as you take on the sojourn of the earth plane, you will pull from the Soul memories what you need for each lifetime.

And then the fun begins. Orientation on the earth plane is a relatively calm, peaceful ~ make them feel safe ~ environment. And then, just when you think it is safe and you say, "This earth plane is not so bad after all. What were they talking about that the earth plane is one of the most difficult of training grounds and one of the most accelerated of training grounds? This is not so difficult." As soon as you say that, The Universe knows that you are ready now, really, to take on the earth plane and that your orientation time is over, for you have become complacent ~ this is the queue. This is how The Universal Consciousness knows. The bell goes off ~ ding, ding, ding, ding ~ "They think it is easy!"

And then, you as an energy begin to decide how you are going to learn the lessons for your gender in relation to the opposite gender, for in order to learn how it feels to be female and how others view you as female, you must become male ~ and vice versa. And it is when all of the issues of imbalance begin to come into play, for the earth plane, of course, is a training ground of imbalance. You balance for a very short time ~ a nanosecond, as you would call it. And then it is time to learn more, and so you become out of balance.

In gender harmony, you learn the issue of love of Self, and therefore, love of anyone or anything different from you. And you learn that by taking on the encasement and the life of a male or a female. Then it really becomes interesting, for relationships are formed. This is also part of the earth plane. It is a training ground of relationships. It is not meant to be alone on the earth plane, to come in and journey without another. It may not be that you have the Love of your Life, but you certainly have many, many around you, whether you want them or not. It is unavoidable.

There are some situations in which there is isolation, complete isolation, but those are rare and considered a special situation for a particular lifetime. But the environment of the earth plane is relationship geared and oriented ~ and it is gender relationships. So, what you feel about the opposite gender, whether it is good or not so good, is meant to be. You must be feeling the way that you feel, for this is how the play has been arranged.

And on the earth plane currently, and we stress this word currently, at this point in the illusion, the dominant type of relationship for love and intimacy is supposed to be, for humans, between a man and a woman. This was not true at the beginning of this illusion. This particular illusion, however, had built into it opposite gender as the IDEAL, the dominant type of relationship. And all of the issues of judgement and patience are built into gender, for those who would view relationships other than male and female are working on issues within Self.

Now, let us look at relationships. You are female dominant. You have spent many lives, many, many lives, as a female. You have come into the female body. You enjoy the female body. You like the female body. You like the power that a female who truly knows Self can have, and you decide now that you must learn from the male perspective how you look as a female. For you may have developed arrogance about your ability as a female. And so, in the planning of your series of lifetimes to come, with your Angelic Protector and your guides, you decide to take on lives as a male. You enter in.

Now, planning and actuality are not always the same. From the planning stage it looks easy. "Oh, of course, I have developed this great ability as a female, and it will be easy to go into the male and learn." For you have, perhaps, developed an arrogance toward the male gender, for as a female you think it is so easy to control them. "Oh, I have them wrapped around my little finger because I am so beautiful and because I know how to use my feminine wiles. This should be very easy."

You see, as soon as The Universal Consciousness senses arrogance, it pops in and changes what you might perceive to be a piece of cake. So, you come in ~ male body. And the first time you enter in, you are still female ~ you still feel female. And at the higher level, you start going, "Wait, what is this body? This is not what I am used to." It has things that you are not used to! ☺ It is missing some things. And you say, "My goodness, this is not quite what I expected."

And then the life of the male, as perceived by the culture in which you live, begins to take hold. You begin to see the way it is to live as a male, and how males act toward females, and how females act toward males. And it forces you to begin to reevaluate your own attitudes toward the male and toward you as a female ~ for arrogance is not allowed in The Universal Consciousness. And returning to The One means the elimination of the arrogance that develops because of the journey. Natural. It is natural. It is predictable. It is the imbalance.

And so, in a particular lifetime, you may, as a male encasement, walk like a female. Or if you are dominant male and you have come into the female, you may act and walk like a male ~ still thinking you have particular parts that you no longer have, and the way that you walk, even the way that you talk ~ your attitudes ~ are dominant male.

The goal is to do a series of lifetimes in the opposite gender so that by the time you reach the end, you feel very comfortable in that encasement and you have come into a sense of balance between the genders, for you hold no arrogance toward the opposite gender. You understand, for you have indeed walked in the life, many lives, of the opposite gender. This is the goal. On the earth plane now, it is often referred to as coming in touch with the feminine side or coming in touch with the male side. Generally, it is considered a bad thing for females to get in touch with their male, but it is considered a good thing for the male to become in touch with their female. Why is that? That makes no sense. That is part of the imbalance, for it must be that each energy comes in touch with its opposite.

Dominant Male And Female ~ And Relationships With Twin Flames Or Soul Mates

Now, we get into the issue of relationships with the twin flame ~ this is always an interesting discussion ~ or with a soul mate. You are, in relationships, dominant. Your twin flame or your soul mate is dominant male and you are dominant female. You spend many lifetimes in the encasement of your dominant energy. But then, one of you decides, "Wouldn't it be nice if one of us came into an encasement opposite to our dominant?" ~ and decide to come in together and have a relationship. Well, that is where same gender relationships have their root, have their foundation. Depending upon where you are in your own evolvment of comfort in the opposite will determine how that relationship works and how comfortable you are publicly with that relationship.

When we come to the end of an illusion, such as is currently on the plane, things become exaggerated and they become ready to flip into what will become the dominant type of relationship. This means that for the past three to five hundred earth plane years there has been a slow movement toward same gender relationships becoming more known and more practiced, for more and more energies have deliberately chosen to do this. This is a choice that is made. Everything is a choice. If you hear someone say, "I did not choose to be same gender oriented," they have not connected with their Higher Self, for there is the choice.

And so, we move now to the end of this illusion. The startup of The New Illusion will have the emphasis on same gender, and as that next illusion moves along and begins to reach its time of closure, the relationship of preference will begin to show itself ~ what will be for The New Illusion after this one coming. So, it is a progression. It is predictable.

Each illusion in the Portfolio of Illusions has already programmed into it a type of relationship. So, you find yourself now with issues of judgement ~ others toward you ~ you toward others ~ you within Self. You question, "Why do I have this lifestyle? Why does someone else have another lifestyle? What are these relationships all about?" They are to bring into the forefront all of the issues that we choose to learn about. Judgement is one of the biggest issues. Becoming nonjudgemental is the goal, and as Waith has said, you do not reach complete nonjudgemental positioning until that very moment of return to The One. So, any energy outside of The One will be judgemental. The issue becomes, then, to what degree are you judgemental.

Many energies evolve to the point of nonjudgement, that it appears that they are nonjudgemental ~ completely free of judgement. There is no energy outside of The Universal Consciousness that is free of judgement. It simply is an impossibility. The goal is to take the percentage that you work on in a particular lifetime and reach it. And then you do, indeed, reach perfection in judgement and being nonjudgemental. So, you may take on one tenth of one percent of the issue of judgement in perhaps a series of lifetimes, and not just one lifetime, so you have a very minute amount to take on. Working through gender harmony is one of those specific ways of testing judgement.

In our session with you next time, we will be giving a meditation relating to the finding within Self through meditation of what we call The Origin of Gender. As has been the practice in this yearlong topic, we give the concept first, and then we give the application, the meditation technique that you can use to more fully understand the concept ~ for you will not understand the concept unless you have experienced something first.

Each of you who is on the plane now has experienced something relating to gender, for you simply are here. Whether you are in your orientation stage, or whether you are at the end of your journey, you already have the experience to then relate to the concept. There is no reason for any energy form to feel that they are better than another simply because of the gender, or any worse than another simply because of the gender. The issues that you would take on to learn of those judgements are what your journey is about. You choose it. Take responsibility for what you have chosen.

Open your eyes to those around you in varying types of relationships, and understand that they are on a journey they have chosen. They may say, "I would never choose to do anything like this." That is their concrete Self speaking. It is not the Higher Self. It is certainly not the Soul. So, each of you is responsible for who you are. Nothing outside of you has contributed to that. It has influenced, but it has not determined who you are. Enjoy who you are.

In our meditation technique, we will help you to find who you are ~ what is your origin? What is your gender origin? Some know this, for that has been part of their path through many lifetimes and into this one. There are many who would actually joke and laugh and say, "Yes, you see this female body. I know that I am a dominant male. That is why I know how to use a tool belt." 😊 You must laugh about it! You see, gender harmony is taken so seriously on the plane. Gender harmony is considered a contradiction in terms oftentimes, "How can the genders be harmonious? They are natural enemies." They are not.

Each gender is given a list of things to do in the journey. They are different, and yet they are harmonious. For when they are completed, each of these lists, they come together to form the whole. That is all that there is. It is quite simple. Would you have questions about gender harmony?

Does one need to complete their own gender lessons before merging with our twin?

Boopsie: You will complete the percentage of the journey, or the series of lives that you determine to work in a different gender. You must have completed all of those plans before returning back to the twin, if that is the case. You cannot return to the twin unless there has been completion on both sides of the journey. One then would be out of balance if you still had several lives left or an issue that had been planned to be resolved and was not. Whatever you decide you want to do must be completed or else rearranged and redesigned, so as long as there is the intention to complete a particular lesson or a particular series of lives, you cannot join back with the twin flame.

What Are Some Of The Specific Tasks Of The Respective Genders?

Boopsie: Indeed. There is quite a list. However, we will give you what are the primary areas of difference. The female gender is responsible for nurturing. The male gender is responsible for antagonism ~ this is not a negative ~ this is not a negative. The female is responsible for instigation. The male is responsible for physical strength of the energy at concrete, which brings up a very interesting discussion of switching genders and bringing strength into the physical encasement. These are some of the many issues.

The female is not in every illusion charged with bringing in new entities. In some illusions it is the male who brings in the energies. In some illusions energies enter in a very different way than you are accustomed in this illusion. They come in through what you can only use as a frame of reference as osmosis ~ and it is the responsibility, in that illusion, of the male.

The responsibilities, as they get more specific, relate to the particular illusion in which they are played out, but those that I have given to you are the dominant. And, if you look at what those represent in terms of behavior, you will see how things happen between the genders. Think about it. They are neither negative nor positive from the perspective of The Universal Consciousness. Indeed, they are crude words to describe the concepts, for we have only the language and the cultural implications and perceptions currently on the plane to describe the concepts.

To ponder ~ for the issues of gender harmony will be discussed in much greater detail as we move into the closure of this illusion. Waith plans to have some very concrete types of discussions where there can be examples given, and guidance given, to particular situations with particular individuals and ways in which you can work through the issues.

You know, that if you speak with Waith individually, that he will give you answers to specific personal questions, and many times those questions that are asked of Waith relate to the gender harmony, for it is the dominant discussion on the earth plane, "He said ~ She said," and there are differences. Your goal and your strength as an energy is to know that there are differences and to understand those differences and to be able to work with those differences, not as a threat, but as a positive attribute. And the more that you have traveled in the encasement opposite to your gender and resolved the issues, the greater will be your ability to understand and be nonjudgemental of the opposite gender.

Boopsie Answers Questions About Her Lives When She Was On The Earth Plane

You mentioned in the beginning that you had recently completed lives on the earth plane ~ I think it was plural. Can you tell us how many lives and what the time frame was?

Boopsie: How many lives and when were they. There were several lives ~ perhaps as you would understand it, five or six in a series ~ that was the ending of the lifetime. It was in the final time frame of the beginning of the second half of this illusion. Do you understand? So, it was the final stages before the second half of this illusion began.

How long would the second half of the illusion be, roughly?

The second half has been approximately five thousand earth plane years. We had our series that came to completion at about that five thousand year mark ~ right before that. It was during a time when the transition was beginning, ever so slightly, and there was tremendous judgement on the plane.

By the time frame of half in an illusion, judgements, especially in all of the issues on the plane, begin to take on the exaggerated form. The first half of an illusion, they are building up to it ~ for the cleansing, of course, starts off fresh. You start The New Illusion fresh. It does not take long, however, for the issues to come back in different packaging. By the time midpoint is reached is when they begin to bubble, and by the time three to five hundred years is left in an illusion ~ sometimes one thousand years ~ the exaggeration begins to occur.

I had an interesting lifetime, for I am dominant female, as you would call it. Once returning out of the earth plane sojourn, there is no longer this definition of gender. But, for you to understand, I was female dominant. I am what you would call androgynous now, as is Waith ~ there is no gender. However, the appearance ~ I present myself as female dominant, for that was what I was on the earth plane. I was, what you might call, quite the hot number. ☺

Did you live the five lifetimes at once, or was it when one got over, then the next one became scripted?

Boopsie: There were two that were simultaneous. There was a lifeline that was sent out from my dominant energy, so that there was a simultaneous occurrence. So, that in actuality, sequentially, there were four or five, depending upon the frame of reference. Within that, however ~ the simultaneous lifetime ~ one was female in the female and the other was female in the male ~ meant to learn very specific lessons in issues of judgement.

During that time frame, what you know as witches were considered bad, as they are now. I was quite the witch ~ in both the simultaneous and the dominant ~ male witch, female witch. And, at exactly the same time frame ~ not the exact moment, but the same time frame ~ both lifetime's energies were burned because of activities.

They were difficult lives. They were lives of tremendous learning of lessons, for I was manifesting in a very arrogant way, which was what had been determined for the learning of lessons. I learned the lessons ~ I hope. Remember, that just when we think we have learned a lesson and become arrogant about it, The Universe will say, "Let's test that again."

So, you do not want to be tested.

Boopsie: That is correct.

So, you have done that.

Boopsie: We all have as energies, my son. That is nothing to be ashamed of. It is certainly not an indication of regression in the path or that you are bad. There is no such thing. It is simply that you have learned a lesson, hopefully.

So, we now will allow Waith to return and to give you his closing energies. We look forward to the meditation in the next time, and if any of you return for our next gathering and have questions of us ~ of what we have presented in this session ~ we would be most honored to answer. We send you harmony energy. Farewell.

Waith: Well now, Boopsie has given you quite a bit of information, has she not? Much to think about. There is much discussion on the plane now relating to, "He said ~ She said," and all of the exaggerated behavior between the genders. Those who seek growth within Self are those who attempt to rid themselves of those attitudes of gender disharmony and to simply go into any relationship with any gender without bias, without saying, "Oh, he is a male. He is going to act in a certain way. Oh, she is a female. She is going to act in a certain way."

As you can move out of those biases and those judgements, you become more loving within Self and more accepting of others, therefore more accepting of Self. And as you become more accepting of Self, you become more accepting of others ~ it is a wonderful cycle. It is the cycle of Love of Self and Respect of Self that goes out to others and reinforces and comes back. As you give out, so does it come back. You do not need a spooky Archangel to tell you that.

We are ready to depart now. We will seat the encasement, for Mushiba on occasion is out of equilibrium when returning in the standing position. We have been most pleased to have shared information with you in this gathering and to reunite with energies from other times.

Breathe very softly and slowly ~ focus your energies. Go within Self, quiet Self, and simply relax. Feel the Light, the love of Self filling your encasement, surrounding your Heart, soothing your Heart. You are peaceful and accepting of Self, and you will carry this out to those around you. We send to you all now the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.
