JANUARY 29, 1999

PUBLIC SESSION ~ OPEN QUESTIONS ~ DESCRIPTION OF THE THREE TYPES OF ANGELICS AND THEIR JOB DESCRIPTIONS ~ WHO IS AMELIUS ~ A BRIEF DISCUSSION OF THE CATHOLIC RELIGION AND SAINT FRANCIS

Waith: We send to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius.

The same to you. Fluffing?

Hello. Yes, give us light, too. Fluffing? Yes, indeed. Well. A very cozy little gathering here. And very special fluffs, my son. Yes. She who brought you in, Limera, sends you her love and fluffiness, also.

I send it to her as well.

Yes, indeed. You carry on the legacy.

She is happy?

Yes, she is. Yes, she is.

Much laughter of happiness.

Indeed, indeed. Several stories high now, yes. So then, my loved ones, this is an opportunity to ask questions of any nature, other than very, very personal. That is what public sessions is primarily about, so you can feel free to ask us anything, and we are ready to take on the question, whatever level they may be. And they may be frivolous or they may be very serious. It matters not to us. We enjoy any questions which you present to us. So let the games begin.

Waith, there was some talk before that there might have been an earthquake or some incident like that and, in fact, in Columbia recently, there was.

Indeed there was.

Is this the one you were referring to?

Yes and no. ☺ ☺ That is us, definitive. It actually was part of a series of earthquakes. You will also note that within, say the same flow of energy, as you call time, when that earthquake occurred, there were also a significant number of tornadoes, unusual large number of tornadoes, and what during a warmer time would also, another storm system, would qualify as hurricanes ~ all occurring within the same time frame of one to two weeks, as you would call it, the three predictors of the earth cleansing. There is, however, a series of very significantly large earthquakes, this first in a series. There will be another one, larger, then a third one larger than the second one ~ all occurring within a very short period of earth plane time ~ not in this geographic area, as we have indicated, but certainly will be affecting the entire earth, physical earth. Yes.

We are very busy at the portal. There was a significant mass departure, not just of the human encasements, but of all encasements. So it has been a busy little time. But again, as we have said so often for the record, those mass departures that are occurring now are avoiding the rush at the time of the shifting. So it is a good time. Some of you have been requested to help out at the portal. You may have felt a bit of a fatigue during the last few earth plane weeks, and part of that is your assistance at the portal, to help manage traffic, if anything.

Oh, it does not just float into some ether, where everyone who leaves ~ all of the energies who leave ~ go someplace. So very organized, and it takes time as you call it on the plane. It is a different perception of the flow of energy, but there needs to be processing done, accountability, and who goes where and, "Oh, you go to this little place," and all of that. So we have the need of many traffic managers, if you will. Yes indeed, a very similar system. Everyone does not go through the portal simultaneously. Well, we do have certain kinds of detectors, "Oh, yes. Call St. Peter." Yes, indeed. Does that answer your question?

Yes.

Another response: Well, Waith, I had a little question, but I haven't really formulated it the way I want to pose it yet. It had to do with the finances on the earth plane, especially with regard to a, President Clinton and his idea about investing money into the stock market, which I feel might be the whole key to crashing the economy in the country. That is my personal feeling about it, I was wondering if you had any light you would like to share on that.

We have said on the record that that which will create the financial collapsing will be the earth disasters and its effect upon the insurance as you call it, insurance industry. That which you have made reference to is very insignificant in terms of the totality of it. It will be part of the domino effect, as you might refer to it. We have already placed on the record, though not on the public record, that when the stock market made its first appearance at the number ninety five hundred, that it was the indicator that the tumbling effect would soon follow. That has occurred, the ninety five number has been reached. It does not mean that it is going to happen within the month as you would call it, but it is the trigger, it is the signal that that is about to occur.

If you will track the events, you will see that when that number was reached, what was going on when at the time of that number and what followed very closely after that, the three very specific weather events of tornado, hurricane and earthquakes, all followed the reaching of that number, and there will now be more and more very extreme weather conditions that will create the burden on the insurance industry. And once that industry is unable to meet its obligations, it will have its ripple effect. It is as simple as that. Although there is no definitive date that we would give you. Remember, we do not give definitive dates. Even the number, nine five hundred, was only an indicator of a trigger effect, not a definitive number, for it certainly went back to a lower number very quickly. It has not stabilized at that number.

Thank you.

Another response: Is the shifting going to be mean, and all of the people scared?

Oh, indeed, yes. The natural result from earth disasters, as you would call them, but we call them earth cleansings, would be the shortage of that which are the resources, so if there is an earthquake, for example, the shortages will naturally come as a byproduct to that. Part of the cleansing of the earth is to clean itself of vibrationally inadequate, if you will, energy forms. And thus any energy, be it human, animal, mineral, wood, carpet, name it ~ any encasement that houses energy, if it is not vibrationally attuned, it will leave, and these are the cleansings that enable those departures to occur.

Part of the end of any illusion then, as you are in now, brings about shortages that create what you call exaggerations, exaggerations of desire, exaggerations of fear, exaggerations of any kind of negativity. The flipside of that is also exaggerations of positive, so that there will be many on the plane who attempt to come to the service of those who are feeling fear and anger and deprivation. There are many on the plane who attempt to go into altered states to help those who must depart from the earth plane, as we mentioned earlier, going to the portal to help in many different tasks. So yes, this is a very predictable part of the end of an illusion.

Wherever you happen to be located, and whatever your particular path happens to be, determines what, and if, you give a response to any of these shortages and limited resources, or whether you have availability without problem to these resources. This is something very individual. Each energy on the earth plane has its own part in the play, if you will, of what is occurring. Some of you are as part of your journey meant to help those who have limited resources, physically, very intently, going geographically to where they are located in the rescue effort, for example. Some of you are not. You have other things to do. It is not meant for everyone to drop everything that they are doing and go rescue others. It would make for a very imbalanced world, if you will.

Does that answer your question?

Sure.

(There is a silence) I can sit here and rock, rock, and rock.

I have a comment. Can I make a comment?

Certainly.

I have noticed the other members of my family that reside right in the same house have all been reporting very vivid dreams, and remembering them, which is unusual for them, so I was kind of happy about it.

Indeed, and have you all gathered to discuss what they are remembering?

Not as a group, but sort of as a one on one with me ~ you know, mom ~ one person and mom and another person ~ and they tell me their dream.

You might find it advantageous to gather as a group to share the experiences. You may find indeed that there are commonalities that may, in fact, help you understand the balancing of the group that is attempting to be completed.

I'll try that.

Yes, we would recommend it ~ not to be taken lightly that there is a remembering of events in the dream state that should be used as a very important and significant tool for the development of Self, and especially in a group balancing situation. Part of the reason that groups need to balance is that they have not communicated in the past, whether it is the current life or the other lifetimes that have brought them into the situation of balancing, and you perpetrate the imbalance even more by not communicating as a group, calling it into the focus, and saying, "Let us admit that there is a group balance occurring here," and deal with it. Otherwise, it will haunt you for lifetimes to come. 😊 😊

And as Teetee, who is charged with Group Balancing in The Company, talks about Group Balancing as fun, according to her, from our perspective, of course, yes, it is fun. It is similar to when you watch a television program and you see all of this chaos going on and you think it is entertainment. That is the way it is for us with our clicker. We go along and look at all of the little lives occurring on the earth plane. Some of them are set on automatic, we push a button and it goes to some of our favorite spots. What is going on in this little group? Those are usually for the after hours, we take off our wings, get the equivalent of the Angelic beer. 😊 😊 Indeed, it is a special little brew.

What is the recipe?

It can only be consumed by an Angelic, yes. And do not even go there. 😊 😊

What are Angels supposed to be here for?

The Angelic Kingdom is a kingdom of service that is meant to help not only The Human Kingdom, and not only the Earth Plane, but all of the forms that manifest for energy and all of the other training grounds. Contrary to popular belief on the earth plane, there is no, what you call, hierarchy. We play into the hierarchy by saying that we are an Archangel, to give sort of a frame of reference. But there is no real hierarchy, those who are closest to God and those who are closest to the Earth ~ that is meant only for earth plane frames of reference.

We are however, designated to be messengers, protectors and warriors. Some of us are all three. I, for example, am all three. Some are only one. They are charged with being an Angelic Protector, for example, or a messenger or a warrior, and are specifically trained for that particular responsibility.

There is an infinite number of Angelics. It is a kingdom that much like The Human Kingdom or any of the kingdoms, has its progression of lesson learning. There are two ways of entry into The Angelic Kingdom. One is directly out of The Universal Consciousness, going only into The Angelic Kingdom ~ that is the only kingdom. The training is specifically for Angelics, and no other kinds of training grounds. Those types of Angelics are the ones who take on all three of the components that we mentioned.

The other entry into The Angelics is through just plain hard work. You can come from any perspective ~ you can have been on the earth plane and you can have been on many other training grounds. And as part of your portfolio of experiences, you pick The Angelics ~ and you earn your way into The Angelics. It is at that point that you would select one of the three available types of positioning ~ to be a warrior, to be a messenger, to be a protector. There is a special kind of training that goes into that particular positioning.

The training that one would take on in the other kind of entry is one that occurs outside of The Angelic Kingdom that gives intense training. All of you, for example, in this gathering, are eligible to come into The Angelic Kingdom. Not all choose to go into The Angelic Kingdom. It is not a situation where you sit on a fluffy white cloud with a little harp all day, you see. It is tremendous work.

When you talk about the three different purposes of The Angelics, can you explain some of that work?

Angelic Protectors are those who are assigned to every energy form. And each of you has, as a minimum, one Angelic Protector. That particular Angelics responsibility is to you for your entire time outside of The Universal Consciousness, the long term position ~ job security, if you will, as long as The Angelic is doing its job correctly. Some of you, on occasion, have more than one Angelic Protector. You may have two or three who may, in fact, have shifts, if you will, depending on the situation. You may be in a very particular series of lifetimes that requires a great deal of protection and you have all three, all at the same time, or two, or even four or five ~ it really is dependent.

But each energy has an Angelic Protector. That is their only job. That is their prime responsibility. They may be called on occasionally to help with another Angelic Protector, as we have indicated. They might become part of the group of three or four or five who come in periodically to assist, but that is what The Protectors do.

The Messengers are charged with pretty much what the title indicates ~ it is a giving of information, interdimensionally. Angelic Messengers can take on any kind of form. Part of their training is specifically geared, if you will, to how to manifest. Some of The Angelic Protectors know how to manifest, but it is not part of their training, specifically. It is The Messengers who are given this specific training in how to manifest.

So, you can be walking down the street, for example, and suddenly there is someone who you meet. It may appear to be random and a stranger who may say something to you that is a message that is meant for you. You do not realize it at the time, perhaps, but upon reflection, you realize that, "Ah-h, that person who I encountered said something significant to me." It could be that the person simply smiles at you and says, "Hello," and you have been having a very, very bad day, and think that there is no light and joy among humanity ~ everyone is horrible ~ and suddenly, here is a stranger who smiles and says hello to you.

Angelic Messengers, then, are not just the ones from on high who come in to give significant information that can change the world, if you will. Most of The Angelic Messengers are very quiet in their work. They are meant to provide hope. They are able to manifest as anything. They could be an animal. They may come in for a significant amount of time, or they may simply come in for a brief passing on the street.

That then gives you a description of The Messenger's role as very significant, very important. You may find a Mineral Kingdom member in the road, next to your car, for example. Suddenly, there it is, and you are attracted to it. You pick it up and it feels warm and it gives you a sense of safety, for example, or a sense of joy. That is an Angelic energy that has come in to give you the message of joy and safety. So, the messages may not necessarily be ones that are said to you and you instantly know, "Ah-h, something was just said to me, that was a message." Messages come in many different forms and variations.

The Angelic Warriors are those who are trained to battle with the forces of the dark ~ that is their specific responsibility. They are trained in knowing how to torment the forces of dark! The Angelic Warriors never attack ~ the light never attacks. It is the dark that always attacks. It is the light that defends. However, as we have said so often, there are numerous techniques that the light uses to instigate so that the dark will attack and therefore the light can defend.

At the time of the closing of an illusion, the battle becomes very significant and it is fought, if you will, at the higher levels, so that there is a protection. At the end of an illusion, as you find yourselves, the rules have all been put aside for the battles of the dark and the light ~ and the dark can in fact then go after those of lower vibrations than themselves. This is generally not allowed in the scheme of things, but at the end of an illusion, it is. It is the responsibility of The Angelic Warriors then, to keep them at bay, as you would call it.

Those who, then, come into The Angelic Realm after having served in other kingdoms, are trained specifically for one of these three arenas and have as their overseers, those of us who have been trained in all three areas. Our responsibility ~ me specifically ~ is over The Kingdom of Amelius ~ we report directly to him.

There is only one other layer of energy that is above us, if you will, and that is the training energy to take over the spot of Amelius. So that of the five kingdoms that currently exist, Amelius heading one of them, we are the one charged with reporting directly to Amelius. Therefore, we are in charge of, if you will, an infinite number of energy forms in the Angelic Realm.

We must then monitor all three arenas. Within that layering of responsibility are those who report to us ~ who also are responsible for all three layers. They, then, have Angelics responsible for monitoring one of the areas ~ The Messenger arena, The Warrior or The Protector arena. So, it is quite, what you call on the earth plane, an organizational chart ~ there are very specific duties and responsibilities.

What is our job here, what is we are actually here to do? We as a particular energy form are here to aid in the ending of the illusion and starting up of the next illusion, helping to bring an Energy Vortex into positioning, that Terra Lux is responsible for maintaining.

And who is Amelius?

Amelius is the name given, as a frame of reference, to one of five energies who are charged with heading up, or managing, if you will, everything outside of The Universal Consciousness. It is a form of organization. For this particular illusion that you are in and for many, many millions of illusions that have been and will be, there are five. So they divide The Universe into five sectors, if you will. Amelius heads up one sector. He has four counterparts. We have a counterpart also ~ we have four counterparts ~ those who are also charged with the same responsibilities as we have been charged with.

It is a fun job ~ think about it ~ charged with making certain that everything is in balance. The five of them sit at their big conference table and they talk about how they are going to keep everything balanced. Every energy is assigned to a particular kingdom ~ one of the five kingdoms. It does not mean, however, that you are segregated geographically. It is just a way of organizing. For example, of those of you in this room, three out the five kingdoms are represented, you see. We all talk to each other. That is essentially what Amelius' job is, if you will. He is the highest Level of energy for this particular grouping, if you will, of The Kingdom. The five of them form a unity for decision making, so when we make reference to Amelius, we are simply acknowledging the Highest of the Light in this particular kingdom of which we ~ Waith and our Company Members, are a part ~ and all who manage Terra Lux.

Is there competition?

No, there is no competition.

- ⚙ We want your job. 😊 😊
- ⚙ I don't want it.
- ⚙ Is it a game?

It is a game. Yes, it is. But there is no competition, as much as you may on the earth plane see that, in some cases, to be a contradiction, it is not. It is a game that all engage in, the playing of which is tremendous fun. Everything outside of The Universal Consciousness is a game. If you look at it in that respect, you would be a lot happier.

It is game. Even if it appears to be children starving and people being tortured, and all of that. Ultimately it is all part of the game, for certainly there are games on the earth plane that you play on these computers now that simulate that type of situation where you see how many people you can kill. So you see, you are correct, my love, that it is a game. The competition comes in at the training ground level and the game that is set up by Amelius and the four others is meant then to bring in competition. Competition is a game, although the game is not competition. Do you understand that?

Ummmm.

Indeed. Competition is quite a little game.

How could we deal with all these emotions that start with these people that is suffering? How can we deal with it, the pain, people is killing?

Some of you will feel that more than others, some of you are as part of your path, tuned in, if you will, to the pain that might be felt. Some are tuned to the pain that the Earth feels. Some are not. The way in which you deal with it is first to ~ through your meditations ~ recognize if this is something that you are willingly taking on as part of your path, or whether it is being imposed upon you be another energy, the one feeling the pain, for example.

Some of you are able to connect to energies in other parts of the Earth, knowingly, because you have a particular kind of energy projection, and they may pick up on that and find you to be a good receptacle to take their pain from them and give it to you.

This is done quite frequently, especially at the end of an illusion. So if you are feeling the pain of others, you first determine if it is internal or external ~ are you willingly doing this, or if you are willingly doing this, then you must then determine why is this part of your path, and if it is something that you have willingly taken on and meant for you to feel that ~ that pain ~ the emotion of it. If it something that is being imposed upon you, then there are other issues here and you must learn to protect yourself, which is a whole other conversation that we would not go into at this gathering.

Does that answer your question, my love, somewhat?

Yes.

Yes. You must be very careful about taking on the pain of another, unless you have very specifically chosen that as part of your path, then you do not want to harbor the pain of another. That is imposition from another to you and it then enables another to control you, you see.

We have talked, over all of our time here throughout the public gatherings, of the dangers that can occur when you allow another, external to Self, to impose and to take control over your emotions, your energy. If you choose to do this, then that is an entirely different path ~ that you will not be able to do your own work if you allow another to control you through energy. And there are countless numbers of energies on the plane now whose main purpose is to impose upon the energy of another and drain that energy and try to take control of another. It could be an energy who is located millions of miles away from you, if you will, who you have never met, but you have made yourself susceptible energy wise, to a powerful energy coming in and taking control.

Remember, we said earlier, that at the end of an illusion, all of the rules are gone about who can impose upon who. Generally, it is not allowed that a more powerful energy can attack an energy of a lower vibration, but at the end of an illusion, that rule does not exist, and so if you are feeling that another, external to Self, without your permission or your consent, is imposing upon you, then you must ask for help. This is what your Protector is for. Your Protector may say then, "Ah-h, we must go to a Warrior, and we must get help from a Warrior. This is what Protectors do, Protectors are not expected to do battle with the dark as the Warriors are, so the Warriors are there then to come in and give assistance. You can have a whole group of Warriors coming in, if need be, but you must always ask, and then be willing to assist, once you have asked, in the battle. It is not something that will just be done for you. It will be done WITH you, you see.

It is game, however.

I always thought that Archangel Michael ~ to call for

You can, Michael is a good one. Yes, it is a good image we have projected from the Angelic Realm. We have done a fine job, haven't we?

I have a statue of Michael with his sword, with the wings.

How nice.

- ☼ It came with long hair though.
- ☼ We can manifest anything we want.
- ☼ Is it a toupon?

No, an Angelic would be nothing but natural. ☺ ☺ Of course, we have our own definition of natural, which reminds us that we should tell you that the value system of the Angelic Realm is a bit different from what you would call values here on the earth plane ~ ethics, values, definitions of things, a lot different. Yes, the definitions that we have about things are very different, however, Michael has been projected as an image of a warrior, which he is among other things, so it is fine to have a statue of Michael. Is he wearing clothing?

Yes. And he has a shield and a sword, very short though.

We are very modest. Angelics are very modest. Of course the definition of modest ~

It is a moral doctrine.

A different moral doctrine, if you even would call it moral.

We have been hearing a lot about morals lately.

It is all an earth plane ~

The exaggeration of things, I guess.

Yes indeed. It is a game.

(Comment is inaudible)

Oh, indeed. Well, Saint Francis, as you know him, is he who is Francis in The Company. So, as we lovingly now call him, Frank, he who was Francis in Waith and Company is he who was most recently on the plane, Saint Francis.

It is an earth plane way of recognizing energies who do things that what you call the Catholic Church, does not want to officially recognize interdimensional activities, abilities with movement of energy, ability to communicate, channel if you will, and so since the Catholic Church specifically, does not want to officially acknowledge that this occurs, they have their way of accepting the fact that it does, by naming Saints, and that was all that that was about. It was their way in the early times when they politically were beginning to expunge the information known as the Bible, and other types of doctrines, expunge any kind of reference to energy work and interdimensional travel and communication and the ability to perform as they call it, miracles.

The fact that they must pass a test, if you will, after they have died, the so called miracles must be performed before a Saint can be proclaimed, is simply their acknowledgment that energy exists in other planes, in other dimensions, and that interdimensional travel and communication is indeed a reality, for these so-called miracles are simply interdimensional activity.

So that is all that it is. Saint Francis, for example, had highly developed his abilities with energy at an earth plane level and decided that he wanted to prove it once he moved into another dimension. That was all part of the path, the path of who he was in the particular life that laid the foundation for him to then be called upon to perform miracles, if you will, and part of his path was to learn how to do that, and so he received a gold star in two dimensions. And that enabled him to eventually come to work within Waith and Company. Lucky little thing.

Since you are talking about Francis, could I ask a question that I think happened recently?

No.

No, okay.

Only because we are feeling our timekeeper's energy, and it is time to go, and to answer your question would take more time than we have, so we have overstayed our time. We must depart. We have been most pleased to have been with you and hope to pick up this conversation again.

We send to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.
