WEEKEND RETREAT ~ SPECIAL TOPIC SESSION ~ THE NEW ILLUSION

Waith: We bring to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius.

Greetings, hi!

Greetings, greetings, speak

Q: Greetings! Greetings!

Greetings, indeed, indeed. We are very pleased that this marvelous grouping of energies has gathered for this time of reflection, relaxation and simply a time to have fun ~ a fun day on the earth plane, as opposed to Playtime on the Earth ~ there is a very big difference there. You can be playing and not have fun, but when you are having fun, you are playing. Indeed! However, of course, we view everything that is done as playing. Of course, we are not on the plane at the time doing it, are we now? 😊 😊

Play acting!

Playing and acting are very close together. Indeed! So then, we see that many of you have found your favorite spot where you have planted yourself. PLAYTIME ON THE EARTH PLANE is often about coming out of your favorite spot and learning how to expand from your spot, in whatever way that might be ~ that is actually considered part of play. We are going to help you see that as a fun activity ~ coming out of your spot.

So the first thing that we would want you to do is to loosen a bit. So, please all of you stand. And now, we want you to just move your bodies in whatever way feels comfortable ~ moving your legs and your arms and moving away from your spot. Move far away from your spot, indeed, much further away from your spot. Come, my love, we bring you further and further away from your spot. (Much group laughter as Waith repositions people)

Move all around. And now start to fluffy each other ~ go to each other and fluffy, fluffy, fluffy, fluffy, fluffy ~ you can do better than that, my love, fluffy, fluffy, fluffy, fluffy ~ very good ~ (There is a great deal of excitement) fluffy, fluffy, fluffies. (There is much laughter and playing among the group) This is better ~ fluffying ~ and we have connected a bit.

This is a time on the earth plane in which the physical planet is in high gear, as you might call it, for its own cleansing. We had said several earth plane years ago that the Earth had entered the next to the last stage before the shifting of its axis and that we would give you notification when the flow of energy appeared to be coming into its final stage.

The Earth is nearing the end of this next to the last stage. There will be one major Earth event ~ weather-wise, as it is called. From our dimension, as you know, we are not able to predict as it relates to time as it is measured on the plane, only as a flow of energy ~ as we are able to perhaps interconnect time and energy flow. When the planet Earth moves into its final stage of cleansing, the exaggerations that have been already seen through the three modes that we had indicated at the very beginning of our time through Mushiba ~ hurricanes, earthquakes and tornadoes ~ will accelerate even greater.

But there is already tremendous movement toward that, Earthwise. It will be this weather event that brings closure to this next to the last stage, which is what the Earth is in now, that will trigger the domino effect, as we call it ~ the insurance industry being the first of the domino effect to begin that toppling. You have seen the beginnings of implosion in social systems, political systems, economic systems ~ all of the systems that relate to living on the earth plane.

We had indicated quite some time ago that the magic number, if you will, for this stock market was ninety five hundred, and that when the magic number of ninety five hundred was reached, initially, it would signify that there would be events occurring. It was not meant to sell, sell, sell, as some had interpreted it. It was meant to be the red flag that indicated that there would be then the implosion that would ultimately occur. We say once again that the magic number of ninety five hundred rings true for its backward movement, as well as its forward movement ~ it is a critical number. We are not here as fortunetellers. We are not here to tell you, when it is and that on that date you will do such and such a thing. That is not what we are here to do.

So then, the Earth is about to go into its final stages. It will be nothing that any of you who are going to be staying for The New Illusion will not be able to handle. And, indeed, for those who decide that they want to leave at the time of the shifting, many of them will have no problem in dealing with the turmoil that is about to occur, even if they are leaving, because they have decided that they might as well leave then as any other time. That is not the issue. Then, there will be many, many entities who will not be able to stay for The New Illusion because their vibration is not adequate enough. They have not learned enough lessons on the plane to be able to work in The New Illusion. Therefore, they will leave at the time of the shifting.

It is this larger group of entities ~ it is human, it is animal, it is mineral, it is tree, it is carpet, it is sofa, pillow, whatever encasement ~ it is this larger group that will feel the turmoil the most and will panic, and will create such tremendous disruption. And it is up to those who know that this is a normal occurrence, whatever normal happens to be, in the final stage before a transition from one illusion to another illusion ~ this final cleaning.

It is as if you have cleaned and cleaned your dirty rug. You have a rug and it has been worn over year after year and there is much dust and grime in it. You shake it out and you get some of that dust and grime out and then you are tired from trying to clean it and so you rest for a bit. And then you go and you shake it out again and you find, "Oh, my goodness, there is much more in here than we realized after the surface dirt was eliminated."

There was all of this ground-in soil and dirt and you shake it out again and you find the same thing ~ it is more and more. And you shake it out again and you get down to what you think is the final, final shaking out ~ and almost all of the grime is gone. And then you realize that on the surface of it, there are all these stains that need to be cleaned out. And so you get on your knees and you put on the stain remover, and you scrub and you scrub, and by scrubbing and scrubbing and scrubbing, what do you do to the rug?

Wear a hole in it!!!

Yes, you could. But let us say that you do not wear a hole into it, but you scrub and scrub, and then you think it is clean, and you go to do one final shaking. What do you think has happened with this final disruption of the rug?

Pretty worn out.

Yes, it is pretty worn out, indeed, the Earth is quite worn out.

Different colors than it was.

That also does happen ~ it has a different feeling about it. But you find out that, after all, not all of the grime you thought you had shaken out of it was shaken because you have disrupted it in its final movement ~ that grime which was dug into the very, very core of the rug that no amount of shaking could disrupt. But by scrubbing and scrubbing and scrubbing, it loosened that final layer of grime, and you go to shake it out now and that final layer of grime dislodges. It is the most stubborn of the grime and it finally dislodges.

We are here, with you, to help you in the scrubbing effect. Scrub, scrub ~ the Earth's shifting on its axis will be that final shaking out of that layer of grime. All of those energies who are not appropriate for The New Illusion will go in that final shake out. The turbulence that the scrubbing effect has on the earth plane as a vibration and on the planet Earth as a physical encasement, will be tremendous. There will be increased hurricanes, tornadoes and earthquakes ~ all part of the scrubbing. Some of you are scrubbers and some of you are helping the scrubbers to know where to scrub.

What do we scrub it with?

Ah, indeed, what would you want to scrub with, my love?

It has to be pretty strong.

What might that be?

Some light maybe.

Ah, you are scrubbing with the light ~ it is the strongest of cleansers that exist. The dark can never, ever, ultimately, avoid the light, and it is the light of course that does, "Itchy gitchy goo, we got you!" ☺ ☺ There will be greater and greater attempts by the dark now to attack the light, for there is great instigation occurring by the light ~ instigation in terms of, "Oh, come here, my little pretty ~ we will pretend that we do not realize you are the dark, and we will behave in a way that will get you to attack us so that we can defend." That is what it is about, you see.

And so then there is the light that draws the dark, and once the dark has come into the little web, there is the light that starts the scrubbing effect. Sometimes, the instigator and the scrubber are the same entity ~ it could be the same human being instigating and scrubbing. Oftentimes, however, it is two separate humans, for example, working in conjunction with each other, "You be the instigator, you get the dark here, and then I will defend, I will scrub and scrub and scrub."

This geographic area in which you find yourself, Terra Lux ~ who is responsible for protecting and building into a new vortex ~ will be relatively calm. There will be a bit of cleansing as it comes from the weather systems. But this is a vibrational area that will, at times, appear to have all of the weather swirling around it, as many times you have noticed in the past, that it swirls around it, but never in it, as if it were inside of a bubble. So then, that will continue to hold true. It also means that as an emerging energy vortex, there will be greater and greater energy transferences from the pyramid that is giving its information to this energy vortex, which upon the shifting of the axis will be used to build the new structure.

Would there be any questions about what we have just given for information?

You mentioned that it would be several years before the final phase. Did I understand that?

That is what we did say, my love, it is only a frame of reference, however ~ it could be fewer than that, it could be a bit more.

You mentioned that one last weather event prior to the going into the final phase, and that the insurance company being the first to be impacted. Is it going to be significantly impacted by that weather event?

That weather event will, shall we say, knock the arrogance out of the insurance industry that is currently under the impression that they can weather any storm, as you might say ~ that they are immune from collection, financially, by those damaged in weather events, and that, "Oh, after all, these weather events have not proved to be all that bad." It will create in them ~ in many of them, not all of them, but enough ~ that, "Ah, indeed, this particular weather event has created vulnerability." They are already vulnerable, but they will recognize that they are vulnerable.

They will be able to do nothing about it, however, because it is too late for them to do anything about it. So, they would say, "Ah, we must do something to protect our losses in the future now ~ we have not addressed that issue before." And it will be too late, for that closing weather event will be followed by an opening weather event that will then create the beginning of the domino. They will not be able to cover all of the losses of the opening weather event for the last stage. And it will be then that many of the institutions will begin to feel the effects.

And it will always, my loved ones, be the weather events that keep the domino effect moving. So it will go back and hit the insurance system, which will further strengthen the pressure on the dominos. There may be a domino that comes and hits the other domino, but not strong enough to push it down yet ~ just sort of touches it and the impending domino to fall knows that the other domino is there, but has not felt the strength.

There will be a weather event which will trigger at the insurance system, more pressure and it will again move through the lines until it reaches that domino that is just only touching the other one, and that will push the next domino, and it will continue like that until it is time for the final shake out. And remember that ninety five hundred is the magic number ~ 9500 ~ and any combination of those numbers, not necessarily all four and not necessarily in that order but the combinations of those numbers are critical numbers.

Does that add a bit more mystery to it all?

Some will be scheming to figure out all of those combinations!

Oh, indeed, a predictable behavior!

Could you perhaps give us a technique to send light to the Earth?

But, indeed. The focus of this retreat is The New Illusion and the skills and techniques that you can utilize now as you prepare for The New Illusion. It is not by coincidence that Mushiba has gathered items in this basket that relates to the Earth. (Waith asks someone to bring a basket into the middle of the gathering) This basket is filled with different toys, if you will, that relate to Earth.

What we would like you each to do now is to come and find something within this basket that calls out your name and embrace it and bring it back to your spot. So come now, my loved ones. (There is much laughter and talking as people find their toy) And now, you see, you each have something that relates to the Earth. Bond with it for a moment. Indeed, interactive! (Someone is squeezing a toy) Oh, Very nice interactive activity. We would like you to spend perhaps the next five or ten minutes in silence, playing with your Earth toy, and reflecting upon the Earth, even hypnotizing yourself a bit with what you have chosen. It is a time of silence and quiet without going into meditation, per se. We will bring you out of it when it comes time.

(There is a time of silence)

It seems that you have all sufficiently bonded with your toy for the day. Share with the group now what kinds of thoughts you might have about the Earth in general, and perhaps in particular, that you might have gained in this first moment of silence.

I was thinking about the strength and the courage and energy the Earth has to undertake and what it does to go on over and over again.

Indeed ~ Very good.

I was just thinking that the Earth is going to be going through changes. I mean, we could look at it now, and it might not look the same later anyway. And I was just starting to think what really matters and the changes we go through, and that is why we are here.

Very good, and what else?

I was kind of thinking, since I just got off an airplane this week, more what it looks like, the Earth from high up ~ and all of this means something to me in a concrete manner. But looking from the airplane down at the land, is what I am thinking, that is what impresses me about the changes, what it is going through and what it will be going through.

Indeed, the reallocation of land and water is best viewed from above. 😊😊

It gives a whole different perspective.

Indeed. What else?

Something came to my mind, Madagascar and Atlantis, and all of the other land masses that are under the water that will be coming up again, surfacing, or something, I am just drawn to that.

Again, the reallocation of land and water. What else?

I realized the globe that I am holding is upside down ~ South America instead of China. There it is, and it is already turned.

Indeed, and you have seen the changes!!

- ☼ I was thinking of the courage of the Earth, and then looking at the little tiny Europe and was thinking what is going to happen to that? And then I was thinking of where the next weather event will be that you were talking about. What do you think?
- ☼ Sounds like a different way of asking for you to be specific! 😊😊

Indeed, a new twist to try and get us to be very specific, “Oh, I was having such a wonderful vision here, and by the way, when is the next weather event, and where is it going to be?” Nice attempt, my love!

Let us now look at your individual feelings and emotions about changes, though this is more than just about change on the planet and all of its systems. This is about changes that are occurring within all energy that are part of the earth plane sojourn. Each of you then has very specific kinds of changes occurring, some more dramatic than others ~ some that you can do something about, others that you can do nothing about. You simply must let it run its course, if you will. Some are physical changes, some are emotional changes, some are mental and some are extrasensory.

We are going to bring you into a quiet time of meditation to reflect upon what type of changes you feel you are undergoing, and how those changes are connected with the changes of the Earth ~ the Earth as a physical encasement and the Earth as a vibration, for it is for the Earth the same as it is for each of you. You are a physical encasement and you are a vibration.

MEDITATION TECHNIQUE ~

- So, we would want you to relax in a favorite position, not necessarily in your favorite spot. Relax ~ find a pillow.
- Relax, wiggle your toes, wiggle your fingers, wiggle as much of your body as you want to, stretch a little, think of a kitty cat in the sun, stretched out on its back, and all of its fluffiness, not a care in the world, bathed in the warmth of the light.
- Envision then, the warmth of the bright, white light surrounding your encasement.
- You are relaxing ~ you are being surrounded by the warmth of the bright, white light.
- Call upon your Angelic Protector and your Spirit Guides, to come with you in this journey into Self.
- And now, call upon the very Highest of the White Light.
- You are now going to journey within Self ~ to the closest dimension of Self that will talk to you.
- You are traveling now, slowly and smoothly, as if you are on a carpet of silk ~ you are traveling within Self ~ your Angelic Protector and your Spirit Guides are with you.
- Slowly you are moving, gently, smoothly, finding that spot within Self that will talk with you and give you answers.
- As you find that dimension, say hello and ask if you can sit and chat for a while.
- It is time to ask Self about all the changes that you are experiencing and to help give you insight into what those changes mean for Self.
- We will return to bring you back into the concrete.

MEDITATION TIME ~

- We now come back for you ~ to bring you back from your spot within Self ~ prepare for the journey back to the concrete dimension.
- It is time to thank Self for the information and the guidance.
- It is time to begin returning, slowly, back into Concrete Self, bringing with you the knowledge and the guidance ~ your Angelic Protector and Spirit Guides come back with you.
- Slowly return and thank your Angelic Protector and Spirit Guides for their assistance. Slowly return back into the concrete, leaving your silk carpet at your feet.
- Slowly return ~ come back, come back, wherever you are.
- Come back, come back, wiggle your toes, wiggle your feet, wiggle your legs, wiggle your hands, wiggle your arms, wiggle your shoulders ~ wiggle, wiggle, wiggle,

END OF MEDITATION TECHNIQUE ~

A much calmer gathering now. Take a few moments and reflect upon what you have just gained for insight.

A FEW MOMENTS OF SILENCE ~

Let us have some sharing of information and insights. Some of it you might not want to share and that is quite all right ~ other information you may find helpful to share, not only for Self but for the others in the gathering, and for those who would read or hear this information.

I have a paradox, that everything changes, yet everything remains the same, and who I am as an energy ~ I'm One already with The Universal Consciousness. I'm there as in a constant state, yet there is the change swirling around and within, so there is this paradox. It's like a balance, a fluctuation, with the change, yet remember that the core of who I am is the same.

It is true that The Universal Consciousness is a paradox. It is and yet it is not ~ change occurs and yet it does not. Paradox is what it is all about. Were there any other insights that you would want to share, my love?

It is just that there have been a lot of changes which I'm sure everyone has been going through, just an expansion and a strengthening, a lot of it, and we have a choice of how we deal with it. We can fear it, resist it, block it, just let it flow, accept it.

Indeed. And what have you been doing?

I do a little of each. 😊😊

So you are not the perfect little being!!

Oh, no!

Always welcoming change, "It is for my growth ~ I welcome you, change."

No, no, that would be nice, but no, it doesn't work that way.

You say, "Come change, come even more, not getting enough." Or rather, "Leave me alone, leave me alone, go away."

A little of that!!

A little of that! Indeed!

Emotionally and physically, there are a lot of upheavals, and sometimes I don't know if it is night or day. Everything is messed up, so to speak. Healings are intensified, and what everybody is dealing with, time is going too fast. I feel I am not able to accomplish what I want to and it looks like total chaos ~ everything is in chaos. But when I really look deeper down to it, it feels like, oh, I am in the flow within the chaos.

So, "I am in a chaotic flow." However you interpret that! 😊😊

That is how I feel. And sometimes it's easier to remember the flow and sometimes it's easier to only see the chaos.

Out of chaos comes what?

Out of chaos comes the opposite of chaos.

What is the opposite of chaos?

- ⊗ Harmony, maybe.
- ⊗ Maybe.
- ⊗ Maybe not.

Indeed! Without chaos there can be no flow.

The chaos is sometimes really overwhelming.

So can the flow be overwhelming?

It is a nice feeling, actually.

Chaos is not a bad thing, but there are many who think that it is, "Oh, chaos, we must get out of this chaos." Unless there is chaos, there can be no understanding of what is flow.

And also, when there is chaos, we know we are kind of growing and that is also something good.

Sometimes. There are some entities who live their entire earth plane life in a chaotic condition ~ this is not a bad thing. It simply means that they are gathering about them many, many, many stimuli from which they will, at some other point in another lifetime, select what they want to deal with most definitively. Some people within a lifetime will have their periods of chaos ~ one month, one year of chaos. And out of it, then they pick those components that they want to deal with. It appears then that order has come to their life, for they have chosen the components, and the rest of the components have been put away.

That is all chaos really is. It is the bombardment of components of issue learning. That is all. And for some, their path is that the entire life be spent determining what their next series of lifetimes will be for learning. Others have already determined their major things to be learned, and they have periodic times when they look at perhaps rethinking those components or adding to those components, so they bring in chaos.

Some people very quickly deal with chaos ~ others do not. They are constantly feeling that things are chaotic. That relates to the entity's ability to make a decision about what they want to do, you see. It can drive crazy those who are very definitive about what they want to do, with those who are not, "Make a decision ~ just do something!" That entity who says, "Just make a decision," is perhaps also working on levels of patience.

That's a judgement.

Well, judgement is always involved ~ there is never an issue that judgement is not a part of it. To say that, "Oh, there must be judgement involved in that," is indeed a judgement, for indeed, there is nothing on the earth plane that happens that there is not a component of judgement in it. Judgement is the way in which we deal with the changes that occur, "Did I do this right?" Well, that is a judgement, especially if you ask others, "Did I do that right?" You are asking to be judged.

If you ask yourself, "Did I do that right?" you are asking a level within Self, and that is a judgement of Self, but that is very necessary in order to receive an affirmation of what one feels is appropriate. Or, to receive an affirmation of what you think may not have been appropriate, "Oh, that was terrible what you did!" And you say, "You know, I thought so, too."

Judgement is not a bad thing, in and of itself. Like everything else, it certainly can be used in a dark way as opposed to a light way. So being in flow with your chaos is indeed a challenge, for you can simply say, "Leave me alone, I'm in the flow. Even though I am in chaos, I feel comfortable about being in chaos. And if you cannot deal with the fact that I am in chaos, then go away." It is as simple as that. Of course, you can say that in a much more delicate way. You do not need to come right out to someone and say, "Leave me alone. I enjoy being in chaos," ~ unless, of course, you want to. That is entirely up to you.

Very good insights, my love. Others who would want to share insights?

I kept getting ~ not the music, but the beat ~ and I was wondering, why am I getting this beat? And finally, the beat just goes on and on. I decided that what that has to do, is that life just goes on and on and on, and not to get too excited about it, that everything just goes on and on and on.

The Universal Consciousness does keep going. And thus, whatever you are involved in for change, will change ~ and it will keep going on and on, the changes, for that is what being on the earth plane is about ~ change, indeed.

Other insights?

I went down visually in my mind and saw an old man. I guess that is my inner Self, or something. So we had a conversation and, essentially, we are actually excited about changes, so we knew that meant things were happening, there was growth. So I asked him how I was doing and he said that he had this big checkmark box, and he was checking out everything. And he said everything is on schedule. 😊😊😊

Indeed, a To Do List.

Maybe more of a Monitoring List.

That is a very good insight that you have shared with us, my son. Other insights to share?

The thing that came up was the calming of the thoughts of love and light. And it seems like my intellect slips away and I don't even remember things. But if I can focus on love and light, it comes together, my body still is here, my head, I am all here, and I feel much better. So if I can't focus on things that I used to think about or I used to express, I just turn to love and light, and that is it. It is like a little sanctuary in the changes.

Indeed. So have all of your changes been good, or some not?

Well, I guess I view it as the changes sometimes didn't feel like they were good, but in hindsight, when I got past them and looked back, oh my, that was a real help. But at the time, it doesn't seem good at all. It's just that I know from past experience, that if I get through it and look back, it was for the better. It's always been for something better for an improvement in my life. I may have thought that, well, that wasn't the greatest, but if it made sense to me, I felt good about it.

So if you survived the change, you looked back and said, "Wow, this was good." And if you did not survive the change, you were not looking back at it, at least at an earth plane level ~ perhaps you are evaluating it from another dimension, and still considering it good. It got you out of the life.

Could be.

Indeed. It is very easy to look back and reflect. That is why there is always a reflection time upon leaving a particular lifetime, so that you can truly look back and reflect. For while you are actually living through it, experiencing the change, or in this case, the life, it is not as easy to reflect, because you are living it, "I don't care what I'm learning, I just want to get through this." ☺ ☺ A common response, and then when you do get through it, you look back and you say, "Ah, it wasn't so bad after all."

So ultimately, all change is good, even if it appears not to be at the time, it is beneficial. You may not be viewing it from the Earth perspective, you may be viewing it from another dimension, and anything viewed from another dimension looks better than it does in the dimension. It does not matter what that other dimension is, whether it is a more insightful or less insightful dimension, everything looks different in another dimension.

I didn't have any success. I think that my Higher Self is tired of telling me.

Ah, really. So what would you conclude, perhaps, from that?

That I'm probably not listening.

Ah, concrete is not listening? Or other levels of Self are not listening?

Probably both.

Everything! No others listening ~ knock, knock, knock, no one is listening. Why do you think that is occurring?

Probably because none of them want to hear. So they are not going to take any action.

This is not an uncommon situation. This is a very common, very legitimate type of positioning to be in where all the levels of Self are shut down, or so it seems ~ but they have not shut down. They have simply said, "We need to rest a bit here. We've had too much bombardment." It is a protection within Self when there appears to be no one wanting to hear anything, "We're tired of hearing stuff ~ leave us alone." And this is all levels of Self. There is another layer within Self, called the very highest of Self, that is ever so slightly knocking, saying, "When you're ready to hear this knock, it'll still be there" ~ it has not gone away, it has simply been lessened in its intensity.

Always remember that the information that one has within Self never goes away, even though it appears that you do not have any information, "I cannot get within Self. I cannot meditate. I can't figure out what changes I'm going through. Nobody's going to tell me anything." There is a reason for that, and that is just as legitimate as being able to understand all of the reasons, or some of the reasons, or even one of the reasons.

Nothing ever disappears, it goes into storage, short term storage and long term storage. And both storage areas can be accessed at any time. You have a short term storage situation at this stage, my love. You need to come back and be here a little bit more. Perhaps to get into an environment that helps you to relax, where there is no judgement of whether you are growing spiritually.

In some gatherings of energies studying spirituality, there is a pressure that says, "Ah, what have you experienced lately? Are you able to see auras now? Why not? Are you not following the teachings? What do you mean that you cannot feel energy anymore? Or, you've never learned to talk to a tree ~ what is wrong with you?" There is that kind of pressure, "What do you mean you cannot meditate? What do you mean that you are not able to hear anything from within yourself ~ you cannot come here any longer for you have not learned the spiritual way."

That is the way it exists in many, many groups on the plane now, as we call them so often, the spiritual elitists, who will say that you must be progressing in a certain way, you must eat a certain way, you must think a certain way, you must dress a certain way, and that is the way to the One.

There is no one direct way to The One. There is no group that holds that particular map. They may say that they do, "You must only eat lentils and Coca-Cola. That will bring you back to The One. ☺ ☺ And these are the very definitive steps ~ step number one, step number two ~ once you have reached step number one hundred fifty three, you will be back at The One. We exaggerate a bit, of course, but what is more important is to understand that the earth plane life is a spiritual life, regardless of what you have taken on, and if you happen to be more aware of your spirituality, then that has been the path you have chosen.

Others may not be aware of their spirituality or their spiritual path, as they would like to call it, even though all paths are spiritual. It does not mean that they are not spiritual, it simply means that they have not chosen to be aware of that spirituality. It could be the entire life, it could be a portion of the life. But if one is aware that they are aware of their spirituality, and then lose some of that awareness of being aware ~ following me thus far ~ it brings an entity into this type of environment, such as Terra Lux, or such as any group that would have information that would help smooth your own awarenesses.

So you come here for this gathering after being away from us for some time ~ the need to be back and to reconnect. You do not have to be aware of anything, except that you are here sharing and you are part of others who share, regardless of whatever insights they might have, or not have. So there is an insight for you, you see.

We understand that there are some of you who would like a few moments to speak with us individually, to perhaps ask something very specific that we may be able to provide. While we are doing this, we would like you to simply be with each other in a quiet way ~ not to do any talking, to have what is known in many circles as a Covenant of Silence. It is a time when you may certainly engage in activities, but without talking ~ simply being with each other.

We are pleased to see that you have prepared the feast for consumption. (Waith refers to the food on the table) We will depart for a bit of time, enough to get you nourished physically, and then we will return and do some nourishing of your spirit.

(There is a period of silence)

And you may now break your silence. So, then, my loves, we will return soon. Enjoy. We send you the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius.

Bye, Waith, and see you again soon!

BREAK TIME ~

Waith: We return to you with the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius.

Greetings!

Thank you. And you are all enjoying the sustenance that each of you has shared with the others. It is very nice. We do not have such things in our dimension. We have some other things that we really cannot describe to you, it would not meet with your frame of reference, but as we have said, we have the Angelic equivalent of many of your things. We will go no further with that. 😊😊 Amelius does have his guidelines for what we can talk about!

Which you so carefully do not stray from!

Every once in a while, we get close to that line ~ he brings us back. Even Archangels have overseers, you see.

So then, while you are enjoying your food and relaxing once again, we thought it would be nice for you to say hello to Farena. She will just enter for a brief time to fluffy and to say hello, and then we will return to give you some additional information about The New Illusion. We will see you momentarily.

Farena: Hi, hi, hi, hi!!! So, fluffy, fluffy, fluffy fluffy, fluffy fluffy, fluffy, fluffy, fluffy fluffy fluff.

You have on one of our little fluff crowns, fluffy, fluffy, fluffy fluffy fluffy fluffy. Fluffy, fluffy, fluffy, fluffy, fluff, fluff, fluffy ~ (Farena sings the fluffy song and there is much laughter and bantering between Farena and the participants)

We understand that on the earth plane there is a special day just for Waith and Company ~ it is called Spook Day! ☺ ☺ ☺ It is all about us, right?

Halloween!!

Farena: Halloween. (Farena says this word with a song) All right ~ that is all! (The group expresses disappointment!!) I know, let us record that sentiment for Waith so that he will know how much you want me to stay here ~ come on.

I have to go now. (The group, in unison, goes "Ohhhhhh" in disappointment) Waith is making me come back. Fluffies, fluffies, bye, bye. Bye, fluffy light, fluffy, fluffy. Fluffy light, bye, bye!!

Waith: Now you understand why we call her Miss Fluffball. But also, Farena is the Ambassador of Lightheartedness and has the ability to bring groups together who may be feeling a bit disharmonious or who may be feeling stressed, as you call it, bringing out the lightheartedness.

So would there be any questions about The New Illusion, about your connection to the Earth and what is going on now.

You said something about the encasements changing in The New Illusion. Could you elaborate upon that? Just a tiny little bombshell! ☺ ☺ ☺

As we so love to do!

How is it going to occur? Will it be like they call walk ins?

Oh, let us see now. We are going to have to be very concrete and definitive here and follow the process by which you are all accustomed now for change, you see. Is that correct, "This is the process that will happen in The New Illusion." No, that is not what we are going to do!

It changes!

Yes, The New Illusion changes all of the packaging, if you will. It also brings us to place on the record that there will be three groups of energies on the earth plane in The New Illusion. There will be those who have complete awareness that this is a new illusion, that they came from another illusion, very definitively ~ they were part of the changing ~ they were aware of the interdimensional shelters and the training that occurred in those interdimensional shelters for preparation for the startup of The New Illusion. All those who will be charged with the building of the structures, the new structures, will be part of that group. The twelve who do the building and the twelve who those twelve select ~ who those twelve select to help in the building.

There will be other groups who are not part of the building group around the Earth, who will also have complete memory, for they will be considered Master Teachers and they will have that information necessary to help in the startup of The New Illusion ~ this is common behavior from illusion to illusion. This will be a rather significant number of energies. It will exist, this grouping, within every kingdom that moves into The New Illusion. Not every kingdom that you currently know in this illusion will move into The New Illusion. Human, luckily, is one of them ~ as humans would refer to themselves.

Animal will move into The New Illusion, trees will move into The New Illusion. Many of what you are accustomed to will move into The New Illusion. Some of the animals will not ~ The Animal Kingdom will, but members within the Kingdom will not ~ species within will not. Those that do, will change form ~ some will and some will not. That group that remembers everything, they are charged with the storytelling component that exists from one illusion to another.

They bring with them certain physical artifacts that have been specifically determined to seed The New Illusion ~ it exists in this illusion ~ it will be seeded in the next illusion for the scientists to discover ten thousand years into the illusion, "Ah, this particular artifact, it is a million years old," they would say. It has been seeded from this illusion to bring continuity into the next illusion ~ each illusion does that.

There will then be another group that will remember nothing ~ they will have no knowledge that there was ever anything else except the illusion that they are living in. This group will have no memory at conscious level ~ this is extremely important to remember, at conscious level ~ that the illusion that they are living in, that the life that they are living in, when they wake up, is changed at all. The trees will look different, the climate will be different, many of the people around them who they knew in the current illusion, will no longer be there. There will be different people who they will know ~ it will be an illusion that is set up. Illusions are very easy to set up from our end. "Poof" Just as we said, "Poof." It is all done at the time of the restructuring.

The Pyramid structures go and the new structures replace it ~ it sets up the illusion ~ perfectly normal. You go to bed one night, you wake up the next morning, it is a different world, but you do not know it is a different world. You do not know that your spouse, who you went to bed with that night and is not there when you awaken, was ever there. ☺ ☺ ☺ You will not know that it is even an omission. You will not even know that the entity was there. It will be very normal. There may be someone new! ☺ ☺ (Group chatter)

This group will be dichotomous to the other group, will they not? This group that says, "What do you mean? There was something before this. What do you mean that we used to travel in this thing called an automobile? What are you, crazy? There was never anything before this." Think of it now in this illusion.

There is the arrogant assumption that anything more than a hundred to five hundred years of age, had any value to it in terms of intelligence and technology, "Oh, how could those Pyramids have been built? They must have used millions of slaves to do that ~ couldn't have been by any other explanation." Actually, it was done by power that comes only for that time frame to those builders ~ a power that uses the brain and the spirit in combination, to bring illusion into concreteness. It is not a matter of lifting heavy boulders, "Ah, I will visualize this heavy boulder and I'm going to, with the sheer will of my mind, lift it." Do you know how long that would take? It would take an illusion.

Building an illusion is very easy. It is however, one of the highest of the spiritual powers that is not given on a long term basis to any entity ~ human or not. It is dispensed very discriminately, and then taken. The builders will remember that they had that power, but they will not have that power. They will look at the structure, the Terra Lux structure, for example, and they will know that they built it, and they will remember how they built it, but they will not know how to build it ~ they will not have the power to do that.

So there is this group, they remember nothing ~ everything is brand new. And, there is this other group ~ they remember everything. And then, right in the middle, will be the group that says, "There was something different, can't quite put my finger on it. I don't believe what this group says, adamantly, that there was nothing. This other group really seems, however, to be pretty radical, talking about all of this other stuff, but there was something different, can't quite figure it out," right here in the middle.

And what has happened then is the pattern of lesson learning for that particular illusion. It is the pattern that is set up for every illusion ~ those who absolutely deny anything other than what is concretely there, others who absolutely know that there is spiritual power, unseen, and then all this other grouping that believes, "Well, there is something ~ I need a little more proof, one way or the other. I know that it's not all about being concrete, but I don't know if I can trust this stuff this other group is talking about."

In the first five hundred to one thousand years into The New Illusion, these three groups will have what you can call relative harmony. This larger middle group that knows that there has been something, will have tremendous influence upon the society that is built for The New Illusion ~ taking a frame of reference from the last time the illusion was on the plane, in the Portfolio of Illusions. When we say relative harmony, we mean that they will not be killing each other, even though there will be disagreement about their beliefs, there will be more of a battle of trying to get this middle group to come on their side ~ whichever way it is. Pretty much the way it is now on the plane now, but not in an exaggerated form.

In The New Illusion, while those who came in from the old illusion, are still on the plane, there will be an understanding that it is all right for this group to believe as they believe, this group that says, "We know there was something else. It is all right for you to believe that there wasn't. There's no need for us to prove anything to you."

So, those who come through The New Illusion in either of the three groups, will eventually leave the plane, but they will have disseminated their philosophical base to their so called descendants. So the children of the children of those who built the new structures, who were the Masters, who set up The New Illusion, will have only heard about this illusion. They will only have stories told to them, they will only have perhaps some artifacts, and gradually, by the time five hundred to one thousand years ~ and the years are measured differently in The New Illusion than they are now ~ it will have filtered out so that there is no real connection with what actually happened as experienced by any of the three groups, and the way they perceive it to be currently.

So five hundred to one thousand years into The New Illusion, it all starts again ~ the issues are the same, the packaging is different. We have already placed on the record, especially where gender is concerned, what the issues are going to be in The New Illusion for that particular component.

Do you have any questions about what we have just given you?

I have a question about the group in the middle that kind of remembers. Will they be able to access the information by a meditation or a similar technique?

Yes, and in fact, meditation is always available to any entity, even to the group that adamantly says there was nothing. They might decide that they want to access information, through meditation ~ they are highly unlikely however, to do so.

But they could.

But they could, you see, and we each, then, as energies, determine the energy path that is going to be followed for a particular sojourn on a particular training ground. And while you are on the earth plane sojourn, you will say, for example, "I want to be part of the group that absolutely refuses to acknowledge anything other than what is concrete, and I want to keep going through that and through that energy line, whoever I have to come through, to help reinforce that." And another would say, "I want to keep coming through and coming through in this middle group where they're questioning both sides." Or another says, "I want to keep coming through and coming through in this other group that gives absolute awareness of spiritual abilities, things unseen."

Now, what do you think happens after a while, coming through a particular energy line in any one of those three groups?

It's harder to see the other side.

Oh, indeed, and what happens, my son?

It seems like we would be getting harder in terms of our orientation, like if we were saying we want to be very comfortable with the concrete and know that is our only way, and are coming back again and again and again that way, shortly we would not be seeing other forces, we get harder.

And what do you think then happens?

The judgement and the ridiculing of each other starting more and more.

Part of it, yes.

We must get to a certain point where we would question that maybe there are other things.

“Maybe there is something else, maybe there is a middle group,” for we have presented with you the two extremes, those who question nothing and those who question everything ~ and those in the middle who say, “Wait.” Before you can get into the middle, you must experience the extremes. Remember that many who are in those extremes that we have just given to you as the startup for The New Illusion, most all of them have achieved the middle ~ fully. They now go into the extremes to set up the energy line of extremes, “Come over here in this group. I don’t question anything. You tell me that you can raise boulders by looking at them ~ I believe that.”

Someone over in this group says, “What are you, nuts? I don’t believe anything.” And, then, “Well, you know, I’m in the middle here. I can see the validity of both sides. Maybe we need to explore this a little bit.” The only way we can get into the middle is by questioning the extreme ~ because in the extreme, we are saying, “This is all there is.” And it is just as extreme to not question as it is to question. The middle ground, however, takes a lot of getting into ~ nobody can just get into the middle ground ~ they have to be in the extreme first.

Now by the time you reach the end of an illusion, it is so exaggerated that it does not mean anything. Everything is extreme at the end of an illusion ~ everything, even the middle, is extreme. This is what happens at the end of an illusion. What we mean when we say that this moving out occurs, that while there is all of what you call kinetic energy occurring at the end of this illusion, it will all smoothly settle into three very distinct groupings ~ all of whom will pretty much exist in harmony, as much as harmony can happen on the earth plane.

Remember our statement that you attempt to be harmonious within disharmony. The earth plane is a training ground of disharmony. It will never be harmonious. It has its opposite training ground, which is completely harmonious ~ the Universe balances. So as disharmonious as the earth plane gets, as it is now at the end of an illusion, there is a training ground that is approaching the opposite ~ complete harmony. Then it, too, will have its own changes which will bring it ~ flip it ~ back to being disharmonious, while the earth plane is in a period of harmony, relatively speaking. Remember that ~ relatively speaking.

So we are going into The New Illusion, again, during these next few years, or whatever, until this new illusion occurs. What is to be accomplished with all of these Earth changes?

Implosion. Implosion is the word that we find within this language that so limits our dissemination. All the systems will fall within themselves. They will become so exaggerated, so disharmonious, so much out of harmony that they destroy themselves. And because all the systems are creating their own implosion, their implosions affect others ~ as we call, the domino effect ~ and as they implode in varying degrees of intensity, they fall in varying degrees. So, too, do they affect the others that are in their line ~ their circle, actually. So what happens now? Pretty much business as usual, as you would say.

The New Illusion is going to come. That is not a prediction, by the way. We have said that we are not a fortuneteller. We are not. We are not foretelling something ~ predicting something ~ this is simply a fact. Whether you believe it or not is entirely up to you as individuals, whatever your role happens to be in this transition. Many say, "Love, harmony, peace, tranquility. I can't wait until The New Illusion where we'll never have problems again. We go back to the Garden of Eden." That is not what it is ~ and not where you go back to the caves and start from scratch.

We reinforce that this is a highly technologically oriented new illusion ~ everything is in place now for that, it will simply be increased in its intensity, technologically, with The New Illusion. So all you do now, is what you have been doing. As we had said so long ago when someone asked us if they could stop paying their mortgage ~ no, you do not stop anything that you are doing, you do not alter anything that you are doing.

That is why we are so careful about telling you what to do. We give you guidance and insight perhaps into your path, but we do not tell you what to do. We know what is going to happen to you, but if we told you, then what we know to be the future would not be ~ looking at the flow of time as an energy. So we do not tell you what to do so that you do not alter your own destiny and the destiny of the planet and the Earth as a vibration.

Did that answer your question?

Not completely. These Earth changes are going to bring down the systems. What's it going to do for the people? Is it going to force each of us to make a choice? Or what's supposed to happen to us individually for this time period?

Just as you are able to make decisions when any number of choices are presented to you now, it will be the same thing. You will not recognize it as, "Ah, this decision that I am about to make is so monumental, it will affect The New Illusion. What will I do?" You will not. That will not be part of the consideration. It will simply be, "Ah, do I mess up this relationship again, or do I not? Do I follow my same patterns as I have with this particular individual, and I am not learning my lessons?" Or, "Oh, I've discovered sliced bread ~ I know that I have to break the pattern in this relationship."

Those are continuing to be the issues that you will make decisions about, and all of what you call the minutia of the earth plane daily living will not change. It will be perfectly normal that you find yourself helping stranded travelers coming from a geographic area into this geographic area, because of Earth changes.

It will be very normal, "Oh, well, have to help." You will not think, "Ah, this is Earth shattering. Should we give help to this entity? Is this entity really going to help to start The New Illusion? Do they have to leave? If they have to leave, then I don't want to help them, but if I help them, maybe then their coming back will be easier." You do not get into any of that. Do not stop doing what you are doing ~ do not anticipate the future.

We say it again that you are living simultaneously in the past, in the present, and in the future. Right now, you are living all three of those time dimensions. The future is not something, "Oh, in two years will be the future." Yes, it will be, but in the meantime, the past and the present are part of that future. You all now have a past with each other, and you all now are currently with each other, and before you leave, right now you can say, "We have a future with each other," between now and when you leave this gathering. A past, a present and a future that is simply the way it is ~ everything flows as it needs to.

I'm having difficulty grasping that the energies of twelve pyramids can, shall we say, be drained, and then here is a fountain, shall we say, in this area in a new structure. So contrary to popular Earth belief, this will not require bricks and mortar ~ this is just something that some morning as we call it, will be there?

Indeed. And it will be very normal and natural for it to be there ~ whichever group you happen to be in. If you happen to be in the group that does not believe in anything except concrete, that structure has always been there. If you happen to be in the middle group, you are going to be hearing both sides. You are going to say, "This side has a point, but so does this other side. It is so concrete, how could it have not been there?"

About these pyramids, are we referring to magnetic and spiritual or more than those types of powers?

There is a combination that occurs. Currently, the planet, physical, has a magnetism that goes North and South. It also has a vibration that coincides with that, what you would probably call a spiritual component. When the planet shifts, the magnetic field, as you now know it, will not be North to South, but rather East to West. With it will come then a change in the vibrational field. It is the combination of the two that is used to string the structures together so that they form a web around the earth plane.

Each of the twelve structures will have twelve minor structures, all connected. So they connect the perimeter, if you will. And each of the main twelve connect with each other, so that all twelve are connected inward, thus forming the web. After that is completed, the twelve substructures for each of the twelve ~ twelve times twelve ~ then have their own energy stringing that fortifies the inside of the earth plane, as an energy, giving it inner strength.

It is this inner strength of energy that is first eroded, as an energy, when the illusion begins to move along. So after five hundred to one thousand years in The New Illusion, that inner energy structure will begin to be eroded, leaving only then, the perimeter ~ which is what exists now. The inner energy structure of the earth plane and the planet, is pretty much eroded ~ this is the way it is at the end of an illusion. The illusion itself is being held together by this perimeter connection of the twelve structures. There is energy being transferred now from those major structures.

The twelve substructures have been transferring for the past three hundred to five hundred earth plane years ~ the time it takes to shut down an illusion, at least this one. As each transference has occurred, indicates then that the energy has been diluted, dissolved within that inner structure of energy. So the twelve substructures that are connected to the main structure, that relate to the new structure coming in ~ that Terra Lux will be responsible for, for example ~ have already given their information. There is just a little bit left. It is certainly something that cannot be proved by earth plane concrete standards. It does not matter whether you believe it or not, it simply is what happens.

When you refer to Terra Lux, what do you mean geographically?

We have given out the concrete dimensions of what we call the Vibrational Zone for Terra Lux ~ it is quite simple. It is to the South, ten miles, to the West, five miles, to the North, twenty six miles and to the East, it is ten miles. It is from a point in this geographic area where Mushiba was living at the time that we gave out the information. So as you are in this geographic area, you are in what is called the Vibrational Zone ~ which means that it will be land, surrounded by water. But we have not given out any other concrete information about where land will be in relation to the Vibrational Land area of Terra Lux.

You talk about the primary twelve centers and the twelve supporting ones, and I was trying to understand as you were answering the question, what their energy was doing, and if I understood, the main twelve pyramids are actually energizing or charging the illusion, as if they were shut off suddenly, we would be standing in space or something.

That is correct ~ which is an illusion, by the way. ☺ ☺

And the other twelve are more knowledge, so does that mean experiences or other technologies that have been here, what people have done?

Partly. The twelve main structures house all of the information and knowledge of all of the illusions, the Portfolio of Illusions, that are currently on the plane, much like the long term storage that each of you have for Self ~ they are the long term storage. The twelve substations, if you will, of each, are short term storage. So the Earth as an energy ~ the Earth as a vibration ~ has its long term and short term storage capabilities, which is perhaps the simplest way that we can describe it without too much confusion into the Earth as a vibration, having its own layers of Self that are not concrete ~ those are concrete layers of Self.

It seems strange that in a way it is kind of concrete, the parts of our knowledge, and we are not walking around with a hard drive, carrying it, but in a way, the Earth kind of is.

Indeed. Topic for more advanced discussions of The New Illusion for those who would want to discuss it. There is much information that will not go on the public record, for it is overload for most. And then there is much information that will go into Special Topics where particular groups of people would want to know.

Again, it is addressing the new groupings and the role that must be played by those who are leaving the current illusion, going into The New Illusion, when the shifting occurs. They know that they will be part of the grouping that denies that it ever existed, because they know they have balanced ~ they have the understanding, balance wise, of the concrete and the abstract. And so they have said, "I'll go into this extreme group," and another says, "I'll go into this other extreme group." It is a choice. "And I will be part of the setup for those who really do believe that there is nothing else, or for those who really do not question." Our purpose is to bring people to question everything, including everything that we have just said. You can question us all you want! ☺ ☺

With all these hurricanes, tornadoes and earthquakes, are these little sorts of torques of the axis? This is how we are gradually shifting North, South to East, West, and then when we have the whole series or one Biggy, or whatever, that will tip the whole thing. I am assuming that the earthquakes affect the magnetic part.

Oh, indeed, it also brings about tornadoes and hurricanes in some form or another. The effects are oftentimes very, very minuscule to the Earth, but ever so slightly, it moves the Earth a little bit off its mainstay, if you will. This has been occurring, as we have said, for the last three to five hundred earth plane years. Weather forecasters have no idea what happened six hundred years ago on the earth plane where weather is concerned. They only suppose what it was, "Oh, this is the worst hurricane we've ever had." No, it is not!

What will happen as it becomes time for the actual shifting, there will simply be a very intense ripple effect that most, as we have already said, will not even be aware of. When the moment comes for the shifting, either you leave the plane ~ that is it, come back another time ~ or you go into a shelter.

And yes, there are some physical shelters, for particular kinds of lessons to be learned, where they have stocked up on goods. Most of them are vibrational, interdimensional shelters, where the only thing you are doing is learning about your role in The New Illusion startup, whether you are in the group that does not believe anything, the group that believes everything, or somewhere in between. You are given your script.

You come out of that dimension ~ you are on stage, your script in hand, "Okay, this is what we do." It is as simple as it is. And the Earth's axis will be going the way it is supposed to go for The New Illusion coming ~ and there will be no question from ninety percent of the people inhabiting the plane. Some will have some questions ~ the middle group.

Your questions in this gathering are what we have wanted to place onto the record. And now, it is time to reflect upon what we have given you for information.

It is time for you to spend this remaining gathering in quiet time ~ it is called a retreat but it is also called a reflection. We want for you first to simply go into a meditative state. We are going to bring you into that meditative state, and you can stay there for as long as you want. You may find, in fact, that when you come back from your meditative state, everyone has packed up, left, locked the doors, and you are on your own. 😊 😊

So, find your spots that feel comfortable for you. We will be departing during your meditation. Relax now, you are simply going to go within Self to find a spot that is comfortable. You may or may not talk to Self. If you fall asleep, that is fine ~ you are meditating ~ relax. You are in a safe area ~ there will be no attacks from the dark while you are in this vibrational area ~ relax and enjoy yourselves.

We send to you the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of The Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.
