THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

Waith: We bring you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius.

Greetings!

We thank you for sharing in this anniversary celebration with Mushiba and I. It is quite a special sharing that she and I have and to share that with each of you is especially pleasing to us. Part of the celebration in this gathering revolves around the timeline that you all have been so anxiously awaiting, that magic number of the year two thousand. This is the time of great celebration for we very specifically chose this time frame, what you call New Year's Eve, to begin the mission with Mushiba. It seemed to be the appropriate kind of time marker, if you will ~ the end of a year, the beginning of a new year.

We had indicated in the retreat that we had several months ago, that before this year ended, there would be a major earth event, and that has occurred, as you have known, that which is Venezuela. There is an event that will occur in that which you know as the Middle East, that will be the signal that this next to the last phase that you are currently in ~ before the final phase to the shifting ~ will bring the closure to this phase. Then, when that event occurs, the Earth physical and the Earth abstract, will be in its final phase before the shifting. This will take what you might call two to three to four earth plane years of this final phase, and it is when all the exaggerations will come to its culmination.

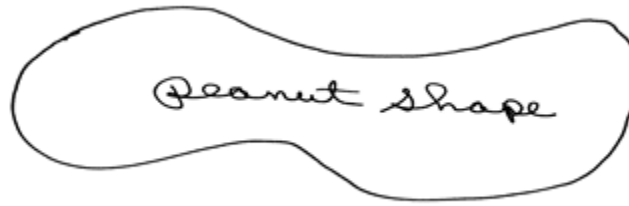

That which you know as financial institutions, will begin their downward descent, as you might call it ~ it is precariously near that now. This Earth event in the Middle East will be the trigger for that downward movement, which will then begin to trigger in what we have often referred to as the domino effect ~ all of the other institutions.

We want to introduce you, in this gathering, to a tool that can be used during this time coming. We will attempt to draw ~ this is always an interesting challenge for us. We have already introduced to you the shape of the new energy field, instead of the North, South, very straight energy field with the shape of the Pyramid forming the complete field. With the new polarities in The New Illusion, there will be that which goes East to West, and which is fluid and it is in the shape best described as a peanut. We have placed that on the record.

We will attempt to draw this peanut. Usually you have seen the peanut shape standing up, if you will ~ that is perhaps the best way to describe it. Now we are going to attempt to draw it lying down. Now, let us attempt this ~ looks much like a dog bone, among other things. (See Illustration below) This looks like the Flow of the Energy for The New Illusion ~ it is fluid.

THE FLOW OF THE ENERGY FOR THE NEW ILLUSION

One of the challenges in living on the earth plane now, and at the end of any illusion, is what appears to be a preponderance of darkness. It appears that there is so much dark, that the dark forces are actually working to overcome. You hear it all of the time, "Ah, this is awful ~ this is awful ~ this is awful ~ the dark is winning." Well, of course, we have always told you that, ultimately, the light always wins. And, at the end of an illusion, especially, the battle is very intense ~ and that the light does not attack the dark, but rather likes to instigate the dark so that the dark will attack the light and the light can then defend.

What we introduce to you now is the concept of an Energy Pocket. The Energy Pocket is something that is abstract but we bring it into the concrete, so that you will have some type of concreteness that can actually go into a ritual that you can use in these coming times. For as much as it appears that the dark is overcoming the light, there are pockets of light throughout the energy of the earth plane ~ pocket upon pocket, upon pocket. Many of you are used to hearing the phrase, a little basket of white light, and that is sweet and that is endearing, but it is boring.

Anything that is sweet and endearing, gets boring after a while, for when it becomes used all of the time by everyone, you want to change something so that you stand out a bit, and that you are unique. So we introduce to you a new concept of the spreading of white light by use of a pocket. You see, pockets are little self-containments.

There are pockets of energy that are in this emerging energy vortex that Terra Lux is charged with maintaining, and every once in a while there is a tear in The Vortex and we refer to that as a pocket. That tear is common when there is an emerging vortex, as the energy is accumulating in the arena in which it will become The Vortex. Little spots have to be smoothed out, little pockets placed ~ little pockets of white light.

This is a little pocket that will actually be something that you could wear, perhaps around your neck that would be like a handbag, if you will, so that symbolically, you would have something that would have light in it. You could actually, according to Farena, get some white sparkly material that you would throw ~ confetti, or something of that nature. When things begin to get a bit dark in your environment ~ much too serious, also ~ you can reach into the pocket and spread light and annoy everyone around you.

As we develop this concept of the pocket of white light ~ which we will actually be bringing into greater usage in the next educational season, after this one is completed, and the next one begins ~ there will be little pockets available for people. And they can take on many different forms ~ they can take on the form with fabric or with crystal or with paper or with any type of material that you might find appropriate. The purpose of white light is to spread lightheartedness and joy. The light is meant to diffuse through the dark, so it can be useful if you have a prop, such as this.

We thought it would be an interesting exercise for each of you to come up and draw your own Energy Pocket ~ you could use either one of these little markers, place your name into the energy pocket and then we will take you from there.

Playtime on the earth plane, indeed. (Each person draws their Energy Pocket)

What is your response to the interpretations?

Fluidity, no beginning and no ending.

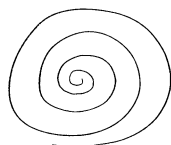

Yes. What else comes to mind also?

Individuality.

Indeed. Individuality. Fluidity is all about individuality. Individuality is Fluidity is Individuality is Fluidity is Individuality. (See Illustration below) It is the neverending circle and the new form ~ not quite as much of a peanut as we drew before. The new form is fluid and it is individual and your individual interpretations are what make it fluid for Self.

(This illustration is a rendition of what Waith drew)

INDIVIDUALITY ~ IS FLUIDITY ~ IS INDIVIDUALITY

The current energy field, the North, South flow of energy has not been as individual and as fluid as the new is about to be. It, by design for this current illusion in which you all find yourselves, has had to have much more structure to it. The structure of the pyramid shape ~ the twelve Master Pyramids that keep the energy of the earth plane held together ~ has by its definition and its design, to be very structured and held in place in a very strict type of formation because of the lessons to be learned in this particular illusion. The Illusion that is coming, as we have said, is going to be much more fluid and there is going to be greater expression of that fluidity by the individual.

It is no coincidence that we have as our focus for the second phase of our mission, THE SEARCH FOR SELF. THE SEARCH FOR SELF is all about finding your individual fluidity. So you have drawn, each of you, an interpretation of The Energy Pocket. You had your own interpretation of it ~ you wanted to put your individual touch, you wanted it to be ever so slightly different from everyone else. If all it was, it was having your name inside, it made it different.

These pockets of energy we will give to those who come into Terra Lux and those who would want to perhaps order one, through our catalogues and through our Internet presence. They would have something concrete, with some ritual that we will give to go with it ~ words for example, and behavior. They will have an Energy Pocket representing the new energy flow for The New Illusion, but at the same time, being created in a way that then each person can put their own individuality into it ~ make it larger, make it smaller, there will be many different forms that it will take, and have fun with it.

The primary purpose of an Energy Pocket is to spread light and to have that as a reminder, concretely, and that it is to be fun, playful ~ for the dark is not winning. It is just that you all get caught up in the earth plane and you forget that the light always wins. And sometimes you forget to visualize white light shooting out and fluffing around. If you have a pocket of energy in the shape of the new fluidity, it will be a greater reminder for you. You will also have the concept so that you could make something in the shape of the peanut, or you could get some of the shapes from Terra Lux, and spread them around to those who you meet, "Here is an energy pocket," for pockets of energy will be spread throughout the earth plane, not only in this geographic area.

And it will have a greater significance than a basket of white light, for a pocket of energy is more substantial than a basket of white light even though a basket of white light and a pocket of energy are the same thing. A pocket of energy is no different than a basket of white light ~ it just will have a larger appeal. You will find a different response coming, "Here is a pocket of energy for you." Even the most macho of males would understand a pocket of energy ~ they understand pocket.

It is symbol, right?

Yes, it is.

Something that keeps our focus on that idea.

Yes, it is.

But it is not something that can necessarily be charged with energy?

It would be a symbol. You certainly will have the ability to visualize energy, white light, being sent, but as all light that is sent, it must be unconditional and it must be asked for. You can certainly send it, but it must not be directly sent, it must be sent to the outer energy field of another. And so while the pocket itself is a symbol, you can use your own abilities to send energy by using it as that symbol. You certainly do not need to have the pocket to send energy.

As long as there is a focus.

There is a focus.

Just to remind us of what this is all about so we don't get so dragged down.

Yes, that is exactly what it is about. It is something much more, shall we say, earth plane friendly, than a basket of white light ~ POCKET OF ENERGY. The use of the word energy on the earth plane is quite mainstream, as you might say, and is used all the time to represent something good, "Ah, the energy is good." You hear this all of the time, "I have the energy, I do not have the energy," without there truly being an understanding of energy.

Those who are learning how to manage energy, first, their own, and then to help others in managing theirs, will continue in this development. And as you have these symbols of pockets, you work with others and say to them, "As you are trying to work on your own energy, use this pocket as a symbol ~ visualize it filled with your own energy ~ and if you want, I will place some of my energy into it to help you." It must, of course, be a permission type of situation. But it is most definitively, a symbol ~ concreteness. There is need for concreteness now as you approach this final stage before the shifting. More and more concreteness is necessary as we gather around those who are still in their final decision making time as to whether they are going to stay for The New Illusion or not, you see.

Our audience consists of those who have either already determined that they will stay for The New Illusion or they are in the decision making stages. Our audience is not those who will not be staying for The New Illusion. And so those who might hear our words and not respond to them, those who might not respond to a pocket of energy, are not our audience.

And so remember this, if someone does not respond, they are not our audience, and that is fine. This will help for many of you, in a concrete way, to know this is not our audience. It will become clearer and clearer as the months come now, who is our audience and who is not our audience. We have said this from the very beginning of our speaking that we have a very specific audience ~ it is not the entire world. Into The New Illusion, it will be a much larger audience, much larger.

We prepare for The New Illusion. We prepare all who are our audience for The New Illusion. That is what it is about. That is why you are gathered here. That is why those who you would meet coming now, are our audience. It does not mean that you dismiss those who are not our audience. Quite the opposite. You attempt to give them as much help as you can, but if they say, "No, I am not interested," let it go.

There are many who will not be staying for The New Illusion but who from an energy development perspective, are ready to stay for the illusion after. They are ready almost to be at the end of the next illusion, and to help in the preparations for the illusion coming after this next one. It is all an evolutionary process. And so they are here now, not able to stay for the transition, but learning all that they can, just as all of you do at this time frame, but not learning quite enough to move into The New Illusion, but learning enough so that they take it into the end of the next illusion and help in that transition at that time.

And then there are many who perhaps have just started on their journey on the earth plane and their levels of awareness are new ~ they are developing ~ and it will take them many, many lifetimes within a given illusion to advance in their awarenesses. They are oftentimes what you call the clueless. Sometimes they are clueless, for truly, they have not learned because they have not had enough lives to do so, or they are pretending that they are clueless ~ and so you cannot judge.

We say to you so easily, “Ah, you will come to recognize who our audience is,” but you will not, on the other hand, be able to recognize who our audience is ~ it is a test in judgement, as most everything is, for we give you tools to help you to understand how to serve others. And we also give you that double edged sword that knowing something is a test of how you use it for judging another, or not judging another.

We have an audience that is widespread. They may not be directly involved with either the reading of the material or the attending of our gatherings but they have been infused with the information and they are our audience.

Is it a matter of consciousness that someone is part of your audience?

Ultimately, it becomes that. What brings you into our arena comes from a higher level, and then once you are in the environment, the concrete consciousness will hear the ding, ding, ding sound, and says, “Ah, yes, this is appropriate, I understand what is being said, I feel comfortable.” And so then, it infuses into the concrete consciousness. The abstract levels of conscious are what bring you first ~ that is how we get you. ☺ ☺ Whether we keep you at the concrete is an entirely different story.

If we read other information that’s along the same lines, that is okay, too?

Oh. but indeed. One of our party lines, if you will, is that you must read as much as you can, you must gather as much information as you can, if that need is there. Form your own truth.

What feels right up here, and then if there is anything else that we don’t get or don’t understand, we just kind of go with what feels right?

Indeed. There are some who have searched throughout the life, in different arenas for information and come into our environment and find that what we give for information is rather a synthesis, or an umbrella, for all that they have been gathering. There is still, however, an importance that you expose yourself to other information, if only to validate that which you are developing as your truth.

What we say is appropriate for our audience, and that is important. There would be many who would say that what we give for information contradicts some other source of information, and at a particular level of understanding, it may indeed be contradictory. Our information, as we have said from the beginning, is at a very high level of awareness. It is also information that does not have any periods at the end of the sentence. ☺ ☺

And so as we give information, just as you would learn math in the first grade, you are told, one and one are two, and you think life is good ~ this is all there is. ☺ ☺ And then you move into the next grade, and they do not tell you in the lower grade that there will be more difficult usage of your numbers, one, two, three, four. And as you move from one grade to the next, you are introduced, as you are ready, to the information, until you finally reach a point yourself where you say, "Enough is enough. I do not want to know any more about this now."

And so our information is at a very high level of understanding. Our audience, however, has already learned the elementary information, for even our most elementary of information is still at a high level. And into the New Illusion it will be an entirely different level of awareness.

Now, I have been here. Does that guarantee that I have already chosen to move into The New Illusion?

There are three types of entities on the plane now. The first are those who have already vibrationally prepared themselves for The New Illusion and they are ready. The second group is those who have pretty much prepared vibrationally, or they will be prepared vibrationally, but they have not decided whether they want to stay for The New Illusion ~ they can if they want to. They may decide that they do not want to. That will be at a higher level of awareness, not at the concrete. The third group is those who are not going to be vibrationally attuned for The New Illusion, and they will leave at the time of the shifting.

So, the fact that you are here, in this gathering, simply means that you could be any one of the three, for our audience is, indeed, those who really know that they are not going to be ready to move into The New Illusion but they want to learn as much as they can so that when the next illusion is ready to come to closure, they can be part of that closure and setup of the following illusion.

There is a whole group of entities who absolutely say that there is nothing else on the plane except what is right now, and they are very defined in their beliefs. Now they may not be all they appear to be. And so, there is no way to know who is who.

That is definitely a lesson in judgement.

Indeed, it is.

And all we have is ourselves.

Indeed. All any of us has is Self. THE SEARCH FOR SELF is our focus.

Individuality is fluidity ~ is individuality. The New Illusion is all about fluidity. Learning about fluidity is something that we are here now to begin teaching and helping. We will be having, as best as we could describe it, classes in energy fluidity. So that as we bring about this concept of The Energy Pocket, going along with that, will be instructions on how to use The Energy Pocket ~ how to become more in tune with your own new fluidity.

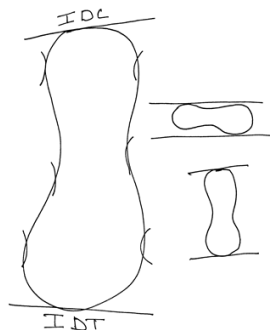

It is quite easy, but it is a bit of a challenge and it is very much different from the Pyramid flow, for the Pyramid flow had a definite beginning and end. It went from one point to another point to another point to another point. And so there were differences in the way that blockages and openings occurred. And it was very definitive in terms of North and South, where you would jump into an Energy Center. And indeed, Energy Centers were very defined ~ the lower Energy Centers and the higher Energy Centers, and they all had very defined meanings. And in many cases particular colors were associated with them ~ particular sounds. That is all different with the new fluidity, the pocket ~ the peanut.

That is a very rough interpretation from our perspective that we give to you. It is much more fluid, for even that shape brings a bit of structure to it. However, this shape has no beginning and no end and yet, it does.

Now then, if we stand it up, there is a bottom and a top. (See Illustration below).

INTERDIMENSIONAL TRAVEL AND COMMUNICATION

This is just for illustrations sake, you see. It could be any way, top and bottom, top and bottom, wherever there appears to be a top and a bottom. The top is Interdimensional Communication. The bottom is Interdimensional Travel. The reason that we give it a top and a bottom is so that there can be a remembering that the top ~ or your head ~ is where you speak, and therefore, Interdimensional Communication. The bottom ~ or your feet ~ is where you travel, and therefore, there is Interdimensional Travel.

Whether you are on your side ~ whether you are tilted ever so slightly ~ you will be developing Interdimensional Communication and Travel. They are, in terms of balancing, opposite points in your energy field.

The way in which you know if your energy field is balanced is if they are opposite to each other, wherever that opposite point happens to be ~ they could be opposite at any point. When the energy fluidity is out of balance, it means that these two components are out of balance, and the way in which one will learn how to bring balance, is to bring the two fields into opposites.

(Name given) is now indicating that on the plane now, there is five minutes until this momentous movement into The New Millennium.

MEDITATION TECHNIQUE ~ AN ENERGY CIRCLE ~

- We would like you all to stand and form a circle and hold hands.
- You are gathered in this time with each other, to share in an Energy Circle.
- We will begin with this person ~ she will visualize energy going down her left arm into the right arm of the person next to her.
- We will move around with each person visualizing energy going down their left arm into the right arm of the person next to you ~ and you will form an Energy Circle. The energy now goes down the left arm and up the right arm of the person next to you. (Waith guides the flow of energy through each person)
- And now The Energy Circle is complete.
- Feel the energy moving throughout The Energy Circle ~ it is the combined energy ~ it is The Energy Circle of strength ~ it is an energy circle that you can create with anyone.
- The celebration of movement along the timeline of the earth plane is now complete for the New Year.
- Visualize the energy flowing around and around and around.
- Squeeze each other's hands ~ release the hands and all hug each other.

END OF TECHNIQUE ~

(There are lots of hugs and Happy New Year wishes)

The focus in The New Illusion is the learning of Interdimensional Travel and Communication and as the next illusion moves along, it will become very normal ~ Interdimensional Travel and Communication.

What you see here as this peanut shape is a one dimensional drawing of a multidimensional form. In actuality, its sides ~ wherever they happen to be ~ are each other, and in order for balance to occur, they must be opposite components in order for them to be One. Opposite, yet One, opposite, yet complete ~ traveling on its own path, but yet, completely united.

And when there is imbalance, it simply means that there are lessons to be learned. And when a particular lesson is learned, whatever percentage that learning takes on, there becomes balance in the energy field. It may be for a nanosecond, but there is balance, and when they are opposite, it brings the entire energy field into a Oneness ~ it is merged. It is very difficult to show this in a one dimensional drawing.

It seems that in this illusion, we have talked a lot about the circle within the circle within the circle. Are we now talking about a peanut within a peanut within a peanut?

Yes, the shape just changed. That is all. Remember that energy is free flowing, and it is a circle within a circle within a circle. However, for purposes of understanding and focus, an entity, such as human, needs to have something to hold onto, so we gave you a Pocket of Energy, for example. We give you a shape that is easy to focus on. Some do not need to have the concreteness of a shape, they simply know that they balance or they do not balance.

For most people moving into The New Illusion they will need to have something visible in their focusing, where they can say, "Ah, my development of Interdimensional Communication is more highly developed than Interdimensional Travel." There are separate lessons for each component, and there are similar lessons, which will be discussed in a future session. So there may be a bit of harmony or disharmony, and if there is something concrete to hold onto, it makes it much easier. It is as simple as that. When you live in the concrete, you need to have concrete tools to work with, for the most part.

Does this mean that the physical pyramid shape disappears?

Yes.

So if we have little pyramids to charge our crystals, we should probably get rid of them.

No, not now.

Not now, but later.

Actually, you will have not need to do that. When the planet shifts, in that time frame, there will be a New Illusion that is developed and put in place. The pyramids that currently encircle the planet will dissolve. They will be replaced by a new shape which is the shape of the peanut.

What about the physical manifestations of that, like the Great Pyramids of Egypt?

They will dissolve and they will be replaced by physical peanuts. They will be in different spots ~ one of those peanuts will be here. (Waith refers to the physical location of Terra Lux)

In the information that we gave out for the Fall Retreat we indicated that for those who will come into The New Illusion, it will be a New Illusion and things will appear to be as normal, and so you will not have pyramid shaped anything ~ they will dissolve ~ they will be not part of The New Illusion. And it will not be seen to you as missing them. It will be normal, you see.

When you are in The New Illusion it will all be normal. You will have gone to sleep ~ or so it will seem, and you will be in a dream state ~ or so it will seem, and you will awaken ~ or so it will seem, and the world will be as it is ~ or so it will seem. But it will be natural.

Interdimensional communication that supposedly we don't have now, which I know are dormant, will be developed?

They are not dormant ~ they are active in every entity, every energy form, they are active. It is simply at the concrete that there may not be an understanding or an acknowledgment. But every energy form has a time that is called sleep, and whether you remember your dreams ~ so called ~ or not, is not the issue. When you go into the sleep state, you are traveling interdimensionally and you are communicating interdimensionally. In The New Illusion, it will become a concrete activity ~ acknowledgment, awareness.

And that is just something we will wake up to and just know that it is there?

You will have levels of development. The New Illusion and its time frame is meant to bring about increased and heightened development of Interdimensional Travel and Communication.

We send to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.

Thank you, Waith, and farewell.
