OPEN SESSION ~ IMPOSING UPON ANOTHER ~ STAYING ON THE CHOSEN PATH ~ TESTING FROM THE UNIVERSE

Waith: We bring to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius.

Greetings.

We are here to speak very causally with you. So, ask away, my loved ones.

I know that what I am going through right now has to do with Respect for Self, and at the same time, I am concerned if I am imposing, because of the problems that I am having business wise with my son-in-law. Am I imposing my way of thinking?

Well, that brings us into a rather interesting discussion of imposition and the line that each entity has within Self as to what is imposing and what is not imposing. We have said in other times that you will not know where that line is until you have crossed it, and that it is important to cross it in order to determine if, indeed, you needed to move the line somewhat, or if you needed to step back somewhat. Remember that the line between imposition and non-imposition is unique to each entity and is, for each entity, that line ~ the status quo of the entity.

Now, what that means for you is that you are behaving in certain ways that you are testing your own degree of Respect of Self. The only way that you will know if you have achieved a degree of Respect of Self is to cross your own line. We have said continuously over our years that you must exaggerate in your own behavior in order to reach balance eventually ~ this teeter-totter. So you must cross over your own line and reset your own line in order to balance. So, if you are imposing, so what? What is the worst thing that is going to happen?

Earth plane? Or spiritual way?

Tell us both then. At earth plane, what is the worst thing that will happen if you impose upon this entity of whom you think you are imposing?

Just anger on his part, but perhaps then he could balance a little bit, too.

Oh, do not begin to think about what HE would do.

Just think about what I would do.

What is the worst thing that would happen to YOU if you imposed upon him, at earth plane level?

Not much.

Indeed. Now you have it. And what is the worst thing that could happen to you if you imposed upon him ~ the worst thing at spirit level?

I would go backwards a little bit.

Not necessarily. And even if you do, what is so bad about that? There is nothing so terrible that will happen. Ultimately, it all balances. It is easy to say, "Ah, at the spirit level, according to The Universal Consciousness, it all balances, ultimately." And it does. No one goes into this place called Hell. That is where you are living currently ~ as in Heaven.

The important thing, however, and again, we emphasize our attention being given to THE GUIDELINES FOR GROWTH at a concrete level. How do you actually grapple with the issues in the concrete? We use your illustration perhaps in a bit of a humorous way only to show that humans at the earth plane level become very, very serious about their behaviors. On one hand, that is very important to do, but on the other hand, it takes away from taking yourself lightly. Again, part of THE GUIDELINES FOR GROWTH ~ Be Serious, Be Joyful, Be Lighthearted. Approach what you are doing, your mission, in a serious way but do not take yourself seriously.

And so, yes, you want to be certain that your behavior is what you feel is the best behavior, and it is important then to think about your behavior and the implications that it will have to those around you. At the same time, there comes a point where you have to act, again, knowing that there will be implication, and you try to act in a way that is gentle and Loving to those around you. But that may not always happen. You may think that you are being gentle and loving ~ someone else interprets it in another way. Or indeed, you know before you even act, "This is not going to be gentle and loving," And you know what? That can be all right. Why would we say that is all right to know before you act, that it is not going to be gentle and loving?

- ⊗ I know from experiences it can kick you out of the place where you are if something is very well for your own benefit.
- ⊗ It could be an act of Self Respect.

And how could that be an act of Self Respect?

If someone had been imposing on me, then I don't act as Loving because I need to balance.

So there are situations ~ you have all faced them ~ where you have tried in your behavior toward a particular entity, to be Loving and gentle, and they have not responded. They have continued to be imposing upon you, or they have continued to speak in disparaging ways to you. And finally, you have to say, "Here is the line issue again." You have to say to them, "Enough is enough." And respond in a way that perhaps they will understand.

And then you break that energy that is between the two of you. And in its breaking it either pushes them away, and you do not have to deal with that entity again, or it reconfigures the energy, because that entity to whom you gave back what they were giving to you, suddenly, is taken aback. That entity perhaps would say, "We could work something out." Because you have given back to that entity what they gave to you, and they are taken by surprise, and they see perhaps, themselves, in your behavior, and it affects them ~ or maybe not, and oh well, if it does not, you break the energy connection with that entity. It creates a space because of the lack of the energy connection and the lack of that entity, and you now have an opportunity to fill that space with positive energy, because The Universe does not like to see a void. It is as simple as that and as complex.

Remember that ultimately no matter what any of us do, it is the right thing to do ~ ultimately. If you look at it in a linear sense, as is on the earth plane, well yes, it can have some LINEAR implications, and that is why we say to you, you must look at what the possible implications are of your behavior, at an earth plane level. But do not become paralyzed by it. It is the paralysis that can keep you out of balance in making a decision. Make a decision. Much harder to do on the earth plane than it is to simply talk about it ~ that paralyzes.

It is very difficult to know the direction to take. If it is in the big picture from me, what is the best way to go? Am I on my pathway, so to speak, through all of that jumbled up mess? And it would be, to me, nice to be able to somehow consult something, somewhere, and say, "That is what I need to do ~ no, that is not what I need to do."

Ah-h, indeed. Somewhere there is a rule book and if we are good, then maybe we can gain access to that book that tells us EXACTLY what it is we have to do, given any particular question or situation.

My son, remember that every path that an entity takes, is a spiritual path. There is no such thing as a nonspiritual path. Secondly, every path that you choose is the correct one, regardless. The path that one takes on, for example, in the earth plane, has many sub pathways, if you will, many little diversions, that ultimately bring you back to the main path. Maybe not in this lifetime, however. One must look at their path in several ways. You have a path for the earth plane sojourn.

You have perhaps planned out several thousand earth plane lives. Your sojourn then is several thousand earth plane lives, and there is a common thread, a common path, that will be placed in ALL of those thousands lives, the sojourn. Within each lifetime, can be a diversion ~ a path, a fork in the road, as we sometimes say, it is an exit off of the Interstate, as you call it ~ that eventually gets you back to the main road, which may be several lifetimes. So your diversion may, in fact, be a series of lifetimes, and then you get back to your main path. So regardless of what you choose to do when you come to the fork in the road, "Ah, what do I do? Do I go right? Do I go left?" Regardless of which direction you go in, it ultimately will bring you back to the main path.

And thus, my loved ones, your decision to do one thing or another thing, while certainly can be monumental in its implications at an earth plane level, its spiritual implications are not as in-depth as they appear to be at earth plane. For at spirit level, everything is going as it needs to go. And even at earth plane level, regardless of how difficult the implications of a particular decision turns out to be, you will be able to handle those implications, for you would not have been presented with the alternative pathways if your Soul was not ready to handle even the most difficult of implications.

This issue is part of what we plan to devote much of our teachings to as we move out of this current illusion. It is a very difficult arena for many, many entities. Even the most practiced of entities where decision-making is concerned, will find that they are doing just fine where their path is concerned. Ah, they flow just so beautifully. And then either an existing entity or a new entity comes along and pushes the button ~ the button that you perhaps did not even know existed. And then, you may become paralyzed, you may say, "Oh, I do not know what to do." This happens ~ this is part of the game. You have set it up yourselves, when just it becomes a little too flowing for you, "Ah, I flow with The Universe. All is well. I am at peace. I am content."

I am bored!

The words, "I am bored," are the three worst words you can utter. Of course, they can be the best words that you utter, but those are the three words that The Universe responds to almost immediately, whether you say it out loud and consciously, or whether you begin to feel, "Ah, my life is going just wonderfully ~ not a problem. I really am flowing now. I've got this down just right. I know where all of my buttons are and I know how to cover them.

Almost immediately, The Universe says, "Well, let us test that and see." It very difficult, my loved ones, to not give that kind of energy out to The Universe for that is part of the growth. Without saying in essence, "I am bored," then you would not grow. Now there are some lifetimes on the earth plane that are meant to be play lifetimes ~ vacation. Almost a contradiction, vacation on the earth plane. However, those do occur.

I would like one of those.

Be careful for what you ask.

Especially with him sitting there.

Indeed. Especially since you have taken on an accelerated energy. That could also play itself into an accelerated vacation on the earth plane.

We move this into a Universal Precept ~ as soon as an energy expresses that they are content, it is signal to The Universe that it is time to increase the lesson learning ~ this is not a bad thing. What could possibly happen ~ and it will not always happen ~ is that there will be situations that The Universe will say, "That is fine because you have been tested and retested and retested on a particular issue."

You may be tested or not, and if you are tested, you may pass the test once again, you see. So when you make a statement of any kind that expresses, "Ah, I am feeling good about where I am now," that is a good thing. That shows that you have come to a point of balance. It is also a precept of The Universe that it is an indicator, "Ah, do we test her again, or do we recognize that she does not need to be tested every time she makes that statement ~ only periodically." The Soul periodically must be retested for what we think we have balanced.

You may find that you have passed a particular test so many times that The Universe says, "No need this time." But not to become complacent about it. Remember, this is not a bad thing. For being on the earth plane is all about being tested and embracing the opportunities to be tested, and it is up to each of you to determine how often you will be tested and to what degree you will be tested ~ what percentage.

This is what the journey is all about, my love. It is nothing to feel depressed about. It is nothing to feel that you are incapable of doing, or that it is even a bad thing ~ it is a good thing. It is what it is all about. And if you are not able to make a decision, oh well. Perhaps it is the lifetime where you need to learn how to address the issue of making decisions and perhaps the flexibility and freedom of making decisions will come to you in another lifetime, after you have had a series of lifetimes to prepare you, to give you the instructions.

Remember that as you look around and you see entities perhaps who feel very comfortable in making decisions. They did not just pop into the life like that. That took many lifetimes of experiences, very pointed experiences, "This is what I am planning to do for this series of lifetimes so that I will reach a point where I am comfortable in making decisions."

It is easier said than done.

Oh, indeed it is, indeed it is. No one was ever promised a rose garden coming into the earth plane. Remember you each chose the earth plane as a journey.

I would like to have a discussion with myself and just really talk about something.

Oh, indeed, we are making some headway now. Get angry with Self. Say, "What about these other levels of Self who made this decision anyway, who did not read the fine print?" Because, there is fine print in the contract that an energy signs when they come out of The Universal Consciousness and say, "I think I would like to go onto the earth plane training ground. And you know, then, that, "Here is this little itty bitty print down here. I will not bother to read it," just like you do with other things on the earth plane. And then we get you ~ and it is a discussion within Self that one must have, and that is the journey ~ THE SEARCH FOR SELF, our focus.

And what better way for us to end our conversations with you. So now, my loved ones, we will depart and we have enjoyed our conversations with you.

We send to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.

Q: Farewell and thank you, Waith.
