OPEN SESSION ~ REMEDY FOR TREATMENT OF A COLD SORE ~ A QUESTION ABOUT THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION
AND WHO WILL LEAD IN THE NEW ILLUSION ~ EXAGGERATIONS OCCURRING AT THIS TIME ~ THE NEW ILLUSION ~
DNA ~ PAST AND PRESENT MEMORIES

Waith: We bring to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius.

Thank you Waith.

Blessings to you all.

Blessings to you, too.

We are amused at the conversations that occurred prior to our entry. (Waith refers to the discussion of how to position the microphone on Mushiba's attire) Yes, if this is the way you make decisions about such monumental items, then we are all in trouble with The New Illusion, "Oh, what should we do? Should we be this gender or should we be this gender? Well, maybe we should sew something in to make us a particular gender, or should there be a pocket that houses that particular item that we could remove when we needed to?" 😊 😊

Oh, I like that.

Indeed, not as far removed as you might think. Indeed. Considering the age span in our gathering, we will not go any further with that particular topic.

So, we are very pleased to be here to chit chat with you. This is a time when you can ask us any questions that you would want to ask. It is the open forum, if you will.

Oh yes, it is (Name given). (Waith is speaking to a child in the gathering) That is the name we gave you when you first entered in, my love. Do you remember that? (Waith repeats his spiritual name) We like to refer to you in that way. Do you mind if we refer to you in that way?

Yes.

You do mind. You do not want us to call you (Name given)? (The child nods his head in the affirmative) All right, we will not for the time being ~ you will grow into it. Ask us your question, my love.

How can my lips get better?

How can your lips get better? First, you would want to kiss your mother more. 😊 😊 A fate worse than death ~ indeed. What is it about your lips, my love, that bothers you?

I have a cold sore.

Oh, you have a cold sore. This affliction, this cold sore, can be very painful and can be annoying, can it not? It is annoying for you?

Yes.

Yes. Which is why you would want it to go away. It would be best for approximately one week, my love, to not have any food that has citrus in it. Your mother knows what that means. That would include any type of fruit, for all fruit, at its base element, has the components of what you ordinarily refer to as citrus, even though it appears to not be a citrus. It would be best to take that which is the castor oil ~ you have some of this, my love?

Yes.

The castor oil. Mix it with a bit of olive oil ~ the two oils ~ a little more of the castor than the olive, perhaps seventy five, twenty five, you see. And place it on all of the lip area, three times each day, in the morning after breakfast, after lunch and before sleep. A particular item that would be beneficial to consume ~ so we take away the citrus orientation ~ would be a root vegetable. Root vegetables meaning roots under the ground, just to make it clear.

So you want basically his diet a little more alkaline?

Indeed, my love, you bring it into the earth plane vocabulary ~ that would be good to place on the record.

Is there any other component in terms of like, his speaking, or his expressing himself, that is coming out as a cold sore and as the raw lips, that he has difficulty with?

The underlying issues would need to be addressed in private.

Okay

And certainly we would be willing to do that, not as a Public Session.

Thank you.

So, my son, would you sometime soon like to speak with us, with your mother, privately?

Yes.

Indeed, we will do that then. Are you happy with that answer?

Yes.

Indeed. We have a whole basket full of potential answers. That seems to be the least disruptive, given the age and the lifestyle.

Thank you.

Indeed. Any of you could actually use that remedy. It is one of many, many different remedies for that particular ailment. Indeed.

Actually, I have some alkaline drops. Could I just add it to his water and have him drink my alkaline water?

That could supplement, yes. We had to research that quickly to respond, yes. All right, what else now?

The current election fiasco, is that a good example of the exaggeration and the over the top situations that are occurring more frequently because of the end of the illusion? (Referring to the Presidential Election of 2000)

You need to ask an Archangel that?

Well, Waith, I just want confirmation. I mean, it's ridiculous.

Do you think so?

The whole thing is ludicrous.

Well then, laugh at it! It is certainly an exaggeration. As we have indicated for so long now, implosion is what will be occurring within all of the systems. Implosion takes on many forms. Implosion may not be what many would define it as, from their own frame of reference.

This is most definitively the beginnings of implosion, where a system just completely collapses within itself ~ from its own exaggeration of a system that no longer works, because of abuses, which were all predictable and which were all meant to happen so that this point in the illusion could be reached. There is nothing negative about it. It is simply the way that the flow of energy has to occur in order for the planet and its vibration to reach its own cleansing and do its own implosion ~ which is the shifting of its axis. So we recommend that you sit back and enjoy it.

So that would include also whoever ends up getting this election?

It matters not who ends up.

It will be like the person who was supposed to get in for whatever is supposed to happen?

Indeed. All that appears is not what it really is, you see. An illusion has been created and not to worry about time frames.

(Waith speaks to another member of the gathering) My son, you had a query of Mushiba not too long ago about who she had said ~ and we confirmed ~ would be the leader of this country going into The New Illusion. You say that he is nowhere in sight, "Where is he? He is not in line for this presidency." Well, we never said it would be the presidency ~ we said it would be the leader for The New Illusion.

As we have been saying, the majority of entities will wake up one morning and be in The New Illusion and there will be the leader. Some will remember and some will not, you see. But, not to disappoint you, this entity will be coming into the spotlight after this particular fiasco has run its course ~ as you call it, a fiasco. We, in fact, find it with our clicker rather amusing ~ click, click, click. See all of the issues that are being presented on all fronts, all of the different energies ~ what you call the lawyers and what you call the media and the financial markets ~ all of those energies that are being affected by this. Quite an amusing thing to watch.

It's like a lot of mice running around on a wheel and going nowhere.

You mentioned that an event would be occurring. Is this the event that you were referring to?

No, it is not, my love. We were referring to an Earth event, a natural Earth event occurring in that which you call the Middle East. It has yet to occur. It is imminent.

Thank you.

Remember imminent in OUR frame of reference.

Next year.

It will be the signal, as we indicated, of the end of this next to the last stage with another event following it very quickly that signals the beginning of the final stage before the shifting. There is still what you call several years on the earth plane until the shifting.

Thank you.

We, as you know, are very cautious about giving any kind of definitive time. We caution you to be wary of any who would give you a definitive time ~ but it is imminent.

So, does that answer your question about the election?

Yes, Waith, thank you. I knew the answer. I just wanted to make sure it was right.

You wanted to make sure it was right. But, you know, anything that occurs now is an exaggeration of itself. It is not possible for anything at the end of an illusion to be anything but exaggerated. You are all living in an environment where you know nothing other than exaggeration, at least in this lifetime.

That is for our whole life?

Indeed, for the entire life. The exaggerations began three hundred to five hundred earth plane years ago and have accelerated in the past one hundred earth plane years and that has accelerated, as you would call, exponentially, every year. And so each year that you are living, from the time that you have come into this illusion, you have lived in accelerated exaggeration. You know not what would be called stability in an illusion.

I'm a farmer for example, and life is easy. I get up each day ~ I plant my crop ~ I come home ~ food's on the table ~ I read the paper ~ I go to sleep ~ and play the whole cycle over again, day after day. Is that an example of what is stability? In other words, if our frame of reference is off, I was just looking for something that might be in that area.

The world around you is exaggerated. The life that a particular energy may choose could not necessarily have to be exaggerated. They may be living what we refer oftentimes to as vacation lives, or play lives, in which there is not a great deal of issue resolution. That needs to be put into a comparison to the world around in which one lives. As we have indicated so often ~ it is on the record ~ many entities choose the end of an illusion to come in and use it as an opportunity to accelerate their own lesson learning. And by doing exactly that, by accelerating their own lesson learning, they come into an accelerated environment so that they are accelerated in an already accelerated environment.

However, there are many who choose not to do that. They come in, in what you would call nonaccelerated, even though the world around them is accelerated. So the reference that you make, the farmer, for example, this entity's life may be very stable. But this entity potentially watches the same television, reads the same publications that you do, and sees the acceleration ~ and has no other frame of reference. So when we say that you are in the frame of reference of acceleration, for some of you, it is your life, as well as the world around you, and for others, it is simply the world around, you see. So that would be perhaps what you were trying to clear.

There are many entities who simply observe the world around them and are not particularly affected by the events ~ many who live in relative isolation from that which you call the mass media. However, even those who would live in relative isolation are still subjected to the exaggerations of the Earth. So no matter where any entity happens to find themselves on the Earth, they would be part of the Earth's own exaggerations in its attempt to clean itself. It is difficult to escape nature, as you call it. Hot when it should be cold, cold when it should be hot ~ our famous words from the very beginning of our discussions through Mushiba.

You are about to experience it in this geographic area. It is already being experienced in other areas. It is much colder than it should be, or is expected to be. It will, however, soon become much warmer within a short time. This is exaggeration. It will then become much colder than normal. This coming time frame, as you call it, this season, will have much flux in it. Yes, much flux. But that is nothing new.

Why is everything exaggerated, Waith, at the end of an illusion?

It is necessary for the exaggerations. We have described it in the past as much like a rubber band. As issues are played out, there is a stretching of energy. It is a built in mechanism for the earth plane that there be changes in Illusions. The Portfolio of Illusions that we have discussed, which has a run of approximately one million earth plane years, has illusions that ~ this current one, for example ~ run for what you call ten thousand earth plane years. Atlantis ran for approximately thirty to fifty thousand years, with sub illusions in it. It is part of the setup that there will be different illusions with different staging, with different packaging, if you will, for the same issues.

In order for an illusion to end and another one to start up, it was determined, then, that there would be, as best as we can describe it, a snapping of the current flow of energy of lesson learning ~ to stop its current illusion and allow it to move into a New Illusion. So as you are going through an illusion, it is like a rubber band ~ as you move toward the end of it, the rubber band begins to stretch and stretch and it becomes exaggerated in its length and the exaggeration then enables it, eventually, to snap. It is the easiest analogy that we can give you in terms of why exaggeration is necessary. It is also part of bringing out of balance what occurs at the beginning of an illusion.

At the beginning of an illusion there is relative harmony, as best as can be experienced on the earth plane, which is a training ground set up to be disharmonious. In order to bring the balance between the beginning and the end of an illusion, there must then be an imbalance of the balance that occurred at the beginning.

So there is tremendous imbalance, which brings exaggeration, in many cases of a negative issue, as perceived by some, not by us, "Oh, the political system is falling apart ~ bad thing." No, it is not. It is simply that the illusion now is bringing its own Self into balance, soon then to snap. At the time that it snaps, the Earth's axis shifts ~ it all happens simultaneously ~ most on the plane will not be aware of its physical component. Snaps ~ the new rubber band is established. It places itself at the beginning of the illusion to come ~ it is relatively harmonious, it is stable, it has not begun to be stretched ~ it is in essence, out of balance.

The beginning and the end of an illusion are, essentially, out of balance ~ it is at the middle of an illusion that the most opportunity for balance occurs. This is new information. And what are the implications of that? That is for future discussion as we move further along in our discussions of energy in The New Illusion ~ the implications of the beginning and the end of an illusion and the middle.

Many of you in this gathering have experienced all points in an illusion ~ the beginning, the end, the middle ~ all very different types of flows of energy. And so all of you, right now, are experiencing exaggeration. And most who would read our information or hear our words are those who have taken on accelerated learning and super imposed that upon an environment that is accelerating exponentially, moment by moment, linear time wise.

Does that answer your question?

Yes it does, I think.

More than you had expected.

I wasn't clear on it but it makes more sense now. Thank you.

Does it make more sense?

As far as I can grasp it, yes.

Does it create more questions?

Probably.

We would hope so. That is the purpose of our discussions, not always successful, but, that is our purpose.

When I read history ~ granted, it's illusion, and we're only being allowed to read what the illusion indicates, I suppose ~ I always had the feeling that people did not live as well as they do today. They died early, they did not live very long, so they just sort of were here a few years and left. They say that now people are living a lot longer and their health is a lot better, and so on and so forth. Now, is that part of the balancing that you are talking about?

We feel there is a question here somewhere.

I do, too. What I am trying to ask is did the people used to live very differently than we do today?

Yes.

Yes, they did. We could never, as we are now, go backwards and live the way that they did. Is that correct?

It is always interesting to, shall we say, plug into conversations on the earth plane now in terms of superiority of technology, lifestyle, etc. ~ thinking that everything is so much more superior now, and anything, "Oh, ten thousand years ago, there was not even a human being on the planet."

Remember that, yes, you have recognized that it is the illusion that is being created, that comparatively speaking, each section of life or time frame of life of which you are aware, has its own type of frame of reference to the past. Those who you look at in the past also have a past that they look at that is different from what you are looking at. Your past in this particular component of this illusion has been created by The Mass Consciousness for its own purposes ~ The Mass Consciousness being all of us, at some higher level, simultaneously existing as we currently speak to you.

Now then, do you think then that living in a cave is primitive?

For me, it would be primitive right now.

Indeed. Now, would it be primitive for them?

No, because that's their way of life.

Indeed. Would they consider their life to be less than?

No, evidently not, no.

Well, if they were looking, however, at a past, such as you look at them as a past, and say, "Ah, we are better than," they, too, would have an illusion of a past that would say, "Ah, we are living better than our past." It is illusion created so as to give, once again, the illusion of progress. It is all relative. And within an illusion there, then, are segments designed to create an illusion of progress when in actuality, they are sub illusions.

We have referred to the Atlantean Illusion as being a series of sub illusions. There were actually three, what could be called, major illusions within the Atlantean time. So Atlantis existed as an illusion ~ it is one of the longer illusions in the portfolio ~ and it existed as a major illusion for thirty to fifty thousand earth plane years. Within that were three major segments, one being the past to another, and even the first thought it had a past ~ it was given that illusion.

It is part of the game and it is set up that you would have an understanding of, "We have achieved this," in comparison to something that occurred in the past. Once the illusion is over, all of those frames of reference get packed away and in The New Illusion, you will have a past. It will seem perfectly normal, and remember the three segments of entities who we have described.

And so The New Illusion will begin, and about a third of the way through, in this coming illusion, there will be a major kind of shifting that will occur where suddenly there will be rather dramatic advances. It will be very similar but not as dramatic as what is about to occur where everyone will go to sleep, wake up and everything is perfectly normal, but it will have changed. And the past then will have been changed.

The past that you know now is different than the past of two thousand earth plane years ago. We have indicated many, many years ago that with the entry of the entity known as Jesus, was the beginning of setting up the closure for this illusion and that there was tremendous energy fluxes occurring with this particular energy. He was given the job of creating the closure energy, and as a result of that, there was a different past put in place.

Where does our DNA play in with that? I begin to believe that our consciousness encodes in the DNA. But is there also a Mass Consciousness that is factoring in? That's why we can't fly at this point ~ I can't buck the current ~ so that my DNA cannot put those bits of information? And where can I, as an individual, actually begin to change my own DNA? Because isn't that also what then brings the biology up to speed, to live in this kind of illusion?

The Mass Consciousness definitively controls the illusion, and all of us are The Mass Consciousness. We have indicated in the past, although very, very briefly and sort of fluffed over it, the issue of what is called energy lines, as those on the plane would call the family line, the DNA, if you will. "We live in the family and we inherit certain traits and we inherit a certain energy." Some entities make a decision that they will incarnate into a particular energy line, or a family, if you will, and that they will become their own descendants, if you will. Many of what you call the political leaders ~ we addressed this many years ago ~ have a very specific energy line allocation for the reentry of the same energies into the line.

The DNA is controlled then by The Mass Consciousness. The DNA can be controlled then by Self. It simply takes a particular skill that is developed over many lifetimes, in order to work with The Mass Consciousness to bring about a change in one's own DNA, if one even wants to do that. It requires discussion with your own Energy Circle, and we refer you back to that particular discussion. Not quite as simple a process when one considers that you have thousands, potentially, in your Energy Circle all with a vote. However, the potential is there.

So I, as an individual, could I decide in this moment to no longer want certain traits or to want to acquire certain traits that then get encoded in me?

Not alone.

So I have to basically, then, if I were to want that, call upon my ancestral lineage?

That would be a part of the process. Your ancestral lineage would be your Energy Circle, partly. Getting The Energy Circle to agree on any ONE thing is a challenge, for that is the way that The Energy Circle is set up ~ that is the purpose, so that the lessons can be learned through not agreeing, you see. As The Energy Circle develops, however, and becomes more resolved in its own issues, the ability to agree becomes greater ~ that is also part of the setup and the design.

With The New Illusion coming, there is a greater opportunity for energies who decide that they are going to move into The New Illusion ~ during that transition time when energies are in the shelters, interdimensional shelters, and the training is given in another dimension for The New Illusion ~ to participate in the DNA, as you call it, setup for The New Illusion is there. It is not something that you can simply do arbitrarily, for it is something done by The Mass Consciousness and is part of the balance for a particular illusion.

However, as you develop your own skills, again, in conjunction with The Energy Circle, it then ~ The Energy Circle ~ must go to The Mass Consciousness for any effective change to occur. No Energy Circle, no one entity, can bring about that kind of change out of The Mass Consciousness. There would be chaos then. It has to be agreed upon, for that is one of the major components of an illusion.

So basically, we are living coded for a particular biological integrity within this illusion that all have agreed upon, to say, "That's what we are going to play out," and like in the New Illusion, we literally go back to the drawing table from a higher and say, "Well, how about we give these things a possibility and we let that come to play out?"

Indeed. That is the way that it occurs. There are many things that cannot just be changed arbitrarily within an illusion. There are many that can be.

So in terms of then when our scientists now do genetic changes, or so, is that part of this blueprint? Or is that actually then going against the biological integrity?

It is part of the blueprint. Everything that occurs has a reason. What you see as new technology ~ or so called new technology ~ is simply evidence of The New Illusion. And the reason that you are seeing it right now is that those who are part of it either will be bringing it consciously into The New Illusion ~ they will be part of that group ~ or unconsciously. Into The New Illusion, they may be part of the other group, for lessons to be learned, or they simply are establishing their own soul memories for when they return at a future time. But they are indeed part of the setup currently now happening for The New Illusion.

So what I am hearing is, we are right now, actually preparing to meet our decisions that we already have made, in the future.

Indeed. It is as simple as that ~ our famous statement. But it is. And it is perhaps a higher level of discussion because it goes then to simultaneous versus individual, and all occurring at the same time, and yet not ~ and that there is setup occurring now as predetermined by The Mass Consciousness, and final decisions to be made at the transitions time. Some decisions have already been put into place. Others are awaiting the final shake out, if you will, of those who will be actually staying for The New Illusion.

There are so many who have not decided. They have not decided if they want to stay or not ~ and they are able to stay, but they may say no. There are many who are preparing and will not know vibrationally if they have prepared sufficiently enough for the new vibration, and will not know until that time. And so it is necessary that certain components can be put into place now, but the majority cannot. And even in the issue of DNA, there are many unresolved and undecided components at this particular time.

So is this like a democratic process out there, that everybody goes in there, “Oh, let’s do this. Oh, let’s do that. Or how about this, how about that?” Who has a say in what is going to be?

Oh. Indeed. We would refer you to our discussion of The Universe and how it is run. We jokingly refer to Amelius as having the choke collar on us. He is one of the five currently designated to be the final decision makers, if you will, as deemed by The Universal Consciousness, or The Mass Consciousness. And so those five are the ones ultimately given the responsibility by The Mass Consciousness, to take all of the discussion and bring it into some type of form.

So they are having difficulties between the electoral and the popular votes?

One COULD use that as analogy but it is not quite that arbitrary. Because there is harmony that exists.

It is more of a corporation.

The only frame of reference that you have is what you have just given. There is a vibrational harmony that occurs within The Universal Consciousness that does not exist in what you call the popular vote on the earth plane. And there is then the ability for The Universal Consciousness to become very harmonious. It is rare that there is disagreement because, as we have said in the past, it is very boring in The One, because everyone agrees, if you will.

It is not even an issue of agreeing or disagreeing, it is simply an issue that, “Oh yes, that is the way that it needs to be, and now Amelius and your crew, it is up to you ~ implement.” And so those who run The Universe are really the implementers. They are the ones charged with the dirty work. The decisions are essentially agreed upon at The Universal Conscious level ~ and then the five must then have their job ahead of them. And we think that is the best way to frame it for you.

It is more complex than that, and yet it is really quite simple. At the highest levels there is harmony. There is not even an issue of disagreement. Yes, they all have a vote, as you would call it, but they all agree. That is why we try to get out as quickly as we can ~ it is so boring in there ~ it is more fun outside The One. 😊😊

Does that answer your question?

Kind of. There is more of it.

Yes, we will be having ~ we have alluded to this ~ advanced discussions in particular areas that your questioning would be more appropriate perhaps. We would be able to go more into depth as we discuss the Flow of Energy coming.

Getting back to history ~ let me see if I can understand this. Everything that we know of now as history ~ that we refer to when we took ancient history in school, and whatever ~ in references to the dinosaurs and the Greeks and the Romans, and all of that stuff, this is just something that was created for this illusion?

Well, in some cases, they did exist. The way they actually existed and the way that you all believe they existed differ. In the issue of something like dinosaurs, they did not exist in THIS illusion ~ they were existing in another illusion. What is allowed by the five who run The Universe is that in each illusion there are remnants that come from another illusion that help to create this sense of history. It is all part of the illusion in this illusion ~ to make you think that, "Oh, perhaps, we used to live with these creatures," when in actuality, they did have their own illusion.

There are many illusions in the portfolio that do not include humans ~ we are on the record for that. And remnants of those illusions become part of another illusion, so each illusion has a remnant of another illusion.

So once we've gone into The New Illusion, then much of what we have known as history will be lost.

Oh, it will not exist, my love.

The world wars, everything that we know?

That is correct. Understand that there will be a different history. Those in the group who remember everything, will know that there was another illusion that they just came from and they will have the memory of all that existed, in their memory. So if they have a memory of a war in this illusion, then they will have it in the next illusion ~ until they leave the plane. Those in the extreme other group that say this is the illusion that has always been will not have any memory of a war. They will have a different memory that has been set up.

So, history is created.

Yes. In a sense.

This is mind boggling.

Yes, it can be.

- ⊗ Because, I get down to little details of the physicality of this earth plane, all of our books, everything that is written about all of this stuff.
- ⊗ It is like an artist's canvas.

Yes, indeed.

It is going to be totally redone.

However, in The New Illusion, you will become part of the history of the illusion as it moves along. At the beginning of the illusion, there will be history created. It will be there, "Ah, it has always been ~ Oh, yes, I remember that war," or that whatever. If you go into the next illusion perhaps three thousand years into the illusion, it will have its segments of history, just as you have it now, and you will be part of it. However, the way in which you actually existed and the way that the illusion presents it, two thousand or three thousand years ahead or beyond it, will be different, you see. In this illusion there is no recordkeeping, official records, beyond two to three thousand years.

There are remnants of records or attempts to piece together history and lifestyle, based on relics that are found or artifacts that are found. And only because of the frame of reference that one has NOW is there this sense that, "Well, you know, the Romans must have had some kind of advanced abilities because they created these underground tunnels ~ how did they do that ~ and they lived without electricity ~ how could they live without electricity?" How do you know? You do not.

It is difficult to bring into any forum a discussion of past illusions and future illusions because your frame of reference is so limited by your current illusion, as it needs to be, by necessity. It is only as you are able to bring yourself out of the linear component of this illusion ~ through meditation, other components ~ that you begin to see the flow and indeed have an understanding of nonlinear energy flow.

Thank you, Waith.

So do not be discouraged if you are feeling that you cannot comprehend this ~ it is mind boggling as you call it. Part of the setup of any illusion is that it be just that, you see. Otherwise, there would be nothing to work through if you understood everything.

Correct.

Response 2: I have a question that concerns the housekeeping on a worldwide scale. If we are going to go to sleep one night and wake up and the illusion change will have taken place, what about everybody on the planet, their houses, their belongings, their baby pictures. Is somebody just going to wave the magic wand and whiz, everything is going to be in place?

That is pretty much how it happens, my love.

In other words, for those of us who don't remember, we won't be living in the same house. We won't be wearing the same clothes. We won't have the same siblings or husbands or kids or whatever, necessarily? What is going to happen to all of the debris, all of the stuff?

It goes into storage.

Is it just going to whiz away?

Yes, that is it. It goes into storage when this illusion goes back into The Portfolio, and when this illusion comes back again on the earth plane in one million years or so, it will bring with it all of the so called stuff that you refer to. It will be packaged a bit differently ~ it will be cleaned out, it will be refurbished, just as you would any stage.

Like Spring housecleaning.

In a sense, yes. Understand that at the highest levels of running The Universe there is the ability ~ with not even what you would call a thought form, but simply the ability ~ to change things. Many of you have experienced and have heard of Angelics suddenly appearing at an accident scene and then disappearing. It is as easy as that.

We in The Angelics have been delegated ~ that is the correct word ~ to be those in charge of the Illusion change. We receive our orders, if you will ~ we, in particular, from Amelius and from The Lead Energy that comes from Amelius ~ and we simply can change things. We can replace, we can add, we can delete, and no one will know. It is normal, "Ah, it has always been like this."

You see the concreteness and you think it is so firm. It is not, it is simply illusion ~ created by The Mass Consciousness and implemented by a chain of command, if you will. All of you have said, "Ah, I am sitting on a sofa," and that is the general agreement that The Mass Consciousness has said, and so you buy into that when you come into this illusion, "Ah, yes, I am part of The Mass Consciousness ~ I helped create this illusion ~ I am one of the creators." We all are. And therefore, the conditions of coming into this illusion require that, "I see that sofa and I am sitting on it and it is very concrete." However, it is not.

You recycle illusions?

Oh, yes, why reinvent the wheel, as you might say.

We'll be inheriting somebody else's junk then, potentially?

You are inheriting, in some sense, yes, someone else's junk. In many, many cases your own, for you have been in the illusion.

Many entities, in fact, wait. For example, in this illusion, you are here, you have decided that you want to live this illusion again because of unresolved issues in the packaging of this illusion. You may go into a few other illusions, play around a bit, but you purposely wait for this illusion to come back on the earth plane, jump in where you left off.

So this is not the first time this particular illusion has come?

Oh, no!

It is not like, done once and gone forever.

Oh, no, not at all.

Is it literally like changing the dial on the radio? We just tune into another? Right now, as we are talking, The New Illusion is being setup. Well, it is already playing out ~ we just turn the dial and go on another station. We are just not focused then on this illusion ~ we just temporarily focus on another ~ and then at some point, we say, "Let us go back to 88.5," and there it is. It is just more like a receiving and transmitting thing. We just play the dials to what we want to tune into and then play it out there. And then we choose radio stations saying, "Oh, I like to hear this, I like to be there." We just change back like that! And nothing disappears, we just are not tuned into it.

That is a good way of stating it. Yes.

And that is why everything then happens at the same time, we are just not tuned in, everything continues to play out and emit and we just change focus on where we want to tune into. And those who remember basically can listen to two channels at the same time.

Many channels at the same time.

And those who are, like psychics, they just have the ability to focus on more than one and just kind of turn the dial and say, "I am listening to that for a moment."

There is nothing glamorous, by the way, about being able to focus in on more than one station, if you will, at a time. That can be very disconcerting, if you will, unless one has deliberately chosen to follow that path. It creates its own set of issues, also, of abuse ~ but for another discussion.

Well then, we are ready to depart. Do not spend too much time obsessing about the information that we have given to you, trying to understand it. Simply know that all is illusion, and illusion is concrete and yet it is abstract, and that the illusion is an illusion. And on that, we depart, reminding you once again that The Universal Consciousness is an illusion.

We send to you all the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.

Thank you, Waith.
