ROOT DIMENSION ~ INTRODUCTION

(THIS TRANSCRIPT IS AN EDITED VERSION OF THE WAITH CLASS OF OCTOBER 3, 1995)

Waith: The blessings to you all from the very highest of the white light.

Thank you, Waith!

Our discussion in this class is ROOT DIMENSION.

Interdimensional communication is much easier to achieve than most of you recognize. It has fancy names on the earth plane, and is given a type of mystique. There is nothing mystical about it at all for you all are capable of interdimensional communication.

As you are seated in this class, you are in one dimension ~ and there are other dimensions surrounding you. Some of you are interdimensional as we speak, conscious in this dimension, semiconscious in another dimension. Sometimes when you are conscious in another dimension, you are semiconscious in this dimension ~ which explains the behavior of many of you on occasion.😊😊

You are not stuck in one dimension unless you choose to be. You move from dimension to dimension. And as you develop your skills at interdimensional movement, you do more of it.

Generally what occurs when you are on a particular path, a journey for learning of lessons ~ such as coming on to the earth plane ~ you choose to commit yourself to a particular dimension, where you will ground yourself. This means, however, that your point of reference is only that which keeps you focused on a particular path and journey. What you also do, as you develop your skills, is move interdimensionally while yet committed to the current dimension in which you find yourself.

Most of you have made a commitment to this dimension ~ this consciousness ~ in which you find yourself. This is your Root ~ where you position yourself. When you travel interdimensionally, the energy cord of connection is rooted in this dimension as well as with The Universal Consciousness.

Think of yourself as having little energy sparks ~ mini cords ~ that come out of you, that connect to the Root, that allows you to travel interdimensionally. When you are in your travels, interdimensionally, you pick up the skills of communication ~ and it is no different than the skills of communication you find yourselves developing in your Root Dimension.

Some of you have as your Root Dimension, some other dimension ~ not this one ~ and you visit this dimension. You are able to control your own interdimensional travel for this is the way that you organize your own journey, and your learning of lessons.

The dream state, as you call it, is one form of interdimensional travel, and one of those dimensions in which you can develop communication skills very strongly. Many of you have developed your skill at communicating with your Higher Self ~ that is interdimensional communication.

Many of you are able to communicate with your Spirit Guides ~ that is interdimensional communication. Many of you simply bring yourself into a Focusing to Gain Self Awareness ~ and that is interdimensional communication.

Whenever you move out of concrete awareness in this dimension in which you find yourself rooted, you are in another dimension, even though you may feel that you are fully in this consciousness. Daydreaming, as it is called on the plane, is a form of interdimensional travel and communication ~ you are seeing things in a different way.

Daydreaming is a wonderful pastime. Many of you utilize it to an advantage, to help you to become more creative, to feel more in touch with the creativity component of your spirit. The creative process, whatever form it takes, is interdimensional communication.

Actually, anything that you do could be classified as interdimensional communication. However, what you do is ROOT YOURSELF so that you do not get lost ~ which could be quite easy to do ~ when you go into interdimensional travel modes.

Think about your own journeys in this concrete illusion. You have a point of reference. Generally, you know where you came from ~ most of you ~ on a daily basis. You have your shelter ~ your POINT OF ORIGIN.

From that point of origin, you travel each day to different spots. You travel to where you are employed, where you play, and to the homes of other entities. You know, however, how to get back to your point of origin.

When you leave this class, you will automatically go to your point of origin ~ your Root. So, too, does this occur interdimensionally.

Many of you realize that even in this concrete dimension, you can sometimes move from one point to another point and not remember the journey. ☺ You say, "How did I get here?" For you, it was an automatic reflex. You were, in actuality, in another dimension while being pulled, energy wise, back to your point of origin in this dimension. You had a road map, energy wise, to follow.

Thus, when you go into other dimensions, you may not remember the journey ~ at the conscious level. You may, indeed, remember it in another dimension and not in this dimension. However, all of that knowledge is stored in your Soul for when you need to use it, in whatever dimension you find yourself.

Our speaking through Mushiba is an interdimensional communication technique that can be learned by any entity ~ however, it takes practice and commitment.

Entities who are, what is called, psychic are speaking from another dimension and are gaining their information from another dimension. All information is valuable. It is valuable to the audience to whom it is intended.

Just as you would communicate in this dimension with certain entities and not with other entities, so too, does interdimensional communication from dimensions other than the one you currently are in, operate.

Our words are not meant to be heard by everyone ~ yet. ☺ So, too, when you read a newspaper or magazine, you are meant to read that information. Others may not want that information, and, therefore, do not even show an awareness for that information.

Interdimensional communication is one of those behaviors increasing in its intensity. Once into The New Illusion, there will be a naturalness of awareness of interdimensional communication.

Many of you are being shown your abilities to communicate interdimensionally. You are being given, shall we say, a rolling narrative of the point in your development of interdimensional communication, what dimensions you communicate in more easily, and in what dimensions you need to develop your communication skills.

When you communicate with The Mineral Kingdom, it is interdimensional communication. When you have animals and feel a sense of them ~ their energy ~ you are communicating interdimensionally.

In this dimension when you simply understand information that comes to you, so too, does this occur in other dimensions. You simply understand it and bring it into the dimension in which you need to use it.

Information that you learn in this dimension you take with you interdimensionally.

The more that you develop your interdimensional communication, the greater will be your ability to communicate within Self. The more that you are able to communicate within Self, the greater will be your ability to communicate interdimensionally. It is a cycle and relates to the issue of respect.

The more that you Respect Self, the more you can Respect Others. The more that you Respect Others, the more it comes back to you, and you Respect Self more ~ these are the first two components of our Guidelines for Growth and thus the cycle.

The more positive you are, the more positive you become. The more negative you are, the more negative you become ~ it is an energy cycle. Energy is positive and energy is negative ~ it is up to you to determine which cycle you want to be in.

You are all capable of bringing in information from other dimensions through other energies ~ it simply requires commitment, dedication and a goal on your part. Do not look in awe at anyone who might have this ability for they have worked very hard to achieve it ~ there is nothing magical about it.

Each of you has skills you have developed. You each have gifts that you have been given, and you develop those gifts to be of service and benefit to others.

Interdimensional communication, as we speak through Mushiba, is simply a skill that has been developed, and once a skill is developed within each of you, The Universe expects you to share it, to teach it, and to be of service to others in a selfless manner.

So, when you look at others who share information interdimensionally, view it simply as their job ~ just as each of you has a job to do. It is a sharing of the gift that comes from hard work. Nothing is achieved without working at it.

Spiritual paths are paths. There is no such thing as a spiritual path that is different from any other path. Every path is spiritual. The fact that you are on your journey means that you are on a path and it is spiritual. Others may view it as negative and say, "Oh, you are a mass murderer ~ you could not possibly be on a spiritual path ~ you must be on a nonspiritual path."

There is no such thing as a nonspiritual path. All paths are spiritual ~ for the lessons that are learned by the entity, and the lessons that are taught.

Remember what we say so often ~ do not judge. The mass murderer may, indeed, be teaching, and have come from a very high realm of awareness, and there is group balancing involved in the behavior. It is the most difficult component of life in this dimension you find yourselves.

Do not judge what you consider bad behavior. As you begin to understand your own interdimensional energy form, you will begin to understand the significance of not judging ~ and it will become easier for you.

Often, when you travel interdimensionally, you are able to look into the dimension in which you are rooted and see things differently ~ not consciously, yet it goes into your vibration and your Soul memory and helps you as you travel your path. Your path is not just in this dimension ~ you must shake yourselves of that idea ~ that this is all there is.

The entity next to you may not be rooted in this dimension. However, when you travel interdimensionally ~ just as in this dimension ~ you may find yourself with an entity who is not rooted in that dimension.

In addition, you may find yourself in another dimension with someone who is rooted in THAT particular dimension, who thinks that you are rooted in that dimension.

Thus, in some dimensions you will meet up with entities who are rooted in that dimension and you will be the not rooted one ~ just as you may be with an entity who is not rooted in this dimension. We have much to share with you in this regard in the future sessions we have with you. ☺

Interdimensional communication is an area of abuse. As we have said so often, challenge the information that comes through if it does not feel right ~ even if it is a magazine that you read.

Thus, there are many entities now speaking interdimensionally who do not have the very highest motives in their behavior. It is up to you to determine if their level is the same as yours. They are intended to reach certain audiences. You may not be part of that audience, and you must simply say, "I am not part of this audience ~ I will find another source of information."

There is an attitude currently on the plane of what we have referred to as SPIRITUAL ELITIST ~ those who think they have a special key to gaining spiritual awareness and becoming better than another.

There is no such thing in The Universe as an entity who is better than another. You may have different awareness levels ~ however, those awareness levels are achieved through hard work and study. You are in a school. It is no different from any school that you go to on the earth plane.

You learn in this dimension and you also learn in other dimensions ~ and this increases your level of awareness. Then, in whatever dimension you find yourself actively participating, you utilize whatever information you need in order to accomplish what has been asked of you in any particular dimension.

Gaining Self Awareness through Focusing is only ONE form of finding your answers and is a connector for many energies interdimensionally. This process can be the road for many to move out of their Root Dimension into another dimension.

For many entities there is no need to use the formal process of focusing ~ they have developed the ability to move interdimensionally. Even while speaking with you in this dimension and appearing to be very focused on you, they may, also, be working in other dimensions.

Think of Focusing to Gain Self Awareness as a tunnel in which you simply walk through and journey from one room to another room ~ it is the connector and is filled with light and protection. To travel interdimensionally without protection is dangerous. This is where some of the abuse currently exists on the plane. You are shown how to travel or communicate interdimensionally and you are not, however, shown the technique to protect yourself.

The protection of Self is a necessity ~ in whatever form that might take. It is not necessarily that you must visualize white light for that is a concrete component. Many entities simply protect themselves and do not need to visualize anything.

Visualization is a technique used to help you develop your skills. The goal is to not have to visualize anything. Many are able to do that ~ most are not. Those currently on the plane who are not able to do so, are developing their abilities.

Our work with you is to help you find the balance in your path, to help you prepare for the changes that are occurring now that will accelerate, and to empower yourself with your own abilities and skills to advance your own awarenesses ~ and then to help you to use those skills in the service to the universe.

You talked about using these interdimensional communications skills to serve and to do it in a selfless way. On this concrete earth we also need shelter and food. How do we determine an appropriate way to be compensated just so we can have the necessities we need in the physical sense for this sharing and teaching that we do?

It is not for you to determine, even though you would attempt to. It is for The Universe to determine, in conjunction with your Soul. It is, however, one of the most common problems that many in this concrete illusion find themselves struggling with, for they feel that they want to be of service and yet they are not being paid and, therefore, they cannot have their basic needs provided for.

The issue relates to trusting your Soul and The Universal Consciousness to provide to you what you actually NEED and not what YOU think you need. You will receive what you need. It may not be, however, a luxurious place in which to live or a luxurious car. It may not even be a car. It may not even be a place to live. It may be a shelter.

However, you at concrete must not be the one who determines the rules and says, "I will be of service to The Universe as long as you, Universe, give me this kind of car and this kind of house, and I want to have all the food that I have to have according to my standards."

Once you say to The Universe, "I will be selfless under the following conditions," The Universe will say, "Well, why should we bother ~ this entity is not going to pay attention ~ does not trust in Self." For it is the trusting in Self that says, "I have gained skills ~ I have worked hard to gain these skills ~ I know now that I must give back ~ I will do what is asked of me." Period. Trust in it from that point on.

It is the most difficult behavior that many entities find and, yet, is a very common challenge. You say, "I want to trust in The Universe ~ however, I need to eat and have a place to live ~ and I need to be able to travel back and forth because, after all, if I don't have these things I can't be of service."

And, the cycle begins. You must break that cycle, which is the difficulty. This is where you must come to resolution within your own awareness levels ~ and to trust. You will receive what you NEED. It just may not be what you WANT.

Are you saying it's wrong to, let's say, want to have nice things that cost money?

We have not said that. See how easy it is to misinterpret within the same paragraph in the story line. No, we have not said that.

You must be most careful. We have NOT SAID the word WRONG in our words here. What you think you need and what you actually need may be different. It may be that you need to have expensive cars, expensive clothes and gourmet food and that will be what you receive ~ you determine what your path is.

Trust in The Universe to help you travel your path. You may not need, from a Soul's perspective, expensive clothing and large amounts of money. It may be just the opposite, and the fact that you do not get what YOU think you need or what you want, will be part of your path.

There is nothing WRONG that happens. It may just appear to be wrong from your judgemental viewpoints of both Self and others. However, from a universal perspective, even what APPEARS to be wrong is not ~ it is simply the way in which a scenario eventually works itself out. There are changes in the scenario as behavior occurs.

If I decide to communicate interdimensionally, what determines who I communicate with, whether it's my Higher Self or Spirit Guides ~ and how can I get to my Higher Self versus my Spirit Guides or vice versa?

How do you seek information in this concrete illusion? How do you know what it is that you want to know? And how do you evaluate it?

The same process occurs when you travel interdimensionally. You know within Self what it is that you need to learn and you know, or at least you think you know, the tools. You try them out. You have information to learn about Focusing to Gain Self Awareness, for example, at the earth plane level.

You know that there are particular sources that can give you tools for focusing. If you were just beginning your journey, you may go to the bookstore and look under Metaphysical. You would find a book entitled 101 WAYS TO MEDITATE, QUICK AND EASY. You buy this book because you think this is the answer. It may not be, however.

You may read this book and say, "This is really not what I need ~ this is not what I was looking for." However, in the book there was a reference made to some group where you might learn more. You seek out that group. That group may or may not be the answer. However, you may make a contact in that group who says to you, "I know of this other source," and, thus, your journey begins. You begin it.

You try to seek the information not being concerned that the very first source must be the answer. It may simply be a link in a rather long journey. Every source is a link to another source for our journey.

Does our Higher Self have more awareness than guidance? Or is it variable?

Yes, no, sometimes and maybe. ☺ Remember that there is nothing mystical about your Higher Self ~ your Higher Self is YOU and you are not disconnected from it. However, your Higher Self does not have all the answers. Your Soul will sometimes keep information from the Higher Self because it is needed for growth and development.

Your Higher Self simply sees things from a different perspective ~ it has a different awareness and knowledge that is stored.

In the concrete illusion you cannot possibly store all of the knowledge that you need to interact in this dimension. It is stored away either in your Higher Self or in your Soul. When you need it, it comes forward, sometimes without your even realizing it ~ you ask for it without even realizing it.

The information comes in ~you use it and then send it back to Higher Self. Your Higher Self, in gaining back that information that was provided has a new component to the information, for when you used it in this dimension, you added to the base of whatever that knowledge was by the experience that you had.

That is the way that experiences develop and accumulate ~ you send it back to Higher Self. When you need it again for a similar type of response, it comes back. And, this time it has the memory of the prior experience.

Can we contact our Soul?

Yes, indeed! The Soul is simply the essence of energy ~ it is interdimensional communication as well as interdimensional travel to go into Self. You are only limited by your perceptions of being in this concrete illusion and saying, "This is it." This is NOT IT.

And, on that note, it is time for us to move back into our Root Dimension. Our wings are being pulled back into their source point! 😊😊 We thank you for joining us in this discussion.

We send to you all the very highest of the white light from the very highest of The Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.

Bye, Waith, and thank you!
