Confrontation From Those Who Question Your Beliefs (January 26, 1988)

We have been discussing the various topics here that we feel are of priority for energies now on the earth plane, and there are many, many issues that we will eventually discuss. We are concerned about how many of you are reacting now to those around you who are expressing concerns for your wellbeing, thinking that you have gone off your rocker. You must realize that throughout eternity on the earth plane, what you are experiencing in the form of concern, ridicule, derision, is predictable, is expected, has happened, time and time again. It is the clash between the Light and the dark. The more of the Light an energy is, the more they threaten those of the dark, in whatever degree of darkness that might be. And so, many of you now are increasing your Light.

Remember the discussion that I have had on the degrees of Lightness and darkness. No energy is completely of the Light, because that occurs of course when there is Oneness, and so as you move along The Spectrum and increase your Lightness, you will be more susceptible to those who are not of the Light questioning you. Many express genuine concerns for you, thinking that you are being brainwashed, you are following a cult. Know that all those who have come before you have experienced these kinds of accusations. Know that there are of course many of the dark who charade themselves as those of the Light, and therefore, there is justification for individuals to be concerned about others.

However, you, and only you, can decide what is right for you. You must not allow anyone else to decide what is right for you. You must seek the truth from within. You must reach your Higher Self. You must look to the guidance of those spirits who surround you who are here to help you. But know that they are only here as helpers. It is you who must make the final decision as to what is right for you, for it is your soul, and it is your soul's path.

All Energies Are At Different Levels Of Understanding Of Information (January 26, 1988)

There is much information that is filtered through to the earth plane. It is not meant that one individual absorb all of the information. Indeed, the information is not meant for all, for your absorbency ability is dependent upon the degree of your Lightness. You must be very careful about the information that you do receive, for it must be a good fit for you. And the energy that is beside you, for example, in this gathering now, you are, each of you, at a different point in your growth. And an individual sitting next to you might have entirely different information needs, and in fact abilities that are different from you, to understand information. Know that there is so much that you are unable to understand, and you are given the information at the rate that you are able to understand it. And for each of you, individually, it is tailored to meet your specific requirements.

As you grow in your soul and in your Lightness, you will also grow in your abilities to be strong in your Lightness, for with increased vibration, comes increased responsibilities, and your tests become harder and more difficult, and the attacks upon your saneness become greater. But as you are able to feel comfortable in your own beliefs, you will not notice that people are questioning your beliefs. It is historic that those who are different are questioned. Know that as you grow, you will be tested. And once you have passed one test, that will increase your strength, another will present itself, and you will be stronger still.

This is a time on the earth plane where there is an accelerated clash between the Light and the dark, for the status quo is being very much disturbed. It is a time of tremendous opportunities for growth. You see around you the changes beginning. They are not to be taken lightly, or haphazardly, or as nothing to be concerned about. Everything is connected. Weather patterns are changing. The economic conditions are in flux, as you might say. People around you are in a state of confusion, for events, as they have been known to be, are changing in preparation for The Shift.

We are aware that there are some of you gathered here now who have had some recent, shall we say, confrontations, not of your doing, but from others who are questioning your belief system. Know that you are working toward being nonjudgemental, each of you. If you were not, you would not be here. And those who would judge you do not realize that you are not judging them, for you do not question their beliefs. It is they who question you. Continue to simply be who you are. Continue to work toward being nonjudgemental for your behavior will serve as an example.

Teaching Children A Spiritual Path ~ Organized Religion Versus Other Paths (February 02, 1988)

I have children. I am comfortable with following my own path ~ not being part of an organized group, a church, or a temple, I was raised Jewish and then left that. I haven't been able to deposit my children in the care of a religion because of my inability to find a religion that believes as I believe that we are all connected. So, I am left with raising my children spiritually and trying to interpret their lives in the manner I think is right. And every once in a while, I get my doubts, thinking that I wish I could send them to church like all the other little children in town, or synagogue. So that is my quandary.

Yes. However, you realize, my dear, that you are helping these souls who have come in through you to develop their spiritual paths, and that because of your beliefs, you could not send them to a church or synagogue or any organized religion, for religion within the context of your life is not appropriate. Remember that I say WITHIN THE CONTEXT OF YOUR PARTICULAR LIFE. Religion is appropriate where it is appropriate for those who have chosen it to help them. You are at a point in your own path. And the path that your children have, they have chosen to come in through you for many reasons, one of which is specifically to help them evolve spiritually. And you are doing a most difficult task, especially in the resistance of the pressure that comes to you for not bringing your children to church, that they will become heathens.

But they believe in so much beauty.

Yes. You see, these are the externals who levy this upon you. And that does not matter, for they are beautiful, and they are seeing the broader picture. And having the spiritual feelings will give, in this particular case, a much better orientation. They are here, by the way, these entities of yours, to help in The Shift of the axis. They are very advanced.

How To Respond To Those Who Say Theirs Is The Only Truth (August 02, 1988)

I have encountered individuals that belong to groups that follow what I think are somewhat narrow, limited precepts, and my question is, what is an appropriate way to respond to them to not undermine their faith?

Ah, indeed. This is a Universal question and one that is of great concern to all of you gathered here and so many who would read that which we discuss about and those who would follow a spiritual path. There is a place for all religions. My dear son, you may want to refer to a session, Limeria can direct you, in which several different sessions where we have addressed the issue of organized religions and what their purpose is and what kinds of responses you can give to these individuals who might try as you refer to it to transgress upon that which you are attempting to do in your life.

There are so many on the earth plane who think that they have found the one and only truth and that they would want everyone, in their zealousness, to take up the truth. These individuals are not necessarily of the dark. Many of them are quite bright, as a matter of fact. However, an issue that they are perhaps dealing with is over zealousness, and they are not to be derided in any way for they feel that they have found that which is meaningful to them in life and they are in so many cases so overjoyed by that realization that they want everyone to be a part of it, not realizing the contradiction in the situation that each soul must find his and her own path and that which is right for them.

As you each develop a spiritual path, you learn that those who would attempt to transgress upon your path are not to be ignored or yelled at or argued with but simply in a very matter of fact way say to them, "I understand what your beliefs are and I respect that you have these beliefs. I, myself, have different beliefs and as I would respect yours, I would ask that you respect mine."

And do not attempt to really get into conversations with people who are overzealous for it would be a losing battle, shall we say. They would not hear you. They would hear only that which they speak. Rather, it becomes a matter of experience, in knowing who you can actually speak with, who may be open minded and will have their own beliefs, but will respect those which you have, for you also have a certain package of beliefs and not everyone is going to want to hear what you have to say.

Many of you have encountered this. Many of you, for example, have been amazed that people do not want to hear about what occurs in these open sessions. That information that you are learning from us, you cannot force it upon anyone, and that as we have said so many times before, there is a tremendous amount of information coming through and meant for various groups of people, and not every bit of information is appropriate for every particular person. But that as your soul requires the information, whatever it may be, it finds where that information is, and therefore, we have provided in many different forms, information which is appropriate to whatever a particular soul's path point is.

So, it does become a lesson for all of you in understanding how to speak with these people who might try to force their beliefs upon you and to recognize that it is perfectly acceptable if someone begins to be very pushy with you to, in a very calm, peaceful way, say to them "I care not to listen any longer. I have my own beliefs. Please respect those beliefs." And if they continue to be pushy with you, walk away.

In the event that you become involved in conversations with the idea of learning more from them, and you are in a situation that is difficult to extricate yourself from, it tends to put you in a different light.

It can be very difficult. We acknowledge that. Especially when at the beginning of the interaction you do not realize that you are going to end up in a situation of difficulty. There are no easy ways out of this. Many times, all you have to do is just sort of let it run its course and it will die its own natural death, shall we say, and then you will learn from this, that you will not get involved in a conversation with this particular person again, you see.

It can be very difficult while you are involved in the conversation to, as you say, extricate yourself from it. There are no pat answers as to how you can do that. It becomes a learning experience for you and part of, shall we say, learning to apply your spirituality, learning to apply that which you are gaining in terms of Unconditional Love and to recognize that while you may find yourself in a very difficult situation, that you will eventually get out of it, and the way in which you get out of it determines how you apply the principles and precepts that you are learning about each soul having its own path and its own mission and its place in the scheme of things. Sometimes there is no easy way out of it except to simply say "I must depart now," or "I must hang up the phone now."

Some people have made comments that people who gather here are starting to form a little cult with you, and Mushiba as our guru. But I tend to think we are here more for service rather than meeting to form a cult. Do you have any comments on that?

Well, this is an accusation that has been levied not only to Mushiba and I over the many times that we have served together but others who would do this also. There is a tendency for individuals to fear that which they do not know about and there is legitimate concern that as we say cults would begin. We are most concerned that this not occur with us. We take very specific measures that it will not occur.

The accusations will always be there, my son. You need not fear reaction from Mushiba on this. She is quite accustomed to this, not only in the times that she has done this channelling, this is the eleventh time, the first time with me, but in the times when I incarnated on the plane with Mushiba, it was to do that which we do now except I was in physical form. And in Atlantis ten thousand years ago when we last were doing this, the accusations were quite strong, and there were very, very large gatherings. If you will refer to the Atlantis reading that we have made available to you, you will see evidence of this, the Sons of Darkness attempting to destroy.

That is occurring now. Those who were with us in Atlantis ten thousand years ago in the Sons of Darkness, many have incarnated now and are currently attacking and some have not incarnated but are at various dimensions and are also attempting to attack and destroy. For whenever groups gather to spread the Light, there is the vulnerability of attack from the darkness.

We are very, very particular about what we are providing for information, the way in which we are providing that information, and the fact that there is no charge for this and there is no monetary gain being made of this. So, the best approach, my son, at this time is to simply ignore that which is being said, for if you begin to enter into a discussion with someone who would, in fact, say you are involved in a cult, you would be in a no-win situation, for they truly do not understand. One in our group here has a very nice way of counteracting those who might say that to her, do you not, my dear?

- ⊗ Yes. I tell them my money is still in my bank account and to worry about me then when it is gone. But that is true, though, it really is, the point of not costing anything, so the information is helpful. Look at me, have not I changed for the better as opposed to the worse?
- ⊗ Not only that, you are not attempting to control anyone's life by dictating to any of us how we should eat, or drink, or act, or who we should associate with.
- ⊗ I would also like to comment on that. A lot of people know I come to a strange place on Tuesday nights, and the fact that they choose not to come, or even to question me about it, that is fine with me. It is perfect. But yet they know that I go to some spiritual thing, and I cannot help but feel that it uplifts them to know that they personally know someone who is seriously believing, and I assume they like me, and that the door is open through me to something that is more meaningful than what we are getting in the physical form. So, it is not just this group, it is everyone we know who knows that we do this
- ⊗ I would like to make a comment on that too. I would like to think that one way to look at it is that the ultimate objective is for us to become independent in our decision making, and do not even need you anymore. I think that is your ultimate objective for this information that you give us.

Yes, I have said that many times, that our purpose is to connect you with your own Higher Self and therefore The Universal Consciousness, and we are simply an intermediary and that hopefully you will not need us and that that is the ultimate goal. You do not need us now. You just like us. 😊 😊

Interactions With Those Who Are More Advanced Than You

(August 02, 1988)

Would you comment on the pitfall of being around people who have information of much greater and deeper degree than you do?

Let me see if I am understanding your concern here ~ that you meet, that you associate with someone who may have a higher advancement of knowledge than you?

Yes, advancement of knowledge or simply accessibility to this knowledge.

Ah, accessibility. Ability to reach the Higher Self and a higher level of The Universal Consciousness than you ~ and more accelerated way.

Indeed. That is going to be a fact of life for all of you, and it is a most positive event for you to meet with these individuals, for they are teachers, they can help you to understand. You should not feel threatened by them. You should not feel intimidated, and any entity who would, in fact, present themselves in that way to you as, "I have greater knowledge than you and I am better than you," may in fact, not be of the Light. They may have the advancement but may in fact not have the responsibility at a spiritual level that means that they are of service.

For those who truly are spiritually advanced, and not simply advanced at a power level, do not use it to gain their own, shall we say, ego gratification, and if you find yourself with someone like, this then recognize this as a sign that they may not be who you would want to associate with, for truly those who are here to teach you, and each of you will find your own teachers along your path, they will vary as you go through your path, they will come and go. That is how it works. They will be here to Be of Service to you.

Just as you would have advancement higher than someone else and you would not, shall we say, hoard it over someone that you are better than they, but rather you would attempt to help them along their own path. So, look at it in that way. You will find these individuals throughout your life path, for this is a very accelerated time of growth.

And there are many energy forms who have incarnated now to, as we have said before, to advance tremendously. Their purpose is accelerated advancement. And whatever they need to do in order to accomplish that takes on many, many forms, but their advancement is their purpose, and that means Being of Service in order to advance spiritually by unselfish Service to Others.

So, look upon them as those who can help you, and as we have indicated before, and you realize this, Mushiba is here to help you all in understanding this at an earth plane level. She would be able to counsel you at an earth plane level in ways that may seem more accessible to you, and more understandable to you, for she chooses to take on certain experiences in this incarnation that will specifically be a teaching device, for she does not need to take these on. She has learned all that needs to be learned, but she chooses to do this so that those of you who gather now will feel that she truly does understand, for she does wish to help you with this in ways that may not be the same as if I were to say them to you, for you would think, "Well, what does he know? He is up there on cloud nine. ☺ ☺ He is not here living it," which has a degree of accuracy to it.

There Is A Tendency At All Dimensions To Perhaps Lean On Others (August 02, 1988)

What must be recognized is that that which you need to do is that which you need to do and that in itself, it is learning for you, that while you certainly can do this all by yourself, that those who might be able to assist you are available to you and that if it takes you an entire lifetime of leaning upon someone else, but that you learn from that leaning, that you do not have to lean, then you have learned that which you had to learn.

Many times, the learning is exactly that ~ that you have to learn that you do not need to lean. It is very easy to say. Do not overuse those who would be here to teach you but recognize that those who are here to teach, teach for as long as you need them. When you no longer need them, and you recognize that you no longer need them, then there is no need. But that only comes from within your own soul. You may feel the dependency and as long as you feel that is as long as you need it. To try and break the dependency, if that is even the correct word, would in itself be detrimental to you.

If you yourself recognize that you are relying too much upon someone or some information, then that is a sign that you are ready to break away, for it is when you understand that you no longer need to lean upon someone that you do not need it, you see. When you have not recognized that you are leaning upon someone then it means that you still need that.

This is how growth occurs, for there are those who would lean upon you and you may not recognize it in its other form, but there are those who would come to you and feel a dependency, if you will, upon that which you can give out for information and that you as a teacher would not, in fact, even think that "Oh I must break this dependency," But rather, "I am here to provide help and assistance for as long as it is needed," and that the mark of a true teacher is the realization and the knowledge that students will come and go, and that some will remain students longer than others, for the lessons they need to learn are either greater in dimension or simply take longer for that individual to learn. This is the way of The Universe.

It does not mean that once you have learned what you need to learn from the teacher that you sever all connections, but rather to take on a different level. You now become in a different relationship with the teacher and perhaps are able to teach that which you have just learned, for it is a continuous process of giving and taking. And that which you receive, this is a Universal Concept, you will be required to give back in some way and you will be called upon at some time, be it in this particular incarnation or in a future dimension, be it the earth plane or whatever, that help that you have received you will be called upon to give it to someone else. Many of you have experienced this in physical form in very definite ways in this incarnation where you know that you are giving back because of something that occurred prior in your life and it is the way of The Universe.

Dealing With Those Who Refute Or Attack Your Beliefs (September 20, 1988)

I am encountering an individual who publicly refutes or attacks our beliefs, and our beliefs in the metaphysical, our beliefs in The Shift, and at this stage I do not know whether to fight, retreat and send the person light. I know that this is going to happen to us more and more as time goes on. I am wondering if you could give us some advice as to how to handle the people. I do not want to assume that someone is of the darkness if they are not. I am not qualified to make that judgement. Maybe you could shed some light.

This is an issue that many of you are already facing and it will become more predominant as time goes on as you begin to align yourselves publicly in your beliefs, and as I have indicated in the past, it is best to simply act the way that you believe rather than to try and proselytize that which you believe. There are occasions, however, when certain types of battles must be worked on.

We at The Angelic Force have a contingent of warriors, gentle, peaceful, who know how to help in the fight against the darkness at a level that is comfortable for you. We will be telling you further about The Warriors of The Angelic Force and one of their leaders who will be of assistance to all of you, who will guide in the gentle way of defense rather than in the antagonistic way of defense. And thus, you will learn certain ways of disarming those who would attack you verbally, for it will certainly accelerate as time nears for The Shift.

And those of you who choose to align yourselves with the spiritual community of Mushiba and myself will receive the guidance from one of our head warriors. So, trust in us to help you as the situations arise. As you meditate and gain more awareness of your own higher selves, you will be able to connect at a spirit level with those of the others in the community when you need the assistance, when you least expect some energy form coming up to you and telling you all sorts of things. You will be guided as to the best way to handle it, my love. One does not need to lash out at others for that only increases the darkness. Yet one does not sit by and allow themselves to be attacked. There are ways to fight the battle and it is from our special contingent in The Angelic Force, our very special warriors.

Are they warriors of love? That is their weapon?

Yes, of course. You have answered your own question. There is so much Unconditional Love that you will be overwhelmed by it.

A Child Is Being Rebuked At School For Seeing Auras (October 04, 1988)

A friend of mine asked me to inquire about her daughter seeing a blue aura on her teacher's head at school, because besides wondering what this little girl is seeing, she says that the school will soon be telling the mother that she cannot let her come to school until she finds out ~ go to a psychiatrist at school. The mother thinks her daughter is really seeing something.

Jacques: The situation, of course, is so predictable. It has happened throughout millennia where those who are advancing spiritually are chastised, condemned, made out to be lunatics. Most all of you in this session now have had manifestations in which this occurred. It is part of the learning that each soul undertakes in how to discuss this, how to deal with it, when there is an ability to see certain types of manifestations. There is nothing that can be done to stop those around this young entity who would claim her to need psychiatric help, for she simply does see the aura. What is the big deal?

The mother said even if her daughter is seeing auras, she still has a problem to deal with the school, because they call her and say to take the child home.

Jacques: It would be best for the child to be counseled from one of a metaphysical orientation, and to help the child to understand that the world does not understand or accept much that she will be able to see. Those who are in the stages of developing their psychic abilities, such as this child, find a condemning environment, and many of you have gone through this and understand the precautions that need to be taken when one is first developing these abilities.

And to speak of them one must be careful about the audience until there is a strength within the entity to take on those who would criticize and those who would condemn and claim the entity to be crazy. There have been so many cases where those in authority were able to simply have their way and label energies who were advanced spiritually and have them put away, labeled in many different forms. It would be best that the child simply stop saying that she sees these.

The child is also having a physical response by shaking, as well.

Jacques: We are aware of her responses to the sighting of the aura. It is part of what she has taken on to learn in this lifetime, how to control this, how to deal with this ability. It is a gift to her, and she needs counsel from someone, perhaps one of us from The Company, perhaps someone from The Community here, where she is given the knowledge, first of all, that she is not crazy, secondly, what it is all about. And that she is not to fear it, rather to view it as a gift that she can work with and help others, for it is a healing gift, to be able to see the auras, for in seeing auras, one is able to help another, and this is what she has the ability to take on in this lifetime.

We are always most open to having those of the young age, earth plane wise, coming to speak with us. And so, it might help if at least the mother had a feeling of community, knowing that this is not an unusual occurrence and that there is nothing wrong with her child.

Can You Determine If Someone Has A Sense Of Spirituality Just By Their Behavior? (February 07, 1989)

I recently had to resolve a situation, and the manager I spoke with struck me as a very spiritual person. What I am asking, is the clue sometimes with the way that people react to you that they could well be very spiritual?

This is an ever-perplexing situation, for so often there may be an entity who is a very highly attuned soul who chooses to learn a very specific lesson in this manifestation, and chooses to not show any, what you would call, sense of spirituality. They could, in fact, appear to be quite the opposite. It is the reason why we have so often cautioned you all on judging when you meet some entity as to who they are all about.

But there are signs, of course, that you would recognize when you meet certain entities, a sense from yourself that this is an entity who is on a very conscious spiritual path, or who is not attempting to hide a spirituality, for their mission is spiritual development, spiritual assistance to those around. If you sense that an entity who you meet is spiritual, then more than likely, for your needs, that entity would be spiritual. Remember that the key phrases here are FOR YOUR NEEDS. For it might be that same person would not have the same spiritual attachment to you, to another, as he or she would have to you, depending upon the spiritual needs of the individual.

Feelings Of Inadequacy And Defending One's Beliefs (March 14, 1989)

I recently had an opportunity to tell someone my beliefs. I felt very inadequate in that the person I was talking to seemed to know a lot about science, which I know nothing about, and even if I did, I would not be able to prove my beliefs by using scientific dialect with anyone. I just found it very difficult. I was wondering if you could comment.

It is a difficulty in trying to prove something that is not concrete with something that is concrete, and to attempt to prove, if you will, the Laws of The Universe, as we discuss them, with the laws of the earth plane can prove for many to be a very difficult task, if not impossible. The issue of inadequacy revolves around the pressure that one places on oneself that there must be knowledge of all, of everything, you see. This is part of the difficulty. You have an understanding of many, many things, and rather than concentrate on those which you do not understand and feel inadequate because you do not understand, you need to concentrate on that which you do understand, for remember that your soul may not even have the information.

You may not have taken on that particular realm of knowledge, you see, remembering that each energy upon entering the earth plane picks from The Menu, as we have called it, of talents and skills to work on and to build and develop. For some, it would not include those of the scientific, you see. And even if it did, it may not be that in this lifetime it was to be used or drawn upon, but rather the point being that whomever you come in contact with can indeed receive something from you.

You must allow the flow, rather than to try to respond to the expectation of the other and what you think they think they want from you. You see? Rather, wait for the opening. Listen to what they say and wait for the opening that will come if you Flow with The Universe as to how you contribute to this interaction. It may simply be that you are to listen and simply be, and not have to explain or defend but rather to serve as a conductor of energy, for many times energies will seek you out because they know you are very vibrant. This goes for many, many of you, and they will seek you out for your vibrance. Do you understand?

Yes. We are not always Being of Service on a conscious level, but we may be Being of Service to other entities on a Soul Level and not even be aware of it.

Indeed, indeed.

Do Not Try To Impose Your Beliefs On Anyone ~ Put Away Ego ~ Find Commonalities (March 14, 1989)

A lot of times when you try and talk on a spiritual level with someone, if they have no spiritual level, there is no way you can communicate with them.

You do not try to impose your views upon anyone, but rather to realize that an energy who you have come in contact with has a different perspective. And thus, it becomes your responsibility to try and reach a level of understanding, to find a common ground. Remember that you do not know where any entity is on their path and that it can be very deceiving. They may appear to not be at the same spiritual level as you, and the temptation to become a bit arrogant about the fact, "Oh-h, I am much higher spiritually than this one," A very, very strong temptation, is it not?

Indeed. Rather just seek common understanding and put away the ego that all who you come in contact with must understand your understandings.

I saw a program on street people, and there were these kids that had very tough lives. There was a leader they all went to for help and advice, and he gave what he had to them. I began to understand them a little more and realized that I had a lot more in common with them than I thought. It is just that we are approaching the same lessons but in different ways, in different worlds.

All of us have everything in common, for we are all connected to the One. And thus, for you to say that "I have realized I have something in common," any of you who would say this, is the beginning of the realization at a conscious level of Oneness, connectedness. For if you look closely enough at whoever you meet you will find something. Even those at the far end of The Spectrum of Light, who may be very dark in comparison to you, there is unity, commonness. It is in the acceptance of this, for when you see another, you see yourselves in some way, for you see the One, and each of us as energy forms are reflections of the One.

The Issue Of Children Coming In Now And Whether They Will Be Advanced Spiritually (April 02, 1989)

The new entities coming in now will be less likely to get involved in the drugs, as are children that are growing up now that are more highly advanced spiritually.

There will be a higher probability of entities now entering the plane. However, you must realize that not all entities coming in now are highly evolved, and that many coming in are coming in through the darkness and are under the control of the Sons of Darkness for the battle to be waged.

So, we still must face some of the same problems that our generation has?

Indeed.

We have presented to you some basic information regarding Self-Healing that will now be elaborated upon as we discuss issues in the Public Sessions so that there will be a growing body of information available to you. This has been, by nature, really rather generalized and will become more specific as situations present themselves.

Part Of This Illusion Is What Is Called BELIEF And It Is A Belief In Something Concrete (May 09, 1989)

Waith, we talked about illness as a result of karma from other lives, but do you believe that many illnesses could be created as a result of belief? I have worked with NLP (Neurolinguistics Programming) with people on beliefs ~ based on beliefs, not as successfully with myself.

Indeed. Understand that this earth plane, as we have said so often, is an illusion and that all of you here are really not here and that you have, in fact, allowed the illusion. The plane itself is designed in a way that ~ that energies going onto it, for lessons to be learned, agree beforehand that they will adapt to the illusion. Now, part of this illusion is what is called BELIEF and it is a belief in something concrete.

And understand that there is a combination of forces working here that ~ when an energy believes that they, for example, have a condition of, let us say, the skin ~ just for a reference point, where they have an ongoing rash on the skin. This is a result of a belief that it is there, for they have heard from other concrete references that rashes of the skin exist, and it is also a part of their own soul's balancing from some other incident that may have occurred in a life prior to that which is now theirs. It could be, simply, that they have taken on the belief so strongly that that in itself is what they are attempting to balance, that it is not so much the illness, but rather the concept of belief in something that does not exist and in eventually being able to let go of that which does not exist.

When it does not serve a need anymore?

That is correct.

When We Meet Those Whose Beliefs Are Not Compatible With Ours (May 23, 1989)

When we encounter members of establishment religions such as Born Agains and others who feel that our involvements with crystals, channelling, psychic readings, etc., are the devil or contrary to the voice of God, what is our best response?

This is a very common situation now that is presenting itself, and as we had discussed earlier in this time frame of the day, we do not advise confrontations, for as you grow upon your path of awareness you will begin to feel a comfort and a peace within yourself and that which you believe, and you will, in fact, regress if you attempt to impose your beliefs upon others. You simply act in the way in which you believe ~ which many, many now gathered here, as well as others who are part of the Terra Lux Community have come to understand and do, that there is nothing at the earth plane level that you could say or do that would convince otherwise, these individuals. Rather, it must occur at other levels, the sending of the love and the Light. Do not engage in arguments, for there will be no winner.

Understand that individuals such as these who you refer to, and any others who would condemn this belief that you have, are themselves on their own paths of learning and their awarenesses are at a different level than yours and that for some entities they have, in many incarnations, encountered these types of belief systems that would claim evil.

Understand that the Light carries on and is never extinguished and that what does happen is that the dark is extinguished, if you will, for the dark, those entities who are of the dark, are striving to become those of the Light. They are striving to move along the path and The Spectrum into greater Lightness, and thus, while it may appear that the evil, the darkness, is winning or suffocating that of the Light, it is in actuality not occurring, for at the Soul Level they are seeking Light, and as you are Lighter yourself you will find yourself under attack more and more by those who are further away on The Spectrum of Light than you, for the more aware you become and the more open you become, the more susceptible you will be to these attacks.

Remember that you have a purpose, many of you, in encountering individuals of this sort. Many of you will never have that experience. You will, for whatever reasons, not encounter, let us say, an entity who would be of this inclination and who would attack you for your beliefs. And others like yourself and your mate have purposely put yourself into those environments for teaching purposes, and as we had discussed earlier, you do it quite effectively.

You call upon assistance when the attacks at the earth plane level become very, very great. One very effective method, you see, is simply to walk away. As they are spewing out their derisions you simply walk away, for there is nothing to be accomplished by maintaining yourself there, and then call upon the Highest to assist you and call upon all of the energies in the community and all of the energies who you can call upon, for all can assist when called upon.

How Does One Become More Spiritually Aware? (September 06, 1994)

You know, the answer to your question is why we are here. And it is, on one hand, a very complex answer, and on the other hand, it is a very simple answer. It is going to take us forty earth plane years in order to give all the information that we have in our pool of information. And we have not even reached a fourth of that time of earth plane gatherings.

The basic answer to that question, however, is in seeking answers through meditation and seeking the answers from the Higher Self. Of course, that is much more complex and there is much more to it. This is why we gather. If it were easy to attain spiritual growth, then everyone would have it. There would be no reason to be outside of The One, struggling and going from training ground to training ground, you know ~ the earth plane being only one of the infinite number of training grounds. As a start, however, it is an acceptance of your own abilities to find the answers from within you. The only way to achieve spiritual growth is in doing that. The answers cannot be given to you externally. You may receive guidance. You may receive help.

The reason there is so much information ~ we being one of many sources ~ is to give you the information to take and to bring it within Self and synthesize it, along with all the other information that you hear and that you read, and determine what is best for your own growth. This is, however, the most difficult.

People would come to us and say, "Waith, help me to achieve a higher vibration." We cannot do that. Only you can achieve a higher vibration. And it takes work. We cannot wave a magic wand, or our little finger, and say, "Poof! You are now a higher vibration. Poof! You are now spiritually aware." We can only give you the tools, and we have done that, and we will continue to do that ~ learning how to focus within Self, accepting the reality that you must find the answers from within, and that nothing external will provide the answers. The answers will come only from within. We will not give you answers. We may give you guidance that will help you find the answers. There are many on the plane who do appear to be giving answers, and that is appropriate for the level of understanding that their audiences have for the development of Self. Our audience is not of that type. We are here to give conceptual information and information at a very high level. There will be some who will not understand it, at least not now, but may understand it in the future.

As you have specific questions about your spiritual growth, we will respond to those specific types of questions. And of course, when you would want something very personal, we would be very pleased to meet in private session. And in private session, we can be much more specific with the goals that you may have toward your own spiritual growth, and we can also then be more specific in ways for Self ~ you as an entity ~ to reach the goals that your soul has set.
